WEDS IN SECRET.

Ellen Terry Marries Leading Man.

Husband Announces Union at a Private Dinner to Friends.

Ceremony Performed by Justice in Pittsburgh During Last March.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ellen Terry is again a bride. At a private dinner given in this city last night, James Carew, who has been Miss Terry's leading man during the theatrical season now drawing to a close, announced that she had become his wife in Pittsburgh, on March 22, the ceremony having been performed by a justice of the peace.

He requested a friend who was at the dinner to so inform Mr. Daniel Frohman, under whose management Miss Terry's recent farewell American tour was made. Mr. Frohman confirmed this fact tonight.

For reasons that have not been disclosed, announcement of the marriage was deferred until the famous English actress was on the sea, bound for her native land. She sailed on Saturday and Mr. Carew, who was obliged to remain in America to look after urgent business, decided, with her consent, of course to make the fact known forthwith.

He thought a little dinner would be the most effective setting for the promulgation of the news, and, possibly with a sense of the romance of the situation, the man he chose to convey the fact to Mr. Frohman was Douglas Fairbanks, a young actor, who recently retired from the stage to marry the daughter of Daniel Sully, one time famous in the cotton market.

In years Mr. Carew is much the junior of his bride. He is 35 years old, while she is 59. She has already been twice married. Nevertheless, it is understood by all their friends it was purely a love match, the beginning of which was soon after their first meeting.

It is also an international union, Mr. Carew having been born in Indiana, while Miss Terry is a native of the historic English town of Coventry, made famous by the legend of Godiva.

Mr. Carew said today that his detention in this country was unavoidable, but that he would leave America to join his wife probably within a week or ten days. He could tell nothing about their future plans.

Mr. Carew is well known on the stage, both in America and in London. He played prominent roles with Amelia Bingham in "The Climbers," with Henrietta Crossman in "Sweet Kitie Bellairs." Under the management of David Belasco, and with Alice Fischer in "Mrs. Jack."

About two years ago he joined the company of Miss Maxine Elliott and went abroad with her, appearing in "Her Own Way." He remained in her company one year, and then joined Miss Terry, returning to America with her for the tour just closed.

Miss Terry's first husband was George Frederick Watts, a celebrated painter, to whom she was married at a very early age. The union proved unhappy and a separation soon followed. She was married a second time in 1868 to Charles Wardell, an actor, whose stage name was Charles Kelly. He died. There were two children by the marriage with Watts, but Miss Terry changed their name to Craig and they are known in the circles of literature and the stage as Gordon and Edith Craig.

EXPRESS LINE FEELS NEW LAW.

COMMERCE COMMISSION REDUCES RATE ON FLOWERS.

First Case Before National Tribunal Involving Forwarding Service Is Decided Adversely to Company. Tariff on Cut Blossoms Is Found to Be Unreasonable, and Is Cut.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has rendered its first opinion in a case involving the reasonableness of an express rate. The case was brought by the Society of American Florists, who claimed that the rate charged by the United States Express Company on cut flowers from New Jersey was unreasonable, excessive and unjust. This rate, until July, 1906, was 50 cents per hundred pounds, and at that time was raised to $1.

Commissioner Lane, who delivered the opinion, held that the rate should be reduced to 60 cents. The express company defended its increase in its rate by claiming that the delivery service given cut flowers in New York was more expensive than that given other articles, and that it could increase its rate a sufficient amount to meet the expense of this special service without largely increasing the total rate, because of its contracts with the railroads under which it is required to pay 46 per cent. of its gross receipts to the railroad companies for their service.

DROWNED IN CENTRAL PARK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thrown into the Fifty-ninth street lake in Central Park yesterday afternoon, because of flimsy construction and careless handling of a swan boat, two men, five young girls and two boys, who survived, contributed to the death of a sixteen-year-old girl.

They did not know she was under the plank platform on which the benches of the swan boat rest, and which, when floating, offered them a chance of safety and rescue.

The platform slipped off the catamaran of the swan boat when the latter was tilted, and they climbed upon this floating platform until it sank deep from the pressure, to the bottom of the lake, drowning the girl below.

Passengers sit upon three benches, each large enough for three adult persons. The benches are of wood and are fastened to a wooden platform one inch thick. This platform is fastened to the catamaran's frame.

Inspection of the boats showed that the platforms are not fastened to the frames, and when the catamaran was tilted today the platform, with its four benches crowded with Sunday frolickers slipped off into the water.

DUCHESS GOES BACK TO SOCIETY.

AMERICAN GIRL WELCOMED AND FLATTERED BY ROYALTY.

Her Grace of Marlborough Reappears at Swagger London Ball and Causes a Sensation—Her Friends Greet Her Cordially and She Dances With Prince Arthur.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duchess of Marlborough, who was Consuelo Vanderbilt, last week made her first appearance in society since her separation from the Duke.

Lady Dickson Poynder gave a ball for the Duke and Duchess of Connaught at Chesterfield Gardens and there the American Duchess made her reëntry, which probably had been planned with Lady Poynder, long her closest friend and strongest adherent.

The Duchess of Marlborough entered the ballroom just after the royal quadrille had been danced, and her presence caused an immediate sensation. Conversation was almost hushed as the guests directed their attention to her.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Mrs. "Jack" Leslie and Lady Poynder were seated in a curtained alcove which commanded a fine view of the ballroom, and, at the Duchess of Connaught's bidding, Lady Poynder arose and advanced to meet the Duchess of Marlborough, greeting her with extreme cordiality and manifest pleasure and then led her to the royalties, who asked her to be seated.

Had she ever doubted her friends and their fealty she would have had every reason to be gratified by the attentions every one paid her.

Princess Patricia and Prince Arthur of Connaught greeted her warmly. She danced with Prince Arthur, but plead fatigue and refused most invitations, as she had traveled from Paris only that morning.

The Duchess has changed her plans and abandoned her visit to America for the present at least. She has rented until autumn a small country house at Rottingdean near Brighton. Her two sons are with her and she intends to pass much time there.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLEAN STREETS.

CHICAGO SCHOOL CHILDREN TO WORK FOR THE CITY.

Bands of Pupils at Request of Superintendent, Will Take Charge of Certain Strips of Territory and the General Public Is Warned by Circulars Not to Make Dirt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago's school children and the various children's clubs of the improvement societies and social settlements of the city will tomorrow roll up their sleeves and actively engage in the city street cleaning departments crusade for cleaner streets and a more beautiful Chicago.

While the sacred festival of "Moving Day" has come and gone without disturbing the mechanism of the city, the spectacle of thousands of children ridding the cobble pavements of refuse and paper will be a novel sight to Chicagoans who have been disposed to believe that clean streets would be the last thing that a city administration would ever attempt.

Every school in the city has been advised by Superintendent Cooley that the Superintendent of Streets is anxious to have the cooperation of the pupils in removing the paper and refuse from the streets today and in many of the schools little bands of pupils have been organized and each will be assigned to a certain territory.

Superintendent Doherty has engaged about 200 extra teams to cart away the refuse and by nightfall the prediction is made that the streets even in the downtown district will be as presentable as the glassy asphalt boulevards.

In addition to the energy to be expended in removing the refuse that has coated the downtown streets from time immemorial, thousands of circulars will be distributed warning pedestrains not to expectorate on the sidewalks or consigne their waste paper into the mire of the streets.

CAR STRIKE SOUNDS UNION DEATH-KNELL.

Employers Stand With Backs Against Wall and, With Public Sentiment Behind Them, Will Fight the Laborites to the Last Ditch—Federal Government and State Troops Will Preserve Order If City Police Fail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the Carmen's Union, in the early hours of Sunday morning, voted for a general strike on all the lines of San Francisco, to secure eight hours and $3 a day, they opened a conflict that will put an end to the domination of union labor in San Francisco.

Driven back step by step for years, the employers of labor feel that they have their backs against the wall. They must now fight for life. Patrick Calhoun has the support of all good citizens in the present struggle.

Even among the ranks of union labor the action of the carmen is condemned, and in their own union there are nearly a thousand men who were opposed to a strike, as they realized that such a movement at this time is unwise and unfair to the company.

Graft is lost sight of. The people demand street cars, and in that demand the last hope of the carmen dies. If Calhoun can run his cars, the people will patronize them, and he will run the cars. He has behind him all the power of the State and national governments.

Before the struggle ends, the "man on a horse" will be seen in the streets, and when peace comes the power of the unions will be broken. Union leaders realize the gravity of the contest, and know that the close of their autocratic rule is at hand.

Backed by the force of popular sentiment, Calhoun will demand that ample police protection be granted the men he will place on his cars, who will be under the leadership of Farley. If this fails a call will be made on Gov. Gillett for the militia.

The State troops are in a distressing state of disorganization owing largely to the power of the unions and the ranks of the regiments are badly depleted, but such strength as the militia has will be given to the protection of public order in San Francisco.

The Governor has given his promise that all troops in the State are at the service of the city should corrupt and incompetent police refuse or fail to keep order. The officers of the United Railroads have an understanding with the Governor, and last night received his promise that they could count on his full support.

At the Presidio there was an inquiry yesterday to learn how many regular troops can be used in an emergency to police the city. It is learned that President Roosevelt is ready to go to the limit of his authority to preserve order in San Francisco. The United Railroads, as a New Jersey corporation, has access to the Federal courts.

If there is trouble when an attempt is made to move the cars an application will be made for an injunction to restrain the union from interfering with the cars. This will involve the Federal government.

There are 9000 men in the steel trades in San Francisco now on strike for eight hours. The Metal Trades' Association, standing strongly against the power of organized labor, has closed all plants indefinitely. The members contend that to grant the demands of the unions will result in bankruptcy. Five thousand men are idle in the building trades and as many more will be out in a short time when the supply of building iron runs out.

PHONE GIRLS LOSE GROUND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gradually San Francisco is beginning to have the semblance of a telephone service again. Few additional operators were on duty yesterday, but owing to the light Sunday demand and the better organization which experience made possible, those who had occasion to use phones obtained their numbers within a reasonable length of time.

The gain in operators probably averaged two or three at each station, although in a few cases pickets succeeded in turning away prospective strike-breakers.

Special attention is being paid by the operators to emergency calls, physicians, hospitals and the police and fire department being given preference over other calls. The long distance service is also in fair working order.

Manager Phillips yesterday simply reiterated his statement of day before "We are doing the best we can."

General Superintendent Robinson stated that so far as the company was concerned the situation was practically unchanged.

It was a cold and disagreeable day for the pickets, and there was a marked diminution in the number of changes. The pickets are divided into watches, one of them being on duty from 7 to 1 and the other from 1 to 7. At most of the stations only the three who had been specially detailed held their positions during the long, cold hours.

The linemen of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company held a meeting today and were in conference with committees from the Labor Council and from the striking telephone girls, on the question of declaring a sympathetic strike in support of the latter. No decision was arrived at, so far as can be learned, and another meeting will be held tomorrow morning. After the meeting, all parties concerned refused to make any statement or give out anything about what had transpired.

There was practically no change in the iron workers' strike today.

It is said that the telephone company has no intention of importing girls from other cities, but will get along the best it can, believing that its former employés will return to work in a short time.

SAN FRANCISCO CARMEN STRIKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Not a wheel turned on the street car systems of this city today. In lieu of the cars there was a nondescript collection of vehicles from sleek automobiles to ramshackle express wagons, conveying at varying prices, those who did not care to walk from the Ferry building up town and to and from various sections of the city.

This condition was brought about by the action of the motormen and conductors of the United Railroads at an early hour this morning, when they voted to declare a strike after having failed to obtain an eight-hour day and a flat wage of three dollars.

In previous strikes of carmen in this city the California and Geary street systems have continued operations subject to the settlement reached on the United Railroads or the big system. But today the Geary and California street lines are silent.

The motormen and conductors have already been reinforced by the stationary firemen, who have demanded a recognition of their union and an increase of wages from $2.75 to $3.25 per day. It is very probable that other allied unions will come to the support of the platform men. There was no disorder today, as no attempts were made by the railway officials to take cars from the barns, but it is expected that the effort will be made tomorrow.

TO IGNORE UNION.

President Patrick Calhoun has made the significant statement that the United Railroads will operate its lines independently of the carmen's union, and if resisted, would demand from the city and State authorities the full protection guaranteed by law.

The decision of the carmen to walk out was reached at half-past three o'clock this morning, after several hours of warm discussion. Fifteen hundred men assembled at 1 o'clock, and when the meeting came to order, President Richard Cornelius of the union, introduced a motion to adopt the schedule of $3, and eight hours. The motion was greeted with great applause and every speaker who favored it was heartily cheered.

There were several speakers in opposition, but they were not well received. At 3:15 o'clock, the meeting was wrangling over the question of the secret ballot or a standing vote. The conservative members of the union were in favor of a secret ballot, but they were strongly outvoted by the radicals, and at 3:25, a motion to strike was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The meeting broke up in confusion. As soon as the men on the owl lines were notified, the cars were run into the barns and 2000 men were out of employment.

The officials of the United Railroads have been making elaborate preparations to run cars in the event of a strike, and they claim to have several hundred experienced men ready to take the places of those who have quit. A number of car barns and warehouses have been provided with accommodations for the sustenance and lodging of the strike-breakers.

SEEK SETTLEMENT.

A committee from the Civic League of San Francisco, which, consists of delegates from the leading commercial, civic and labor organizations, today endeavored to bring about a settlement of the industrial strife in this city.

The committee, consisting of Norton

After a stormy session lasting all night, the San Francisco carmen decided to strike and quit their cars Sunday morning, leaving the city all day without car service.

The action of the unions in walking out at this time turned public sentiment against them, and, with backs against the wall, the employers determined to fight to the last ditch.

President Calhoun, in an interview, declared that the strike and graft investigations have a connection and are part of a plot by Rudolph Spreckels to gain franchises through the Board of Supervisors, over which he has secured control.

BLUFFERS DEFIED.

Taft Refuses Rise to Canal Men.

Declares the Present Scale of Pay Is Just and Reasonable.

Shovelmen Now Get More Than Workers in Same Trade in States.

President Backs Secretary in Decision Unbiased by Union Fears.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary Taft has refused the demand of the steam shovel men and other workmen at Panama for an increase in wage. The only benefit he has felt justified in granting is a premium for long service.

In his letter to the President, which the latter has approved, and which now, consequently, takes effect, Secretary Taft says that after giving full consideration to all the conditions relative to the demands of the steam shovelers, embracing engineers, craanemen and firemen, construction train conductors, he is of the opinion that the present rate for the steam shovelers is just and that their demand for an increase from $210 to $300 a month is unreasonable.

This decision means that if certain threats by the steam shovel men are fulfilled, there will be a strike on the Isthmus. When Secretary Taft was in Panama, the steam shovel union representative threatened a strike if the Secretary did not at once make a decision. The Secretary "called the bluff" and there was no strike. It is doubted here that there will be any for Secretary Taft's reports show the men are already far better paid than in the United States.

MAKES FAIR JUDGMENT.

It is evident from the text of Mr. Taft's report to the President that he has acted without giving a thought to the possible adverse political effect of denying the desires of the unions.

Organized labor dislikes Mr. Taft already for his injunctions as a Federal Judge in Ohio, but he has not tried to improve his relations with the labor vote by showing partility in this instance.

The question of expense is slight, as there are only seventy steam shovelers and seventy crane men working on the canal at present, but Secretary Taft points out that the rate paid steam shovelers on the isthmus will undoubtedly form a basis of rates for steam shovelers throughout the country, and it would in this sense be very injurious to employers in general.

Secretary Taft recommended that the pay of locomotive drivers of construction trains be advanced to $210 a month, the same as steam shovel engineers, and this is the only direct increase granted.

So far as employés who went to the CRIME RECALLED BY MILLIONAIRE'S DEATH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The death of James Henry ("Silent") Smith has brought out the fact that John Yule Smith, an elder brother of the dead millionaire, is a fugitive from justice, and has been for years.

That he is likely to get a big inheritance from the estate has disclosed the hiding place of the "black sheep" of the family and it is highly probable that he will leave his seclusion in far away Chile, where he is said to be now in hiding, and come back to the United States to share in the fortune that awaits him.

The name of "Jack" Smith has been carefully excluded from the list of heirs of the dead millionaire by the family, and but for the fact that there are yet living today in Lake county those whom he defrauded over twenty years ago, there is every reason to believe that his existence would still be kept from the knowledge of the public.

Former friends and acquaintances of the fugitive in and around Waukegan, Ill., are responsible for the statement that "Jack" Smith will sooner or later return to his native haunts, his rich inheritance being a means of settling up scores that might otherwise prove a stumbling block to his safe appearance on the scenes of his indiscretions.

"Jack" Smith was a few years older than his brother James Henry, but during their residence in Lake county, at the little town of Millburn, he was always considered the more promising and the most likely business man of the two. While he was a keen and shrewd business man in the early heyday of his life, he made a serious misstep and would today be serving a penitentiary sentence for forgery, but for the fact that his brother went to his aid with his wealth.

In the early '90's he went to Big Bend, Neb. So high was the esteem in which he was held that when he returned to the little town of Millburn on periodical trips with offers to negotiate mortgages and notes on farming land in Nebraska, he found his Lake county friends and acquaintances quite ready to take the papers he tendered them with the assurances of big profits.

The rate of interest in his home county, at that time, on money was only 8 per cent., compared with 10 or 12 per cent. in Nebraska, and his propositions met with general favor by those that had a little surplus cash to invest.

This confidence and faith in Smith, however, was not to last long. It was soon learned that, while he had some few mortgages and notes that were genuine securities, the majority of them covered property that did not exist. The outcome of the deal was that Isaac Lyon, one of the wealthiest merchants in Waukegan, and a victim of Smith, swore out a warrant for the forger.

John W. Swanborough, present Chief of Police of Waukegan, and at that time Sheriff of the county, went to Kansas, located Smith, placed him under arrest and took him back to Lake county, Illinois, where he was incarcerated.

Smith was released on heavy bonds, which were signed by friends of the family, it is said, at the request of his brother, James Henry Smith, and this case was to come up in the Circuit Court a few weeks later, but he failed to appear and the bonds were forfeited. It was freely said around Waukegan at the time that his brother reimbursed the sureties on the bond.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago had a pleasant enough Sunday after the frigid inclemency of the past week. The maximum temperature was 59 deg., and the minimum 39. The wind did not blow too strongly, and the sun shone. The forecaster predicts showers and cooler weather.

WEATHER INCREASES DEATH RATE.

Abnormal weather conditions in Chicago have left their traces in the death records of the city department of health. In the weekly bulletin issued today by the health department, it is pointed out that Chicago's mortality returns since January 1 furnish a death rate considerably in excess of the record of the corresponding period since 1890.

PREACHER CONDEMNS MAYOR.

Mayor Busse was bitterly arraigned as "Chicago's Prince of the Lobby" by Rev. Melbourne P. Boynton in a prelude to his sermon in the Lexington Avenue Baptist Church tonight. In the course of his remarks he said: "When Mayor Busse appeared before the legislative committees and used the great influence of his office to secure an open Sunday for Chicago and so-called home rule in the saloon question, he was guilty of the most disgraceful conduct that has ever characterized an occupant of the Mayor's chair in the history of this city."

BIG HOUSE BURNS.

On the eve of a governmental inspection, in anticipation of which the plant had been thoroughly overhauled and cleaned, fire broke out today in the pork house of the Schwartzschild & Sulzberger Packing Company, damaging the building and its contents to the estimated extent of $300,000.

PONY EXPRESS TO PRESIDENT.

An overland pony express will leave the City Hall tomorrow for Washington, D. C., bearing a message to President Roosevelt. A wager of $1500 behind it makes it more than interesting. J. C. Miller of Bliss, Okla., one of the owners of "101 ranch," now showing at the Coliseum, has wagered that amount that he has a cow puncher and pony in his bunch that can make the trip to Washington from Chicago on an average of fifty miles a day.

BODY THROWN FROM COFFIN.

Mourners following the body of a friend to the grave were thrown into a panic when the hearse bearing the corpse was crashed into by a street car and the body thrown to the pavement. The grewsome collision occurred at West Huron and Robey streets. The funeral was that of Mrs. Christina Engleson, who formerly lived at No. 133 West Erie street.

"OIL SMELLER" PATENTED.

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Business men of Terre Haute have formed a $25,000 stock company to put a device for locating oil wells on the market. Oil well men call it an "oil smeller." Its owner, Harry Kurtz of Princeton, Ind., says it will tell if there is oil even at a depth of 1650 feet.

CIVIL SERVICE LAWS SCORNED BY PARTIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, May 5.—That the city of Chicago has for years been violating the civil service law was brought to light by the investigation of the police department which resulted yesterday in indictments being returned against four city officers and two detectives under former Mayor Dunne's administration.

The investigation began ten days ago, following charges made during the recent mayoralty campaign that former Chief of Police Collins has used his department to further the interests of Dunne by asking and receiving money from members of the police force in support of the Democratic candidate.

During the investigation inspectors, captains and patrolmen testified that as far back as they could remember they had been assessed a certain amount for campaign purposes at each city election, no matter which party was in power.

According to the inspectors who testified before the Civil Service Commission, it was not compulsory to subscribe to this fund, still the impression always prevailed throughout the department that it was for the best interests of everybody in the department to comply.

According to testimony submitted on which four indictments were returned records of the police department had been mutilated and destroyed; police officers had been used for political purposes while being paid by the city to perform police duty, and that the persons indicted had been guilty of levying assessments on city employees, together with soliciting and receiving bribes from saloonkeepers. The penalty for each offense is the payment of a fine not exceding $2000, or imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The grand jury in its report says:

"We find indictments of corruption and graft on the part of patrolmen and officers that led us to suggest that these matters which we have been unable to investigate thoroughly on account of lack of time be fully gone into by the next grand jury.

"The flagrant violation of the civil service laws by the police of Chicago show the necessity for vigilance on the part of civil service boards to prevent abuses by their departments of the county and city government under civil service regulations."

Preparations for the trial of the former Superintendent of the Chicago Police Department will, as soon as possible, be made by State's Attorney Healey. The State's attorney said tonight that he believed Collins could be placed on trial by June 1. The other cases will not be taken up until fall.

COYOTE HELPS DISCOVER MINE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The yelping coyote has at least one friend in Idaho. Four years ago John King of Winchester, in pursuit of this howling game, stumbled over a rock on the Craig Mountain, and stumbled into wealth, for the stone he struck proved to be copper.

For three years he and his son Jesse have been developing this claim, and last night the ore was admitted by King to assay over $47 a ton in copper and gold.

News of the richness of the find has caused virtual depopulation of Winchester, all those that were able going to the vicinity of King's mine to locate claims near his.

JAY MILLER SAYS THE PRESIDENT TOLD HIM SO.

Ohio Congressional Candidate Gives Details of Personal Interview Held at the White House a Week Ago—Secretary's Strength Said to Be Growing in Ohio.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND, (O.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jay Miller of Bellefontaine, Republican Congressional candidate in the Eighth District, said tonight that the President told him at the White House last Monday, that Secretary of War Taft should be nominated for President.

"I assured the President," said Miller, "that Taft's strength in Ohio was growing and explained to him that the primary bill would soon become a law thus enabling the proposed test of strength between the Taft and Foraker forces.

To all of this the President most pleasantly replied that Secretary Taft should be nominated and added that he was the best equipped man for the office. The President said this was a fact because of Taft's knowledge of the present conditions of national affairs. He said further that the Secretary was a man to whom has been entrusted some of the most delicate affairs of the present administration.

"While at the Jamestown Exposition I was much impressed by interviews I had with many of the most prominent politicians of the Southern States. With one accord, they said that President Roosevelt is a Democratic Republican and good enough for them, and that if he cannot be nominated they would like to see Big Bill Taft chosen," said Mr. Miller.

WANT CLEVELAND TO RUN.
MOVEMENT URGED IN EAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From reliable Democratic sources it is learned that efforts are being made to induce Grover Cleveland to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1908.

Some of the most powerful financial interests of New York City are back of this movement, and in it are included almost as many Republicans as Democrats. The idea is to put Cleveland forward in the hope of eliminating Bryanism and Hearstism, and to secure the support of the conservatives of both parties.

It is understood that so far those who are engineering this movement have had very little encouragement from Mr. Cleveland.

"TEDDY'S ARMY" IS HONEST.
STARTED AT PRIVATE PARTY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NORRISTOWN (Pa.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Secret Service men after me? Why, what have I done?" said William W. Finn, manager of the extensive hosiery mills of Rambo and Reaber, located here.

"Are you the president of the Teddy's army?" was asked.

"Yes, but what has that got to do with being the object of the Secret Service men?" and the beads of perspiration stood out on Mr. Finn's forehead as if the temperature was 100 in the shade instead of 45 in the sun.

When he was informed of the action of the President in seeking out the promoters of "Teddy's Army," Mr. Finn explained.

"Some weeks ago," said he, "there was company at my house, and the conversation turned to politics and the possibility of the President becoming a candidate to succeed himself. It was the consensus of opinion that it would be for the good of the nation for him to have another term. Some one suggested the organization of a movement to bring about this result, and this was done. We adopted a membership button, with the picture of the President and the inscription thereon of 'Teddy's army.' The movement was started with the best of intentions."

DROPS INJUNCTION SUIT.

Referee to Be Appointed by Supreme Court in Cotton Classification Dispute.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Theodore H. Price, in a statement in an interview, announced today that he had consented to withdraw his application for an injunction against the Classification Committee of the New York Cotton Exchange. He did this on consent of the committee to have the whole question immediately submitted to a referee to be named by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Price said: "As a result of a conference between counsel I have consented to withdraw my application for an injunction against the Classification Committee and the New York Cotton Exchange, on the condition that the defendants consent to go to immediate trial of all the issues before a referee to be appointed by the Supreme Court and proceed from day to day in taking testimony in proof of the facts. This will result in a thorough inquiry into present and past conditions regarding the cotton business of New York City and will, in my opinion, effectively stop the delivery of cotton on contract here that is not properly tenderable and check the disposition to violate the rules of the New York Cotton Exchange.

MRS. TAFT'S IDEA OF HER SEX.

THINKS SHE IS THE COMPLEMENT OF MANKIND.

Wife of Secretary of War Has Decided and Elevated Views as to the Education and Responsibilities of Women — Opposed to National Schools of Music or Art.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Support of musical enterprises and ambitions by the public, instead of the nation; higher education of women for the soul's sake as much as the mind's, and for both purposes rather than mere money making, and confidence in America's art love, are subjects on which Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the Secretary of War, feels strongly.

In a chat today she made it plain she was not in favor of a national conservatory of music, or of a national school of art, for the present generation.

"My idea about higher education for women, is that it makes them great in soul as well as in intellect. It never seemed to me that it should make them poor imitations of men. I am old-fashioned enough to think woman is the complement of man, and that what is most feminine about her is most attractive to man, and therefore, of the greatest utility to the world.

"I never could see any fundamental superiority or inferiority. The only superiority lies in the way in which the responsibilities of life are discharged. Education, which really educates heart, mind and body, gives the grace and ability, and the exalted sense of duty necessary to fill that high destiny in the home."

WANT TO HELP EDIT PAPERS.

KINDERGARTEN UNION OFFERS MOTHER GOOSE RHYMES.

Miss Curtis of Brooklyn Says Present Editorial Conception of Humor Is a Mistake, but That Something "Classic" Might Prove Acceptable. Committee Appointed to Give Newspapers New Ideas.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the International Kindergarten Union at their regular meeting in Breton Hall yesterday, made the subject of the children's supplement in the Sunday papers a special topic for consideration. Many of them said that apparently their true attitude with regard to the children's department had been misunderstood.

They believed that it should and could be modified in some respects and that they desired to cooperate with the editors for that purpose.

To that end a committee, with Hamilton W. Mabie at its head, was named to confer with the newspapers for the purpose of determining upon new ideas more appropriate for children and to assist in procuring such features.

They said they had objected to such features in the Sunday papers as are demoralizing in their tone and to those which tend to development of distorted views of life.

Miss Fannie Bolle Curtis of Brooklyn, the newly elected president of the International Kindergarten Union, who has made a collection of the comic supplements of the Sunday newspapers with a view to working out some substitute which might be suggested to the editors of the papers, said: "I believe firmly that some sort of accompaniment to the Sunday newspapers is essential to the city child. There is, of course, a misconception as to what is humorous. But what about something on the order of the Mother Goose rhymes? They are really classics. If something on that order could be evolved it might be acceptable."

Educational Endowments Are Making America a Nation to Be Reckoned With.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, May 5.—Paul Doumer, ex-President of the French Chamber of Deputies, addressed a large audience at the university here yesterday and gave his impressions of his recent trip to America.

"Although the distinguishing characteristic of America today is the races for the almighty dollar, the prodigal endowment of universities, museums and libraries," M. Doumer said, "is raising the intellectual and artistic ideal of a nation fated to weigh heavy in the destinies of civilization and humanity."

M. Doumer said he considered America's greatest perils the unchecked influx of emigrants from the inferior races of Europe, the extraordinary fecundity of the negroes and the diminishing birth rate of the original American stock.

CRIMINAL SUITS TO BE BROUGHT.

CAPITOL SCANDAL COMING OUT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Ex-Gov. Pennypacker, Who Was a Party to All Contracts, Declared Last January That All Bills Paid Were Legitimate and His Explanation Is Eagerly Awaited.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Civil and criminal suits will be brought by Atty.-Gen. Todd against those responsible for the State Capitol scandal. A complete list of the defendants will not be known until the inquiry is completed, and the commission will hold no more public sessions until after the Legislature adjourns on May 16.

The suits will be based on the testimony showing that the contractor collected from the State for 752 thermostats and installed only 363, and on the substitution of domestic for baccarat glass and an inferior glass for Tiffany Tavrli.

The testimony also shows that, while the more elaborate of the $2000 worth of lighting fixtures were to be mercurial gold, the bulk of those installed were merely lacquered, the latter process costing one-tenth of the price of the former. All these fixtures were supplied to the State at a cost of $4.85 "per pound."

The reports of the experts, which will be made to the commission before the public hearings are resumed, will show that the measurements of the parquetry floorings, painting and decorating and other fittings were falsified, and that the contractor's profit on the $2,000,000 metallic-furniture contract was 500 per cent.

Former Gov. Pennypacker, who was president of the board until he went out of office last January, and was a party to all the furnishing contracts, issued a public statement last fall that not a dollar was misspent by the board; that the building could not be duplicated for $12,000,000; that no bill was finally settled until the article had been measured or weighed as the schedule required, and that every bill was certified to by Husted & Schumacher as to its accuracy before being paid.

In view of the recent disclosures, the public is waiting for Pennypacker's explanation of the board's action in approving and paying the bills.

"SIGNERS DAY" AT JAMESTOWN.

Descendants of Those Who Helped to Write the Declaration of Independence to Have Reunion.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A reunion of the descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence will be held at the Jamestown Exposition on July 4. The suggestion, first made by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association, has been taken up by the exposition officials, and great preparations are under way. Mayor McClellan is aiding in the scheme.

The Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association, whose headquarters is in Washington, wants every citizen who traces his lineage to Jefferson, or any other signer of the document, to send his name in. The association desires to send a special invitation to each one. There is no complete list available, hence this request. The association has received enthusiastic letters from the Governors of all the States, the Mayors of many cities, Grover Cleveland, and other men of prominence.

Part of the programme for the reunion will be the reading of the Declaration of Independence by a descendant of Thomas Jefferson. There will be addresses by several prominent men, and music by a chorus of 500 voices.

Crazy Japanese on Roof of House Defies Arrest.

Hurls Each Attacking Party With Hail of Brick.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Aba Koto, a young Japanese laborer, went suddenly insane this morning, and stationing himself on the roof of his boarding house, 6 Dearborn street, he tore down two chimneys, and pelted everybody who came within reach of his throwing.

Policemen were powerless, being repeatedly repulsed with a shower of bricks, to effect his capture, and everybody got out of the way.

Refusing to hurl any more of the missiles until he had something to shoot at, the policemen were in a quandary, and the Jap defiant until one thought of the fire department, and called a hose wagon.

A stream of water was turned on the Jap, and while he fought it, and the men who operated it, with his back, two policemen approached from the rear by means of a ladder leading to the third story, and nabbed him unawares.

He had to be placed in a straitjacket before they could remove him from the roof.

WILL IS FILED.

HEIRS GET BEQUESTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDWOOD CITY, May 5.—The will of the late Capt. N. L. Smith, treasurer of the Southern Pacific Railroad, has been filed with the County Clerk. The will bears date of May 9, 1904, and gives his age as 74. The Union Trust Company of San Francisco is named as executor. By its terms, household furnishings and the stock in the home place are declared to be the personal property of the widow, Mary Hooker Smith

Under the will, Mrs. Smith's right to one-half of the community property is recognized and, in addition, she is bequeathed $16,000 out of the balance of the community property, and one-half of the separate property left by the testator.

The balance of the community property is divided between brothers, sisters, nephews and nieces, of the deceased capitalist, all of whom are residents of the State of New York, and the remaining half of his property is likewise so bequeathed. Two of the children of the decedent are remembered with bequests of $500 each. The petition accompanying the will fixes the value of the estate to exceed $1,000,000, but it is estimated the estate will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

isthmus under the regulations in force up to April 1, are concerned, Secretary Taft recommended that the more generous privileges of the old regulations as to leave of absence be continued in force.

An increase of 3 per cent. a year for each additional year of service on the isthmus after the first will be ordered for all employés.

TAFT'S LETTER.

In his letter to the President, Secretary Taft says:

"The rates paid to the isthmian shovel engineers are certainly from 25 to 35 per cent. higher than the average of those paid in the States, and this by no means states all the difference in favor of the isthmian terms of employment."

"A steam shovel man on the isthmus can count on twelve months' constant employment in a year, and steam shovel men in the United States cannot expect to be employed more than nine months in the year.

"Every shovel man on the isthmus is entitled to six weeks' leave, with pay, as a vacation, so that he receives twelve months' pay for ten and one-half months' work.

"Steam shovel men on the isthmus work but eight hours a day, whereas many, though not all, of the steam shovel men in the United States work ten hours a day.

"Every married man is entitled to furnished quarters for himself and family free, with modern plumbing conveniences, with water, fuel and light free. Every employé is entitled to free medical attendance and hospital service.

"It may be added that service on the isthmus is attended with greater discomfort and greater risk of illness than in the States, due to climatic conditions. It is to be remarked that the original conditions of unhealthfulness which existed when the original rate for shovel men was fixed, in 1904, have been generally bettered; that the yellow fever has been stamped out; that the rate of death and sickness among Americans is exceedingly low, and that life upon the isthmus is becoming more and more like that in the United States."

Representative of Island Empire Yields to Importunities of Subjects to Address Brown Men in United States on Necessity of Submitting to American Exclusion Law.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ambassador Aoki has finally consented to go before the people of his country in San Francisco and urge them to accept gracefully and without further ado the enactment of the American Congress barring Japanese immigrants.

O. Noda, vice-president of the Japanese Association of San Francisco, and C. T. Takawaski, president of an association of the same name at Seattle, came to Washington weeks ago as special enjoys of their respective associations, to lay the true situation before the Japanese Ambassador and seek his aid in pacifying the Japanese and at the same time by his presence and public utterances there, try to allay what is described by them as the strong anti-Japanese feeling among Americans generaly in the Pacific Coast States.

While the Ambassador is soothing the Japanese colonies on the Coast, the government at Tokio will cause to be published and to be delivered from platforms in different parts of Japan the real situation, the danger of unfriendly talk, and the necessity for calm judgment on the action of the American Congress barring the laborers of the Island Empire from American opportunities.

Just when the Ambassador will go to the Coast has not been determined owing to the duty that falls upon him of entertaining Gen. Kuroki and other Japanese officials upon their arrival here nevt Thursday.

TAFT GIVES YOUNG MEN SOUND ADVICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an interview printed in a local paper today, Secretary Taft has some interesting things to say about a new movement which he says is the nation's call to young men.

Mr. Taft says, among other things:

"I am glad it is recognized by its young men that there are careers other than those of money making and the pursuit of pleasure, unless the spur of money is unselfish, and patriotic motives are strong enough to turn them to the service of their country, a republic is in a bad way indeed."

Declaring his faith in the usefulness of the rich young men as a national force the Secretary continued: "I am disposed to insist very positively upon this point; that the young man who is wealthy enough to be free from anxiety as to his own comfort and his duty to society, owes it to society, and should be made by public sentiment to feel that he owes it to society, to devote himself to public affairs. He is failing in his duty if he does not.

"Why office? Why should he not seek office? What is there wrong or ignoble in a good man's seeking office when he feels himself competent to discharge its duties, is conscious of a high idea of its responsibilities, and finds his heart warm with ambition to be of those to whom his country's honor is confided? He may be sure that men less well qualified and with lower ideals than himself will be sure to seek it."

Regarding the Philippine and ideals patriotic Americans hold for the islands, the Secretary of War said: "The newspapers of the past fortnight have been filled with eulogiums upon the work done in Egypt by Lord Cromer, who is now retiring. All that is being said is fully justified by the brilliant record of that great administrator.

"But do the young men of America appreciate that ideals which we have set for ourselves in the administration of the Philippines are advanced far beyond those entertained by Lord Cromer in Egypt or avowed by Great Britain anywhere? When they do appreciate it, can there be any doubt that, in their enthusiasm, they will rally to devote themselves to the realization of those ideals?"

Mr. Taft says this country has no place for effortlessness, for dilettanteism, for mere pleasure seekers or idlers, and declares: "The best of all is the pure joy of service, to do things that are worth doing, to be in the thick of it—Ah, that is to live."

BRUTE KILLS YOUNG GIRL.

Says He Feared She Would Be Ruined by Others.

Infuriated Mob Baffled by Sheriff and Police.

Murderer Attempts Suicide by Stabbing Himself.

LAFAYETTE (Ind.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most brutal murder that has ever been known in Tippecanoe county, occurred tonight at 9 o'clock when John Vaughn, 39 years old, stabbed to death Lizzie Strubel, the 11-year-old daughter of Charles Strubel, a well-known gardener living on Canal street.

Vaughan, after committing the murder attempted to kill himself, and in doing so inflicted ten wounds in his neck and breast. He was taken to jail and immediately after the crime became known, excitement ran high and it was feared that an attempt would be made to wreak summary vengeance on the murderer.

Sheriff John Ray and Superintendent of Police Powell baffled the mob, however, and immediately prepared to repulse any attempt to lynch the prisoner.

Vaughan said that he loved the child and that as he feared that her visit to a neighbor's house would result in her ruin, he called for her at the house of Mrs. Thomas Brennan tonight to take her home.

As they went home he says they had a quarrel and she struck him. Then he says, "being high tempered, I took out my knife and plunged it into her breast. I meant to kill because I did not want any of those railroad men to get her. I loved her and wanted to marry her."

She was carried to her home and died within a few minutes. One knife wound went through her right lung and the other pierced her throat.

DETERMINED TO DIE.

DOCTOR TRIES THREE WAYS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EL PASO (Tex.) May 5.—Despondent because of ill health, Dr. L. T. Wilson, aged 58, formerly of Virginia, a leading and wealthy physician of this place, made a desperate attempt at suicide today and his death is expected at any moment.

With a surgical instrument he opened veins in both arms, cut his throat from ear to ear, exposing the jugular vein, and then stabbed himself in the breast. His condition is considered hopeless.

BEEFSTEAK ROUTS HIM.

WOMAN FOILS ASSAILANT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 5.—News has just been received here from Mesa City, of an assault by a Mexican who was later captured and put in jail. A lynching was threatened, but the City Marshal, who made the arrest, quieted the populace and further trouble is not feared. The Mexican and two others, all drunk, passed up the street about dark last night. The one now in jail grabbed the arm of Mrs Victor Lamb, who stood in the doorway with a babe in her arms.

She screamed and he ran, and soon encountered Mrs Frank Zebrowicz, a muscular woman. They grappled and sank to the ground, when she hit him in the face with a beefsteak she carried in her hand, and rolled him in the ditch.

He fled and ran into the arms of Marshal Burton, who was unarmed. The two wrestled and the Marshal was knocked down. Burton armed himself, got a posse and caught the man half a mile away.

HARRIMAN BEATS ST. PAUL.

TACOMA (Wash.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Present indications are that the Harriman roads and St. Paul roads will not join, as has been expected in the building of joint lines between Tacoma, Seattle and Portland, to Gray's Harbor and through the forests of the Olympic Peninsula.

While here in January, President Earling of St. Paul road started negotiations for the building of a joint line between Tacoma and Seattle, and St. Paul has its line nearly graded between these cities.

Harriman representatives now announce that they will build a line of their own, and surveyors are in the field. J. D. Farrell, Harriman's executive in this State, also announces that within eighteen months their own independent line will be in operation between Tacoma and Portland.

Several months ago prominent men of Aberdeen and Hoquiam incorporated the Gray's Harbor and Puget Sound Railroad, which secured franchises from Gray's Harbor cities. The St. Paul road was negotiating for these franchises, when suddenly they were purchased for $80,000 by a New York banker, who produced credentials showing that he represented the Southern Pacific.

The St. Paul road is now surveying an independent line to Gray's Harbor from the southern end of the Tacoma Eastern Railroad, which it has purchased.

LABOR.

WILL HELP TO GAIN JUSTICE.

President Offers to Remedy Wrongs, If Proved.

Replies to Laborites' Claims for Prisoners.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—In a letter read today before the Central Federated Union, President Roosevelt states that if evidence is submitted to him showing that there has been a miscarriage of justice for or against Moyer and Haywood, awaiting trial at Boise, Idaho, charged with the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg, he will bring such evidence to the attention of the Attorney-General for such action, if any, as it may be in the power of the Federal authorities to take.

The communication was the formal reply of the President to the union committee which recently called on the President and requested him to set forth in general his attitude toward the accused men and specifically why he had referred to Moyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens."

In reply, the President quoted from a letter written by him more than a year ago to the Attorney-General in which he says that "our duty is (if it should ever happen that we had any power in the matter) to see that exact justice is done these men."

The President's letter follows:

"The White House, Washington, May 2, 1907: My dear Mr. Henry: When you, in company with Messrs. Coakley and Brown, called upon me this morning, I read you the letter I had written to the Attorney-General of March 25, 1906. As you request, I gladly send you the following extract from that letter:

"'Our duty is (if it should ever happen that we had any power in the matter) to see that exact justice is done these men. There must be no condonation of lawlessness on our part even if the lawlessness takes the form of an effort to avenge the wrongs committed by the lawlessness of others.

'This sole question as regards Haywood and Moyer must be the question whether or not they can be shown to be guilty of this particular act and their legal rights must be as carefully safeguarded as those of any other men. It is alleged that they were extradited from Colorado in a manner that amounted to a betrayal of their legal rights. I should like to have the District-Attorney of Colorado, and if necessary, the District-Attorney of Idaho, give me such information as they can on this point.

"I should like to get from the District-Attorney of Idaho any information that he can obtain as to whether or not there has been the slightest disposition shown by the authorities in Idaho to act toward these men in any unfair or improper manner or to deny them their legal rights. On the other hand I should like to know whether there is any symptom of a miscarriage of justice in their favor. The intemperate violence with which the Socialistic or labor papers like that of Debs, and I am sorry to say some labor organs, have insisted without any knowledge of the facts upon treating these men as martyrs to the cause of labor, has unquestionably resulted in tremendous pressure being brought to bear upon the authorities of Idaho to discharge or acquit them whether guilty or innocent.

"So far as the unions are anxious only to see that exact justice is done these men; that they are given their full legal rights, and not condemned unless proved guilty of this specific act, they are entitled to the cordial cooperation of all just and fair minded citizens. So far as by any action, or by murderous and treasonable language such as that quoted above from Debs (and others,) they tend to bring pressure to bear upon the State authorities and the courts, to obstruct the course of justice and to render it difficult to convict the men if guilty, they are equally without stint to be condemned, and anything that the Federal authorities can do, in either event to further the cause of justice, is to be done."

"In response to your question, it is, I trust, needless for me to say that if at any time you or any one else can submit to me any evidence showing that there has been a miscarriage of justice for or against Messrs. Moyer or Haywood, which you believe it is in my power to remedy, I will at once bring such evidence to the attention of the Attorney-General to have him give it the fullest consideration and to take thereon such action, if any, as it may be in the power of the Federal authorities to take.

"Sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

In the discussion that followed a motion to accept the committee's report a delegate charged that the President had evaded the issue. This called forth a response from Delegate Coakley. The latter said that the committee considered the interview, and that "it was not up to the President to prove that there has been a miscarriage of justice, but to those defending Moyer and Haywood."

After several delegates had been heard it was decided to forward a copy of the letter to counsel for the indicted Idaho labor leaders, and let them submit to President Roosevelt any evidence they might have that there had been a miscarriage of justice in the extradition of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone from Colorado to Idaho.

INTEREST RUNS HIGH.

BOTH SIDES ARE READY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOISE (Idaho) May 5.—Practically every available room in Boise, the caiptal city of Idaho, has been reserved for lawyers and for newspaper men in attendance on the court which will try William E. Haywood on the charge of the murder of former Gov. Frank M. Steunenberg.

While there is little or no public discussion of the case the under-current of interest runs strong and every incoming train brings additions to the very large number of people connected with the case who are already on the ground.

That there might be some delay has been intimated from time to time, but the fear of this has been dissipated by the statements from both sides that they are ready for trial.

An application for a bill of particulars, filed by the defense, will be argued tomorrow morning before Judge Fremont Wood, who will try the Haywood case, but as his decision is not appealable it is not thought that this will cause any postponement.

A number of labor unions and federations throughout the country are to be represented during the trials by members specially chosen for the purpose. These representatives will attend the trial and make reports to their organizations.

UNION DEATH KNELL.

C. Wells, Isidor Jacobs, Frank A. Marvin, A. W. Scott, Jr., and Robert A. Roos, all prominent business men, called upon Henry T. Scott, president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, President Calhoun of the United Railroads, and President Cornelius of the Carmen's Union, and requested them, in the interests of the city and of the public, to submit the difficulties which have resulted in the strikes, to arbitration. They were met in each instance with positive refusal.

The carmen have organized an extensive picket detail at each car barn. The pickets are changed every four hours and according to President Cornelius have been instructed to commit no violence. Large crowds surrounded the car barn at Turk and Fillmore streets all day, where 100 strike breakers are lodged. Beyond hooting and jeering them, no overt action was attempted.

Heavy shutters and iron screens were being placed at the windows of all the barns and carhouses, indicative of a bitter and determined fight on the part of the company. At the car barn at Hayes and Central avenue, where is located the company's principal commissary department, intense activity prevailed. Preparations were being made to feed and house a large number of strikebreakers.

CALM BEFORE STORM.

Although three large strikes are on, the city was remarkably quiet today. Chief of Police Dinan kept a reserve force of ten men at each of the police stations but not a single instance of violence was reported. This was largely due to the fact that no attempt was made to run cars and that it was Sunday. The long lines of pedestrians and occupants of vehicles of every description on Market and Fillmore streets took the enforced hardship of walking or riding at a cost of 10 to 50 cents each, good naturedly. This temper of the public, however, it is feared, will not last long.

President Calhoun of the United Railroads said to the Associated Press tonight that he had made all preparations tonight to promptly resume the operation of cars but declines to say when he would commence. From another source it was learned that Mr. Calhoun stated he considered it imprudent to attempt to run cars for a few days.

CALHOUN FLAYS GRAFT PROBERS.

SAYS STRIKE AND EXPOSURES ARE CONSPIRACY.

Charges That Effort to Tie Up Car Lines and to Convict Company of Bribery Are Plot of Spreckels to Injure United Railroads and Secure Franchise He Is Seeking.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Patrick Calhoun, head of the United Railroads, made a sensational and thinly-veiled attack upon Heney, Rudolph Spreckels and their associates of the big graft investigation this afternoon.

In an exclusive interview for the Los Angeles Times, he virtually charged that both the graft investigation and the car strike are part of a great conspiracy against the United Railroads. He said that both the strike and the bribery charges have come from the same source.

Mr. Calhoun apparently see alarming things in the almost autocratic power that has been thrown into the hands of Rudolph Spreckels through Heney. Every one here knows that Heney could make the Supervisors revoke the United Railroads franchise tomorrow if he wanted to. If Mr. Calhoun's suspicions were correct, it would certainly be one of the greatest plots of business history. In this interview he made his first sweeping defensive statement to the public.

MOTIVES ARE SAME.

"The calling of this street-car strike and the attacks upon United Railroads officials in the so-called bribery investigation are instigated by the same motives," said Mr. Calhoun. "I call special attention to the fact that the bribery investigation, which had been dragging along for several months, suddenly started up again within twenty-four hours of the calling of this car strike by the unions.

"It is an extraordinary combination of circumstances," continued Mr. Calhoun sarcastically, "that yesterday's San Francisco newspapers should all contain these three announcements: That the bribery charges against the United Railroads officials had been renewed; that the car strike was imminent, and that certain eastern and San Francisco capitalists were seeking from those self-confessed criminals—the Supervisors—a franchise for a subway in San Francisco."

Mr. Calhoun referred bitterly to the story published in the morning papers to the effect that Thornwall Mullally is known to have drawn large sums of money out of the Subtreasury at the time of the alleged bribery and that evidence has been discovered of the payment of $5000 by Mullally to Ruef.

CHARGE IS INFAMOUS.

"There never was anything more infamous than the effort to distort this perfectly legitimate business transaction into a bribery fund crime," he said. "There is absolutely nothing in these bribery charges against the United Railroads. The money was drawn from the Subtreasury but not for bribery.

"It took no great detective skill to learn that from April 18 until June, when the banks reopened, when there was no means of transporting money promptly from the East, that the only way to get money was through the Subtreasury.

"From that place we got the $75,000 contributed by the United Railroads to the relief fund. There also we got the money by which we fed 3000 destitute people every day."

Which was a gentle reminder to the San Francisco people who are now so bitter against the United Railroads.

"Before the bricks were cold or the smoke had stopped rising, the United Railroads was at work, employing a vast number of men cleaning the streets of debris and reestablishing transportation facilities," Mr. Calhoun continued.

"Every dollar of our ready cash was melted in the safes or destroyed. Our large deposits at the local banks were not available. In order to avoid destitution and want among our men, we immediately began paying our employees by the week, which required cash at once. We could not have carcarried on business without going to the sub-treasury for money."

Regarding the car strike Mr. Calhoun said that this strike absolutely closes relations between the company and the Carmen's Union for all time. The wage scale will now be established at 25 cents instead of the sliding scale of 31, 32 and 33 cents offered as a compromise measure.

"This situation arises from a total disregard by certain elements of the labor union for proverty rights," he said. "The unions have arrived at such a pitch of arrogance that they really believe they not only have the right to dictate rates of wages but have the right to prevent employers from obtaining the services of any other men. Men have the right to work or to stop work, but no man has the right to prevent another from working.

"The evils of government and political life in San Francisco have arisen from the total abandonment of American principles. It is the duty of the government to protect every man, however humble, in the right of labor. The whole power of the law must be exercised to protect life, liberty and property.

"The wage schedule in San Francisco since the fire has been out of all proportion to the wage scales of the balance of the country. Unless there comes a check to the rapacious demands of the unions, the whole prosperity of this city will be destroyed."

On the other hand, those close to Heney and Spreckels claim that Calhoun himself brought on this strike in order to cloud the issue. They claim that Spreckels is not concerned in any attempt to get a franchise. That he doesn't want one and has even stated his firm resolve not to own one dollar's worth of stock in any street railroad company in San Francisco at least until after the graft investigation.

Those who seek to indict Calhoun, claim that instead of being of benefit to the graft trials, this strike and tie-up will be a staggering blow to the prosecution.

San Franciscans Make Best of Situation Following Stoppage of the Street Cars—Striking Carmen Go Home Through Darkness, Howling and Firing Pistols.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] People in San Francisco "hiked" today. A trot to call on Patrick Calhoun and then to visit the telephone strike centers was about like a stroll from Highland Park to the University.

Just before dawn this morning the striking conductors went home from the mass meeting, howling through the streets and firing off pistols. The last car into the barns ran along Valencia street and even the roof was packed with carmen who fired revolvers as they went.

The car barns in Fillmore street where the fight will take place, were the center of enormous crowds all day. Socialists went around among the strikers, urging them on. Emma Goldman, the anarchist, was advertised to speak somewhere in the afternoon.

Carpenters were at work building stockades and erecting barricades in front of stairways where strike breakers were slugged last year.

All day Market and the other prominent streets of the city have been thronged with vehicles of every description on their way to and from the ferry loaded with people unwilling or unable to walk the horribly dusty streets. Express wagons with hurriedly-constructed seats predominated. One rig which was noticeable in more ways than one and especially from the odor, was a rickety old wagon which had seen service as garbage conveyor. The old man in charge was using every effort to induce trade, but the sense of smell of the travelers interfered with business.

The usual price for a ride from the ferry to Van Ness avenue was 25 cents although many of the drivers having more pretentious wagons were charging 50 cents. Occasionally some sucker would take a seat in an automobile only to find out at the end of the ride that he was out $2.

Some of the wagons took in from $80 to $100 for the day's work. Even little ramshackle old express wagons made from $40 to $50. Most of them worked relays of teams.

With both car lines and telephones tied up at the same time, the city will be in a hard way.

The business world is no longer in a condensed district. Your lawyer may be on Van Ness avenue, your broker on Fillmore street and your banker far down Market street.

THE SOUTHWEST.

At the annual meeting of the members of St. John's Episcopal Church, Tuesday evening, the following trustees were elected:

Dr. J. E. Cowles, Dr. A. L. Macleish, C. A. Palmer, R. B. Kerckhoff, George Williams, Mench Reynolds, Henry L. Miller, Curtis Williams, S. B. Robinson and S. C. Tompkins. The parish has paid all expenses during the past year and reduced the church debt to the extent of $2100. The membership has increased in spite of an unusual number of removals, there being now 553 communicants, as against 480 one year ago. A spirit of harmony and loyalty exists and everything is favorable to a season of prosperity and growth.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leland of Nome, Alaska, who are old-time friends of Mrs. Anna H. Obear of No. 3706 McClintock avenue, left Monday for the north. Mr. Leland is a prominent business man in Alaska and is interested in the Rindge estate.

Miss Nell Bailey, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mullins of No. 941 West Thirty-seventh street, left Wednesday for her home in Mississippi.

Western avenue is to be graded, oiled and curbed from Jefferson to Forty-ninth street.

It is reported that a schoolhouse is to be built near Jefferson street and Western avenue. This is much needed, as many pupils now have to walk a long distance to schools that are already overcrowded.

The Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company is installing broad-gauge tracks in the southwest part of the city. On West Sixteenth street, from Figueroa west, new ties have been laid. New forgings, including the third rail, have been placed in position at the crossings where the line intersects Figueroa street, and at Sixteenth and Burlington streets.

Sympathetic Strike Scheme Finds Little Favor.

Truckmen Will Treat With Individuals Only.

Are Firm in Their Refusal to Deal With Union.

The striking teamsters decided late last night that they would return to work this morning, but it was stated in the most emphatic terms that their action was only for the purpose of preventing any possible interference with the festivities of the week. After Fiesta they say they will quit again. It cannot be stated that the strikers will find their old places open to them today. That will depend upon the view taken by their former employers.

Baffled in their efforts to force the truck owners to terms, striking union teamsters sought last night to continue the strike. Union bosses failed to call a sympathetic strike, however, and only secured a promise of financial backing from one or two local unions and a tentative promise of a sympathetic strike in the future.

More firm than ever, the truck men decided to refuse to treat with the union. Only as individuals can the strikers hope for a hearing. The open shop is assured by the attitude of the employers toward the men who have deserted their jobs at such a critical time in the business history of the city.

Disgruntled union bosses called all the meetings possible last night. Three or four union presidents met in a small office at Union Labor Headquarters on San Pedro street. The Miscellaneous Council held forth in a room and the striking teamsters tried to fill the main hall—the hall was not more than half filled. Most of those present were the malcontents who are responsible for the present trouble.

WRANGLE AMONG THEMSELVES.

Before the teamsters' meeting was well under way, the strikers began wrangling among themselves. There was a disposition to blame each other for the series of defeats which the past week has witnessed and the gathering split into two distinct factions. Those who had voted to confer with the truck men early in the day arrayed themselves against the radicals who had voted against the conference. As a result there was turmoil.

As a sop to the hotheads who controlled last night's meeting, it was voted to continue the present fight. It was declared that no quarter is to be given and the original demand of a closed shop and more wages will be adhered to.

Teamsters who have lost their jobs by striking told what they intend to do to paralyze the trade of Los Angeles. Men who have driven trucks for fifteen years on the streets of Los Angeles listened and by their silence promised to strike a blow at the business of the city. Many left the meeting before it closed. Most of these are not in sympathy with the present movement. Several scores, it is expected, will return to work this morning.

Those who desire to go back to work can secure recognition from the truckmen as individuals. They must renounce the totem brand, however, and treat with their former employers as men. This ultimatum, read to the strikers last night, produced a roar of disapproval from the ugly faction. They forced the vote to continue to fight.

L. W. Butler, business manager of the Teamsters' Union, said last night: "We were willing yesterday morning to accept the terms of the truckmen and return to work. We were willing to treat with them as individuals and accept the open shop. One man blocked a settlement. He is responsible for the continuance of this strike. I speak of a man who belongs neither to the strikers nor truckmen."

Already the strike is assuming a pitiful aspect. Men who have purchased homes, and who can ill afford to lose a day's work, are striving to effect a settlement. Cool-headed teamsters who are not in sympathy with the present demand of the union are trying to pour oil on the troubled waters. These will go back to work if the strike continues this week.

Men who are transients, a number having recently come from San Francisco, are doing all in their power to continue the present strike. These look with disfavor on any plan to compromise. They want to force the closed shop upon the employers if possible.

"NO SURRENDER."

C. H. Fuller, president of the Pioneer Truck Company, who is in close touch with the situation among the truckmen, said last night:

"'No surrender' is our motto. We met today and decided not to treat with the union. The men must come to us as individuals or not at all. We will have nothing whatever to do with the union. They may threaten, but we are not afraid. We have practically won already. Almost every team in the city will be out today, and we will be able to handle the business of Los Angeles."

According to Mr. Fuller, he has had no trouble to secure all the help he wants. He has the promise of many more men today. Drivers for the larger trucks have offered themselves and teams will be moving as usual this morning, is the promise of the truckman.

Rumors of a general strike in which the unions of the city are to take part have no foundation in fact. Only a few hundred men are affected by the present movement.

Assurance of an early settlement of the difficulty is made by those who are in touch with both sides. The strikers are weakening and are ready to give in. In spite of the action taken last night, there are those who declare that a majority of the teamsters would return to work today without a thought of trying to force the demands of the union upon the men who once paid them regular wages.

OUTSIDERS WON'T HELP.

The International Teamsters' Union will not extend financial aid to the striking Los Angeles drivers. This tidings was received yesterday and it materially changed the aspect of affairs for the time at least. Al. D. Biddle, who has for weeks been agitating in this city in the hope of getting a general sympathetic strike, got a body blow when the news was disseminated.

Biddle is one of those individuals who make a fat living by getting others to forgo their bread and butter. He gets pay for making strikes and a stricken city means rich pickings for him. With the idea in view of conquering Los Angeles he has done some genuine work of late. He would do what none have accomplished before him.

But there has come in various national headquarters a feeling that Los Angeles is not a strike field. From a "professional" point of view this is a "rotten" town. This belief, together with a pessimistic way of looking at Pacific Coast strikes in general, caused the outside attitude which in turn cast a damper over the spirits of those who are close to Biddle.

On the other hand, the truck owners are ready to meet the men on any proposition. They are willing to meet them on the proposition of a general sympathetic strike. Yesterday they stated their attitude to a committee which conferred with their representatives. The strikers demanded reinstatement of every striker, increase of 50 cents per day in wages, shorter hours, discharge of men only in case of incompetency or drunkenness, signature of a contract providing these things until May 1, 1908. They were willing to abide by the open shop rule.

The employers refused to sign any contract. They insisted on controlling the discharge of their employés. They were willing to give a 25 cents a day increase. And the committee then reported to their meeting, which rejected the proposition. The conference had been held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

All day rumors were floating about regarding hopes of compromise. As a matter of fact, dissension was beginning to make itself felt and was a cause for many of these rumors.

Inglenook Decided Upon for Chief Division.

Hill's New Vancouver Road Nearing Completion.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The chief division on Hill's new North Bank road between Vancouver and Kennewick will be established at Inglenook, which is to be renamed Lamont, in honor of the late Daniel S. Lamont, formerly secretary of war and vice-president of the Northern Pacific.

Real estate speculators of Portland and sound cities had had it figured out that Columbus, a little town above Celito and about opposite Biggs on the South Bank, would be the main division point. A good deal of property has been bought at that point and dreams of large profits had been entertained.

Hill officials have done nothing to discourage this belief, but in the meantime they have been buying at Inglenook, acquiring not less than 340 acres there, of which 140 will be used for yards and 200 for townsite.

ARITHMETIC AND FOOD

School Children Must be Well Fed.

Young girl in Newport, says no one has a better right to speak of Grape-Nuts food than she.

"I was in school, but in poor health, until Mamma began to give me Grape-Nuts food. I began to improve at once, both mentally and physically, and I improved so much in my work at school that I got 100 in arithmetic, and during that time I gained 3 or 4 pounds in weight and am still gaining.

"There is no one who has a right to recommend the food more highly than I. Mamma neglected to supply it for about three weeks, and I began to fall in health so I commenced the use of the food again, and now I don't intend to do without Grape-Nuts."

It is well for parents to know that Grape-Nuts food contains selected elements from the grains, prepared and cooked in such a way as to present these food elements so that they can be quickly digested and assimilated; the phosphate of potash obtained from the field grains, and contained in Grape-Nuts unites with the albumen of food to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the nerve centers and brain.

It is of the greatest importance that growing children and students be given food that sustains both brain and nerves. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

GOVERNOR OFFICIATES AT BOTH CEREMONIES.

Corner-Stones of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Laid on Same Day With Impressive Rites, Many Prominent People Taking Part.

It isn't every city of the size of Los Angeles that can entertain the Shriners of the whole United States and the mothers of the world by popular subscription at a cost of half a million dollars) within a week and never turn an eyelash.

The fact that the corner-stones of both the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. buildings were laid on the same day was in itself remarkable. It made a busy day for the Chief Executive of the State, who officiated at both ceremonies, and for many prominent ministers of the city who took part in both services.

The high esteem in which both the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. are held in this city was indicated as much by the prominence of the men and women who witnessed the corner-stone layings as by the ease and rapidity with which the money needed for the new structures was raised.

The growth of these institutions in this city is only less remarkable than their accomplishments. The city could not get along without either. They are not only character builders, but also providers of reliable young men and women for the constantly growing industries of Los Angeles. Business houses have learned that a clerk recommended by either association can be depended upon.

Governor Gillett yesterday afternoon laid in position with proper ceremony the corner-stone of the new building of the Los Angeles Young Men's Christian Association at Seventh and Hope streets. The exercises were attended by many prominent business men and churchmen of the city, after taking from the hand of Secretary Arthur Letts of the association the gold trowel, the Governor

EDITORIAL: Man has always been a builder, not only of useful structures devoted to art and science, but of nations, and a builder of men. He has tried to build that best, for his fellows and himself. It is something great and noble to represent a work such as that of the Young Men's Christian Association, a work which has always been in touch of the needs of nations and of cities.

"Now we dedicate this building to the glory of Almighty God and the interests of the young men of this city. May it never fail in the purposes for which it is dedicated."

A metallic box containing documents of the association was placed with the stone by President Arthur Letts, and dedicated "to future generations."

While heads were bared, Governor Gillett spread the mortar and then the square block of granite was lowered into place. With spirit, level and hammer he then placed it in perfect adjustment. With the words, "This corner-stone is laid in the name of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost," he completed the impressive ceremony.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The laying of the corner-stone was preceded by an elaborate programme at the Simpson Auditorium. Arthur Letts, president of the association, presided, and the address of the afternoon was made by Lieut.-Col. E. W. Halford, U.S.A.

After the Governor, who was escorted to the Auditorium by members of the association, had taken his seat on the platform, the congregation sang, "Joy to the World." Rev. Hugh K. Walker delivered the invocation, and Rev. Robert J. Burdette led the responsive reading. Prayer was offered by B. B. Wilcox, State secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, in the absence of Rev. Baker P. Lee, and Rev. Robert McIntyre read the scripture lesson.

D. E. Luther, general secretary of the association, was introduced by Mr. Letts as "the man behind the gun" of the Y.M.C.A. "He has the noblest soul of any man it has ever been my pleasure to know," said he.

When Mr. Luther began to speak his voice showed the depth of his feeling, and there were tears in his eyes. "You will not hear much from me today," he said modestly.

He then spoke briefly upon the great responsibility and the great opportunity that now faces the organization of this city, paying high tribute to the president and the twenty-one directors. He referred to many sacrifices that have been made by business men, not alone in money, but in time and effort. He thanked those who had contributed to the building and emphasized the necessity of carrying the gospel of Christ to the Orient.

SAN FRANCISCO'S GREETINGS.

Greetings from the Brotherhood of Young Men's Christian Associations of North America were given by Henry J. McCoy of San Francisco, who referred to the help the Los Angeles association extended to the San Francisco association at the time of the disaster.

"We were never more thankful than when we received that handsome check from the Los Angeles association," said Secretary McCoy. "The inspiration of that hour helped us to raise half a million in cash, which is now drawing interest in a bank, and Los Angeles deserves the credit for what San Francisco has accomplished. I shared in the first dedication of a Y. M.C.A. building in Los Angeles twenty years ago. It was very small, but sufficient for all needs at that time. The association is a great builder; it puts up a new building every three days.

"I bring you greetings from San Francisco, and from the wide world, for the Young Men's Christian Association is touching life wherever there is civilization. Blessings have come to young men the world around through the influence of the Y.M.C.A. No cathedral ever built, or statue carved or picture painted, is half so beautiful as a Christ-like man. May the laying of this corner stone and the work of this temple be a blessing to thousands yet unborn."

HALFORD'S ADDRESS.

Lieut.-Col. Halford, who has been identified with the work of the association almost from its beginning, a half century ago, made a masterly address, which was said by many to be the finest address of the kind they had ever heard. It will be published in pamphlet form. He said in part:

"The laying of the corner stone of any great building is important, but who can measure the importance of a building forever dedicated to the service of God. Little wonder that civic bodies and commercial interests and railways presidents recognize the work it does. Little wonder that our Governor comes to preside at the laying of this corner stone. Moody characterized the work of the Young Men's Christian Association as the greatest movement of the nineteenth century. Its strength lies largely in the fact that it stands for the unity of churches.

"The association is a thoroughly American institution, thoroughly modern, thoroughly practical, and as such deserves all support. There are now 7631 branches throughout the world. In the United States and Canada, there are 1868 branches with 40,789 members.

HEAD OF THE TABLE.

"Where the United States sits is the head of the table. I believe that God does care for republics and for this one especially. He has prepared it with great care and fitted it with great resources. The Anglo-Saxon is not only to be the future, but is the present king. No man need fear oriental domination. The yellow peril will not be perilous if the Anglo-Saxons only remain true.

"It would seem that God intended to work out on the American continent the plans of the world. The Y. M.C.A. carries out these plans in which had been erected, played "Brightly Gleams Our Banner."

Mrs. Dewey led in a responsive reading and then Miss Cora L. Tatham, general secretary of the association, gave a brief historical statement and enumerated the contents of the box to be placed within the corner-stone.

"It is just fourteen years ago this month," she said, "that the first steps toward the founding of a Young Women's Christian Association in Los Angeles were taken, and now, on this first Sunday in May, our anniversary day, we meet to lay the corner-stone of its first real home. This box, sealed, and ready to be placed within the corner-stone, contains a number of articles, each representing a link in the development of the association, which will form a skeleton outline of its history."

The box contained a copy of the Bible, photographs of Miss Emma Reeder, who took the initial steps toward forming the association; of Mrs. Z. D. Mathuss, for four years president and since that time vice-president; of Miss Clara Yale Morse, its first general secretary; of Miss Martha Teal, the second general secretary; of Mrs. F. A. Dewey, its president; of Miss Cora Tatham, the secretary; of Mrs. W. C. Patterson, who has been treasurer almost since its beginning; of the present board of managers; of Mrs. John H. Jones, who contributed $2,000 to the building fund; copies of the articles of incorporation filed May 1894; copies of Greetings, the association publication; copies of the Los Angeles daily papers; a list of the association membership as it stood on May 4, numbering 4365; a list of the contributors to the building fund; a copy of the financial statement for the past year, showing receipts and disbursements of over $60,000; the campaign copy of Greetings, announcing the response of the public to have exceeded $150,000, and mentioning the additional gifts of the Eliza Otis Memorial Association and of Mrs. John H. Jones. The last article put in the box was the programme for the laying of the corner-stone.

After the box had been placed within the corner-stone by Mrs. Z. D. Mathuss, chairman of the Building Committee, the golden trowel, with the Y.W.C.A. monogram engraved upon it, was handed to Gov. Gillett.

"If there is anything we are proud of and rejoice in," he said, "it is that we live in a Christian land and are a Christian people. No nation was ever great that was not moved by Christian impulses. On this occasion we are dedicating that which we know will do a magnificent work. Man always has been a religious being. His helpmeet has been woman. In this magnificent temple we dedicated that which is highest and best. It is a notable fact that today has seen the laying of the corner-stone of two Christian association buildings. It insures the making of a better country and a better nation."

Then, Mrs. Dewey, with the silver hammer in hand ,formally declared: "In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, this corner-stone of the Young Women's Christian Association is laid." Gov. Gillett advanced to the ponderous block of granite, weighing three-quarters of a ton, on which was inscribed the association's motto, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit saith the Lord of hosts," and with the golden trowel laid the cement on the foundation and the stone was lowered into place.

Prayer by Dr. Robert J. Burdette, brief scripture response led by Rev. Herbert J. Weaver, and the singing of the doxology followed, and the benediction by Rev. J. P. McKnight concluded the service.

WOMEN REJOICE, PRAISING GOD.

CORNER-STONE IS LAID IN THE Y.W.C.A. BUILDING.

Governor, With Golden Trowel and the President With Silver Hammer, Put Block of Granite in Place—Addresses by Drs. Walker and Day and Arthur Letts.

The hour fixed for the laying of the Y.W.C.A. corner-stone was 4 o'clock and hundreds of people assembled at the association's headquarters, opposite the building site, where the first part of the ceremonies was conducted.

Mrs. Frank A. Dewey, president of the Y.W.C.A., presided, and the music was furnished by the association's choral club and orchestra, the quartette from Immanuel Presbyterian Church and the Y.M.C.A. band. Prayer was offered by Dr. E. A. Healy of the University Methodist Church, and the scripture lesson was read by Dr. J. J. Wilkins, rector of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker brought greetings from the city pastors. He extended hearty congratulations. "I feel that this is the most Christian city in this country," he said, "for we have the greatest Young Women's Christian Association in the world. St. Paul had a good knowledge of women. He may have had some individual experience with some individual woman that soured him a little, but on the whole he knew women, and his injunction was 'help these women.' We rejoice with them today that they showed such good sense and tact in raising the money and in planning the building and that it is founded upon a desire for God's glory and sweet fellowship with Him. It was the earnest prayers of hundreds of women ascending every morning during that busy month of February that carried the campaign forward. We count it the highest honor and privilege to help you in this work."

Miss Florence Sims, national secretary, brought greetings from the national board. She spoke of the great unifying force of the association among women. The ready response of the general public to support its work proves the confidence reposed in it.

"The national board today," she said, "has a greater vision than ever before and it has at its command greater resources. I bring its greeting to this, the largest association."

The address of the occasion was delivered by Dr. William Horace Day, who discussed the comprehensive Christianity for which the association stands. He declared that the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. stood for a universal Christianity in Christendom, such as no other institutions can stand for.

"This new building," he continued, "is an institutional affair. It belongs to my church and to yours. These Christian associations have a very important message to the churches. There is today a centripetal movement, a process of amalgamation and assimilation going on throughout the Christian world. A catholicity of spirit is manifest in the work of the association. It preaches a social gospel and it does not forget that the fundamental thing is an intense spirituality."

Arthur Letts, president of the Y.M.C.A., extended the greetings of that body. "We are going to be rivals," he said, "in good works. We each have a character factory and we want to have lots of social gatherings together. We don't know what the outcome will be," he continued, growing facetious, "but we hope we'll be united."

He spoke especially of the association work in department stores. "This cooperative work," he explained, "is one of the greatest works ever undertaken. It is a new gateway opened and I pledge myself to do all that I can to further it."

At the conclusion of the exercises in the assembly hall the audience adjourned to the building site across the street, where preparations were complete for the formal ceremony of laying the corner-stone. As the president of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Dewey, the chairman of the building committee, Mrs. Z. D. Mathuss, Gov. SPORTING PAGE.

NAGLE SHUTS OUT SMITHYS.

None of the Victims Reach Second Base.

Both Pitchers Heaved Out High-class Ball.

Beautiful Fielding Is Done by Bert Delmas.

Los Angeles, 3; Oakland, 0.

And that was the bunch that beat the Grafters six out of seven!

My, my! What a shockness and what a lot of Ascot tea one must take to be dopey enough to even dream how the Smithy Kanes could win over one race a week. They wouldn't have taken that had not the Looloos stumbled and fallen down at the half, but then selling skates do sometimes beat stake winners. And such a beating as the Smithys did get the past week!

It was the same old experience yesterday before a mob of about 5000, and even before such a crowd it was impossible to pull off anything in the stunt line. The pitching by Nagle and Reidy was "not yet but soon" in the perfect line, for the locals made but five hits to three for the Smithys. There was a fearful tight wadness, and after the second inning the fans merely sat through the game and waited for the swats that never came.

Talk about getting a little speed on! Why, they played that game in an hour and eight minutes, and the fans were so dazed that some of them don't believe it yet, for they have seen so many two-hour games that one in a trifle over an hour was an awful surprise party. Still, the Smithys wanted to head off the 5 o'clock train, and something like that puts ginger into them more than a winning game.

There is no continued story to this game, for it was a pitchers' battle that Nagle won easily with those upstream floaters that gets all of them. He was at his best, and Reidy was not far behind him. Neither one gave a base on balls, and that alone made the game something to think about. Concerning Nagle, it might be said that not one of the Smithy Kanes reached second base. Four landed on first from three separate singles and a soak on the arm, but two of these were doubled up and the other two were out trying to steal second base. In this connection it might be stated that the fielding feature of the game was the fine work of Delmas, some of his assists to first base being sensational.

Bill Reidy did beautiful work except in the second and eighth innings, and in these the locals made their runs. With one out in the second, Cravath singled to left and stole second. Then Eager came to bat and smashed a triple to deep center, scoring Cravath, and Bobby scored a moment later on Delmas's single to left. In the eighth, Delmas bounced a grounder to Reidy and he juggled it long enough for Del to reach first base. He advanced to second and third on sacrifices by Hogan and Nagle, and he easily scored on Carlisle's single to center. The game lacked anything in the way of spectacular features.

FAST BICYCLE RACING.

Great Event at San Jose Is Won by Garden City Wheelman in Very Close Finish.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, May 5.—In the fast time of one hour, twenty minutes, for the thirty and one-half miles, Johnny Berryessa of the Garden City Wheelmen won the observation race to Gilroy this afternoon, defeating C. E. Showalter and W. A. Wiable by a fifth of a second each. H. Walsh and W. Parsons of the local club took fourth and fifth time prizes. Of the handicap men P. Quivelon of the New Century Wheelmen finished in first place with E. J. Carroll of the Oakland Wheelmen third, and W. Clayton, unattached, fourth. The observation train was delayed by a freight wreck at Morgan Hill, and none of the passengers saw any of the race except the start in this city.

CRICKET POSTPONED.

Auto Racing Forces a Postponement of Sunday's Regular Game Until Field Can Be Secured.

The first of the interleague matches between the Wanderers and Maryleboneelevens was not played yesterday, on account of the auto races at Agricultural Park. So many automobiles had taken up a position on the cricket ground, long before the time set for pitching wickets, that it would have been an impossibility to field, not only spoiling the game itself, but causing much annoyance to the onlookers. This match, therefore, has been postponed until June 30.

Next Sunday, May 12, the Wanderers, captained by Pat Higgins, will play the Zingari eleven under Capt. A. E. Barwell, and it is particularly requested that all players will meet at 1:15 o'clock at University gate, in their flannels and with their kit, so that they may take the field in a body before the auto races begin.

Secretary G. F. Gadsdon and the captains of the three interleague teams will interview the officials of the auto race meet during the week, with a view to having the cricket ground kept unimpeded, so that all matches may be played off according to schedule and not be postponed in this unsatisfactory manner.

TOMMY BURNS BOXES TODAY.

WILL FINISH HIS TRAINING AT NAUD PAVILION.

Scheduled to Scrap With Billy Woods and Jimmy Memsic and Is to Rest Tomorrow—O'Brien to Wind Up His Work This Afternoon—Sullivan and Kelly on Friday.

Two more days and the sporting world will have a very straight line on the heavyweight champion of the world, barring Jeffries at all times, for Tommy Burns and O'Brien are supposed to settle the question on Wednesday night before the Pacific Athletic Club. Columns have been written about this battle, and more columns will be printed for the next two months, and whichever man wins the friends of the other will have some excuses for the defeat.

Of course, it goes without saying that the fight will be for "blood," as much as for the purse, for the men are very bitter against each other. Burns is sore because he was not given the decision, and O'Brien can never forget that fearful wallop he received on the nose, and in all probability they would fight just as hard if the purse was only half as large as $30,000.

The betting is still 10 to 7, with O'Brien as the favorite, and why the odds could be this way, must be difficult for any one to guess. Burns had the best of their previous fight in the way of damage done, and he should be no worse than even money. The only reason that can be given for making O'Brien favorite is the weight of eastern money that never saw Burns fight O'Brien.

Neither man can have any excuse for being beaten, except some accident that might happen during the fighting, for both have done good work in their training. O'Brien always keeps himself in fair shape when he has no fight on, and this time he knows it means everything to him to win, and Jack does like the money. He has been hard at work out at the Arcadia quarters, and for the past week has been under the eye of Billy Nolan, who is well known through his management of Nelson. Nolan is merely attending to the business end of the fight, but is carefully watching O'Brien, and brings the best of reports from the camp.

Burns has done his work down at Long Beach, where he trained for his other O'Brien fight, and one look at him will convince any sport that he is about right. His trainer, Prof. Lewis, declares that Tommy was never better and will enter the ring at his natural weight of about 171. He knocked off his real heavy work yesterday, and has transferred his base of operations to this city, and will appear this afternoon at the pavilion at Naud Junction, where he will go through his stunts with Jimmy Burns and Billy Woods, beginning at 3 o'clock. About the only thing he is saying about himself is that he will win, and this is what he told his friends before the other fight with O'Brien.

It would be useless to make any guess at the outcome, for no one can do any more than guess. Every man will have his own opinion, and even the fight itself will not change many ideas, for the results seldom make ordinary men forget their own ideas. Burns will lay off and rest tomorrow, and O'Brien will probably not come to town until Wednesday night. It is needless to say the sale of seats is a large one, and that choice positions are going rapidly. A monster crowd will see the scrap, from all the indications.

KELLY AND SULLIVAN.

Two days later, or on Friday night, another championship battle will take place in the meeting of Hugo Kelly and Jack Twin Sullivan, who will struggle for the middleweight honor. The Burns-O'Brien fight rather puts this one in the shade, but the Friday contest is no less important, for it is expected to settle just who is the real holder of the title. Jack Sullivan is always ready to fight any one near his weight, and there should be some tough milling when these two good ones come together. Kelly beat O'Brien, and Sullivan beat Burns, so it might be said that either man could fight the winner of Wednesday's battle. Both men are well known in the East, and should draw as well as Burns and O'Brien.

REVOLVER CLUB SCORES.

Only Small Crowd of Marksmen Turn Out for Practice, but Very Good Work Is Done.

The following scores were made yesterday afternoon at the shoot of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club on a standard American target at fifty yards:

Sergeant W. E. Smith, 91; G. F. Stephenson, 87; J. E. Holcomb, 86; W. J. Cutts, 83; J. B. Douglas, 80; A. B. Douglas, 79; W. D. Wall, 77; C. W. Linder, 64; W. H. Gordon, 60; W. E. Potter, 55; G. R. Kingdon, 44; W. H. Foster, 42.

Fishing Fairly Good.

ONTARIO, May 5.—The latter part of this week has seen many visitors to San Antonio and Cucamonga creeks and tributary streams in quest of the gamey little mountain trout. Some fairly good sized catches have been reported, considering the large volume of water in the cañons now, though for the most part the fish were rather small. It will probably be another month yet before the water will be low enough to afford really good fishing.

MANY BREAKS STOP AUTOS.

Large Crowd Sees Some Very Exciting Races.

Two Cars Speed Five Miles on Bare Rims.

Oldfield Snaps Crank Shaft in Final Event.

Two races which will seldom be repeated on any track enthused several thousand people yesterday at the automobil good roads meet. The fifty-mile race was a fine exhibition, and had as striking a finish as could be wished. The five-mile-match event between Bruno Seibel and Harris Hanshue was also a hair-raiser, and created a great deal of excitement.

As on Saturday, the timing was not particularly excellent, and gave rise to one dispute of a serious nature. The practice on all automobile tracks is to time in fifths of a second, but this was disregarded yesterday.

The first race was the best of the afternoon, and ended in as brilliant and daring a finish as has been seen on a track for some time. When Clifford-Earp set the world's straightaway record for 100 miles, running a good part of the way on a flat tire, it was acclaimed as a remarkable exhibition. He had a straight track and plenty of room, and only his own neck to think of. Yesterday two of the racing cars finished on bare rims, both on forward wheels. The drivers had to take the curves, and pass other cars with no tire at all for several miles. The Cadillac's tire came off in pieces, the fragments whipping past the driver with such viciousness that he and his mechanic had to drive the car from the off side, each reaching one arm across the car and holding the wheel.

One car shed a tire in front of the grand stand, and the rubber circle sailed down the track a full quarter of a mile, beating the car which had propelled it.

The race was at fifty miles, for touring cars selling in Los Angeles for $2500 or over. The entrants were J. Haynes, an Elmore; F. L. Hansen's Apperson, and J. R. Finjetter's Thomas, a Cadillac and Jim Morley's Royal, driven by Barney Oldfield. The Haynes won the post, and the rest drew position in the order named, the Royal being on the outside.

The Thomas took the pole at the end of the first quarter, followed by the Cadillac. The Apperson got under way slowly, and got fourth place. At the end of the first mile the cars were strung out in the following order—Thomas, Cadillac, Haynes, Apperson, Royal and Elmore. At the end of the second mile, the Thomas had a lead of three-sixteenths over the Cadillac. At the first turn, Wan Kuhl, who was driving the Apperson, took the pole from Haynes by a very pretty piece of driving. The Apperson seemed to wake up at this point, and passed the Cadillac in the back stretch of the same mile. At this point it seemed to be a race between the Thomas and the Apperson, with the Thomas pulling ahead very slowly.

The Thomas lapped the Elmore just before the end of the fifth mile, and crossed the five-mile line in 6:13¾. At the end of the sixth mile it lapped the Royal. By the seventh mile it had a lead of ⅜ of a mile over the Apperson, which lapped the Elmore at this point and the Royal at the ninth mile.

The Thomas finished the first ten miles in 12:1¼, just behind the Haynes and the Cadillac, which it lapped for the first time in the back stretch, passing the Elmore again on the curve. The Apperson was one-half a mile behind, but running strong, and lapped the Elmore on the twelfth mile. By this time the Cadillac had gained on the Haynes, and both cars lapped the Royal on their thirteenth mile. The Thomas finished the fifteenth mile in 18:14, having lapped the Elmore for the third time just previously.

It was at this point that the first tire accident happened. On the back stretch of the sixteenth mile the Thomas lost its left front tire, and was pulled to the fence. The tire crew stationed on the inner track started up their supply automobile, raced around to the Thomas, and put on a new tire in two minutes, a remarkably speedy performance.

Meantime the Apperson, which had been second by nearly three-quarters of a mile, had assumed the lead, followed by the Cadillac, which had opened a nice gap on the Haynes. The Apperson lapped Smith in the Elmore for the third time at the close of the eighteenth mile, and finished the twenty miles in 24:11½.

On the twenty-second round of the leading car, Oldfield in the Royal lapped the Elmore for the first time, a lead which he held to the end without trouble.

TWENTY-THREE A HOODOO.

It was in the twenty-third mile that all the trouble happened. The Thomas was flying, trying to make up its lost time. The Apperson, in the lead, cast a rear tire and before the car could be halted, the driving drum was strained. The Thomas seemed to have a chance to win, for the Cadillac had barely made up its lost ground when the Thomas was laid out, and was now a short distance behind. But less than thirty seconds after the Apperson went wrong, the Thomas cast its second tire, and was also hors du combat. The Apperson retired.

The Cadillac, with Lester Pattee driving for all he knew, assumed the lead, and finished the first twenty-five miles in 31:26½. The Thomas was laid over for three minutes, and when it was going again the Cadillac had a lead of over a lap and a half on the fallen leader. On the twenty-eighth mile the Haynes suddenly slowed down, and every car passed it while it was crawling along.

The Cadillac lapped the Elmore in the twenty-ninth mile, and continued in the lead, finishing the thirty miles in 37:48. The Thomas was steadily but very slowly picking up its lost ground, passing the Elmore in the thirty-second mile. In the thirty-third mile the Cadillac had caught up with the Haynes, but the latter was right again, and for three miles defeated every effort of the Cadillac to lap it. The Cadillac was one and three-sixteenths miles ahead of the Thomas at the close of the thirty-five miles, which were covered in 44:09½. On the next mile the Cadillac took the pole from the Haynes in a pretty drive, and continued its flight. At this point the Haynes was announced in second place, which was a great surprise to every one.

MORE TIRE TROUBLES.

Forty miles were done by the Cadillac in 50.35, with the Thomas edging up so at the end of the next mile it passed the Cadillac, leading it one lap to the bad. Incidentally it passed the Haynes and the Elmore. From this point on the trouble came fast. On the forty-fourth mile the Thomas had a forward tire go flat. The Cadillac was just behind, almost a lap to the good. While the tire men were hurrying to the rescue of the Thomas, the Cadillac hurried on, and was just at the stopping place of the Thomas, two laps ahead of it, when it was halted by a flat tire. The two cars were side by side on the track, with the tire men starting to pull the tires off, when the same thought hit both drivers. It was five miles to a finish for the Cadillac and seven for the Thomas. There was still a chance to win by completing the race on flat tires. Both drivers decided to take the chance. The Thomas pulled out first, and had barely got started when the Cadillac followed. The tires could not stand the strain, and when the cars raced down the stretch both tires went to pieces, whipping viciously past the drivers and making the cars steer wild. Still they went on. As both came into the stretch for the next mile, it was seen that both drivers were running at top speed on a bare rim, which made steering so difficult that it took two men to hold the wheel.

To add to the excitement, the Haynes was bunched with the two other cars, and just before the grand stand threw a tire completely. The tire went sailing down the track like a bullet, and was corralled before it had time to wreck a car. The Haynes withdrew.

In their crippled condition the two cars went on, making wonderful time. The Cadillac was almost a lap to the best of the Thomas, but the latter never gave up, and the driver showed his nerve by passing Oldfield in the Royal at fifty miles an hour, with the car steering so hard two men were required to hold the wheel.

At the finish the judges announced that the Cadillac won in 60:30, to which every one agreed. They placed the Royal second in 60:45, and the Elmore third in 71:22. Nearly every one in the grand stand and the press box was prepared to contest the decision, as the Thomas was universally thought to be in second place. A careful check of the rounds seems to leave no other result possible, and a study of the detailed account given above will show the reason advanced for putting the Thomas in second place.

HOT BOX STOPS RACE.

The next event was an exhibition by the "Reo Bird," driven by Harris Hanshue. The car was only received Saturday night, and it was hardly in trim to reel off fast miles, but it acquitted itself well. The time by miles was 1:02 1-4, 2:05, 3:11 and 4:24 1-4. At this point Hanshue was compelled to retire on account of overheating his cylinders.

The Cupid race, which was the feature of the meet Saturday, was announced as canceled, but finally Saturday's winner, Jacoby, in a Thomas, and Harold Stone in a Royal, made a dual race of it. Jim Morley evolved a new system, placing the passengers in a row along the track, so that the one nearest to the stopping place of the car could get in. Another new feature was introduced also, as the passengers in the Tourist got in in front, where they could make time, and when the car was around on the back stretch, climbing into the tonneau. Even this did not win, however, for the Thomas walked away and won in 7:04½.

The five-mile race for four-cylinder cars found only three contestants, the Haynes, a Tourist and the Elmore. The Haynes won in handy fashion in 7:10, with the Tourist a good second.

Oldfield then gave a ten-mile exhibition. The track was in bad shape, having been cut by the bare rims of the cars in the first race, and Oldfield was compelled to retire with a bad tire at the end of the sixth mile. He made speed intermittently, as the track was dusty in spots and rougher in one or two places than elsewhere. The times were 9:58, 1:51½, 2:47½, 3:44, 4:40½, 5:37 and 6:33.

The five-mile race between Bruno Seibel in the "Red Devil" and Harris Hanshue in the "Rio bird" was a close one and one to provoke enthusiasm from even the hardened devotee of the track. Seibel had the pole, and although Hanshue never got it from him, it was a tight thing all the way. The middleweight racer, when it is put in trim, will have to be reckoned with, and Hanshue made good his reputation as a driver, especially when he challenged Seibel for the pole at the first turn of the last mile. Few motorists have seen such close work as the margin between the wheels that Hanshue allowed in his effort to pull past. The times by miles were given as follows: 1:04½, 2:05, 3:05½, 4:06¾, and 5:07¼.

When the five-mile race for touring cars was called, the Cadillac was not notified, and was left out. Don Lee challenged the winner, the Haynes, for the title, and a special match race was run. After a false start, in which the Haynes cut over, they got away, and the Haynes won easily in 6:58.

The last event of the day was a five-mile race between Bruno Seibel and Barney Oldfield. They put up a beautiful race, in which Seibel was holding his own with the smaller car. He had the pole, and Oldfield never got past him. In the back stretch of the last mile, Oldfield crowded on power to win the turn. The extra effort was too much for his car, and the crankshaft broke between the second and third cylinders. Bruno finished alone in 5:12¾. There was nothing to indicate that an accident had happened by the outside appearance of the car, and everyone supposed that he had a flat tire.

LITTLE DOSES OF FIGHT DOPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Freddy Weeks, the Cripple Creek featherweight, was outpointed by Tommy O'Toole of this city in a six-round bout last night. It is no disgrace for Weeks, as O'Toole is virtually unbeatable at a short distance. On the other hand, Weeks is better from twenty rounds on. In the bout with O'Toole he landed a number of hard body blows that were bound to have an effect later on. He also landed a hard right hand swing in the sixth round which shook up O'Toole. These blows did not offset O'Toole's advantage, but is showed that Tommy could not stand many of these powerful swings, or Weeks would have been certain to land in a longer battle.

Harry Baker of California has challenged Johnny Summers of England for a fight in this city, but it may fall through, as Summers wants too much for his end.

It is probable that Joe Thomas, who is easily the most popular of the out-of-town fighters in this city, will be matched to fight Fred Bradley, a light heavyweight of Boston, who, inside of two weeks, twice knocked out Jim Jeffords, 200-pounder, in less than four rounds. Thomas is taking a big chance in meeting the hard-hitting New Englander, who will have a weight advantage, but he thinks that his cleverness and wallop will offset Bradley's sole fort-walloping ability.

LEWIS AMBITIOUS.

It looks as if Harry Lewis of this city will have to win the world's welterweight championship before the public receives him as a worthy opponent for Joe Gans, world's champion of a class nine pounds lighter. Dickerson now plans to send Lewis against two of the best welterweights in America, and if the Philadelphian wins both of the bouts he will show undisputably that he has the class to give Gans a battle. The first contest scheduled is for Denver on May 17 with Jimmy Gardner. The men must weigh 140 pounds at 5 o'clock and they fight ten rounds before Gallagher's Coliseum Club. Lewis has virtually been matched to meet Mike Twin Sullivan to a finish fight at Tonopah on Decoration Day. The weight for this match has been fixed at 142 pounds at 3 o'clock.

ATHLETES SHOW WELL.

Los Angeles Boys Make Very Good Impression in North and Will Reach Home Saturday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The combined gymnasium team of the L.A.P.H.S. and L. A. High gave an exhibition at Stanford University Friday evening. The team was aided by the Stanford gymnasium club. An appreciative crowd of several hundred people attended and applauded the boys enthusiastically. The work of the boys was excellent, notwithstanding their hard journey. The pyramids built by the Los Angeles team were said to be the best ever seen at Stanford.

The Southern team gave an exhibit at Berkeley Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening, which was attended by a small but enthusiastic crowd.

The Polytechnic team contests with San José Tuesday afternoon and the L.A.H.S. will compete with the Santa Barbara Friday. The team will also exhibit at San Luis Obispo and other towns.

FINAL BALL WEEK.

The San Francisco team will be here tomorrow for six games with the Los Angeles team at Chutes Park and all the fans should remember that beginning tomorrow, the games will be called at 3 o'clock instead of 2:30. The days are longer and the half hour's extra time before play begins will give many lovers of the game a chance to get there for the opening. This will be the last week of ball the local fans will have for six weeks.

Home-made Cans.

In its article yesterday concerning the "Made in Southern California" Exposition The Times inadvertently stated that the interesting can-making exhibit was the work of the Pacific Metal Works, instead of that of the Los Angeles Can Company, whose exhibit it is. The industry is one of the rapidly-developing ones of this city, and gives employment in the height of the season to 160 men and boys.

First Communion.

Ninety-two children received their first communion yesterday morning, at the 8 o'clock mass at the Plaza Mission Church. The church was prettily decorated in the old style. KANSAS CITY CLEANS HOUSE.

Gov. Folk Will Attend Police Investigation and Sensational Disclosures Are Expected.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 5.—Tomorrow morning the Board of Police Commissioners will begin their promised investigation of the charge of police corruption. The probable advent in Kansas City within the next week or so of Gov. Folk, who has practically said he would come here and take a hand personally in the investigation, gives promise of sensational disclosures.

DEATH OF J. C. M'INERNY.

Well-Known Railroad Agent and Former Member of Board of Education Passes Away.

James C. McInerny, for more than ten years ticket agent at the Southern Pacific station at First and Alameda streets, widely known in municipal political circles and once a member of the Board of Education, died yesterday at his home, No. 411 West Washington street. He was a native of County Claire, Ireland, and had he lived until the 12th inst. he would have been aged 51 years. He came to Los Angeles in 1875.

His term as a member of the Board of Education was the most tumultuous in the history of that body, for it was then that the Webb-Adams-Axtell scandal was exposed, but Mr. McInerny was in no way connected with the crooked work which was brought to light, after an investigation which continued for weeks.

By fortunate real estate investments, Mr. McInerny amassed a fortune which made him independent, and for sometime he had retired from active business. He married Miss Kate Mulvihill in this city in 1883, and to them were born two sons and a daughter. John McInerny of San Dimas, Cornelius McInerny of Ocean Park are brothers, and Sister Viviana of the Mercy Home of this city is a sister of the deceased. The funeral services will be held at the family residence Wednesday forenoon.

RAILROAD MAN HURT.

Trys to Board Garvanza Electric Car and Is Hurled to the Pavement.

G. H. Straton, superintendent of the commissary department of the Santa Fé Railroad, was thrown to the pavement Saturday night, when he attempted to board a Pacific Electric Garvanza car at Pasadena avenue and Avenue 57. When the crew of the car picked up Straton he was in a semi-conscious condition and bleeding.

With the assistance of friends he was removed to the Minewaska Hotel. It was found that he had sustained a long gash on the forehead and severe internal bruises. His condition was much improved yesterday.

EXPOSITION ISSUES BONDS.

NORFORK (Va.) May 5.—To complete the construction of the Jamestown Exposition and liquidate the floating indebtedness the board of directors of the Jamestown Exposition Company yesterday authorized the issuance of $400,000 in bonds, the 500 acres of improved property, including many permanent buildings, being offered as security. It was stated that already certain financial interests have offered to take over the entire issue. The report that the exposition company is in financial straits was said to be absolutely without foundation by Martin Myers, who heads the financial department of the company. He says that the company's assets are far in excess of its liabilities.

FIRST WONDROUS BURST OF FIESTA COLOR GREETS TEN THOUSAND SHRINE VISITORS.

Pilgrims From Scores of Temples Throughout Entire Country Reach Los Angeles on Numerous Special Trains and Many More Yet to Come.

TEN thousand Shriners and their companions on the pilgrimage to the Imperial Council at Los Angeles registered yesterday at the local headquarters. Thousands more who reached here late in the afternoon and in the evening were unable to enroll their names or were too tired to do so. Thousands more are on the way in a score or more of special trains that are to reach here today. Some trains that arrived here after midnight were run in on side tracks at local stations to await the coming of dawn and the Reception Committees.

The event of the day came with nightfall, when, for the first time, the thousands of colored lights and gay Chinese lanterns on the main streets blazed forth their radiance.

Beginning with daylight yesterday morning and continuing at intervals until late at night special trains, heavily loaded, bore down upon the city over the three transcontinental railroads, and as quickly as they arrived discharged their human freight into the arms of the waiting Shriners, home and visiting, for the business of the day was the reception of the strangers, and the members of Al Malaikah Temple, assisted by Islam Temple of San Francisco discharged their duties well.

A general disarrangement of railroad schedules, due to the heavy traffic, threw the plans of the Reception Committee out of kilter and made the work extremely difficult, and even late last night, owing to the failure of many of the visitors to register, it could not be told with any degree of certainty just what Temples had arrived and what were still on the way.

The greatest disappointment of the day was the failure of the train bearing Imperial Potentate Clayton to reach here last evening, as had been expected. His train was delayed en route through causes that are variously explained. According to a telegram received at Imperial Council headquarters at the Alexandria Hotel last night, from Benton Quick on the special train, the delay was caused by "loads" brought aboard by "Tom" Peck and "Dug" White. Peck, who is general passenger agent of the Salt Lake route, wired that the delay was occasioned by "hot boxes."

So great was the rush of visitors that those who had not arranged for their hotel accommodations in advance had difficulty in securing quarters. But this difficulty was only temporary. Bustling committees of local Shriners cared for the strangers and when night fell there were few, if any, who did not have beds and comfortable rooms.

All day the streets swarmed with the men in red fezes, and there was a plentiful sprinkling of ladies in the pretty white fezes of the Daughters of Isis. In addition to the Shriners and these ladies, there were thousands of visitors, some of them members of Shrine families, others just sightseers who had made the journey across the continent under the low rates granted for the occasion.

Some of the big Shrine Temples of the country are yet to be represented. Their trains have suffered delays, but will be here today, some of them in time to take part in the programme that has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors. This includes a trip for the Imperial Council and their ladies to Catalina Island, an excursion to Redondo, where clam chowder is to be served on the beach, and other attractions are to be offered; a trip to Glendale, to include a Spanish lunch and a visit to the Indian crafts exhibition.

PEAN OF COLOR RAISED TO SKY.

CITY A STAINED GLASS WINDOW IN EARTH'S CATHEDRAL.

When Lights Are Turned on, It's Like Gigantic Opal, Blazing and Winking in Its Own Reflected Glory—Broadway a Queen, With Spring and Hill as Courtiers.

If the earth is a cathedral, as some one has said, wherein man erects altars and sings his brief song, surely Los Angeles is now one of its stained-glass windows. Long and straight, like the lines of a Gothic nave, four of the Angel City's streets stretch out in lines of color. It isn't any particular color, unless one stands close and takes pains to analyze. It's just color, vibrating like a note of music, with here a little overnote of red, there another, a suspicion of green, but in whole just color.

Yet as always the streets of Los Angeles somehow retain their individuality. To a person at sea or somewhere on the plain with the black mass of the Sierras for background, Los Angeles must seem a gigantic opal, blazing and winking in its own reflected glory. But to the nearer observer, just as the opal has streaks of color, little blazes of light in little nooks of the stone, Los Angeles has its different individualities.

Main street, Spring street, Broadway and Hill street have their own part in the display which tints the sky and pales the stars. Like a queen between her courtiers, Broadway lies. The flanking streets have their rows of white clustered lamps, orderly like soldiers, leading the eye down a chasm of white. Over the orderly white is a fretwork of red. It is not a solid, commanding mass of color, demanding the eye and tiring it, but something more delicate and restful, like the sheen of a silk from the master looms of Lyons.

The Chinese have much to be responsible for—firecrackers and Chefoo llars and all the rest of the sins that are laid to the door of the slant-eyed Oriental—but they may be forgiven their sins for the invention of the Chinese lantern. If there is anything which invites the soul to joyousness and proclaims holiday by its simple presence, it is the Chinese lantern. A few on a houseboat make Venice of a slough, a hundred on a lawn make a bower of enchantment.

But when a city puts thousands of them along her streets, and masks the yellow electric globes with all the tints that translucent paper and strange dies can produce, then indeed there is spread out a carnival for the eye.

Main street, Spring street and Hill street, the flanking courtiers of Queen Broadway, have their lanterns in red. Main street is on the lower step of the throne—the color is not so pronounced, the bend in the street does not give the long vista that Spring has and there are fewer individual bursts of color along the line.

On the other side is Hill, also not so full of color and more graceful, perhaps—slight with the beauty of a young girl. Spring is more robust. Above the long double line of white street lamps is the steady sheen of red, with here and there a flashing electric sign, a little burst of color where the lights fall on flags or bunting, all leading the eye to a brilliant ruby-like thing swung high in air. That is the fez, a fez of liquid color for some giant of light.

Between the two lies Broadway. Opulent, warm and yet stately, is the Queen, whose scarlet courtiers wait on either side. All the happy, joyous colors are here mixed into a chasm of living fulgor, a long cañon which is color itself and not some colored thing. Shades that one ordinarily thinks of as pale and expressionless are so touched with life that they glow along with their heartier brothers. Lines of the buildings leap into being as the lanterns accentuate their design. Crisscross, in long vertical streamers, up on a long slant over the street corners, across in horizontal line, broken by skillful festooning—every way the lanterns go, shedding their soft glow over the street. Underneath are the long straight lines of the street lamps—what we proudly point to as the best system of lighting in the world—and yet they are lost in the light of the lanterns—members of the chorus in the pean of color raised to the sky.

WILL BE HERE BEFORE SUNUP.

IMPERIAL POTENTATE'S TRAIN MANY HOURS LATE.

Sunday Spent in Crossing the Sands of a Real Desert, but Every Member of the Distinguished Party Enjoyed the Day—Long String of Shriner Specials Following.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ON BOARD IMPERIAL SPECIAL (in the Heart of the Desert) Barstow, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The tour of the special which is conveying the Imperial Pontentate from Salt Lake City over the Salt Lake Route has been delayed by various unforeseen events, and the arrival of the Shriner's ranking official will be deferred well toward sunrise of Monday. The officials of the Salt Lake Route have put forward every endeavor, but have been unable, consistent with the safe handling of this important train, to rush it through at greater speed.

While it was expected that the Imperial Special would reach the Oasis of Los Angeles before sundown on Sunday, there has been no anxiety on the part of the several hundred people who are accompanying the Shriners' ranking official.

The day has been spent in a most happy way. First of all came breakfast, served in the two diners accompanying the train, which was followed at 10:30 o'clock by a religious service in one of the dining cars. This service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Talmadge, a Noble, and representative of India Temple, Oklahoma. It brought to the car a gathering which tested the car's capacity and crowded the platforms.

THROUGH A REAL DESERT.

Through the broad stretches of the desert there has been much to interest the members of the imperial party, and of the several hundred passengers none has been more anxious to glean information concerning the mineral richness of this section than Imperial Potentate Clayton.

At Las Vegas the people of the desert city prepared a novel welcome, which included a train of burrows bearing Shriner decorations and led by desert Shriners. Many greetings were exchanged and the Imperial special was given God-speed on its way.

One special feature of the desert, which has directly attracted the Imperial party's attention, has been the world's flora blossoming in these wastes. The result is that every sleeper of the Imperial Special is tonight loaded with the blossoms of the desert gathered at the various stopping places.

AS TO THE WILDCAT.

It has been shown that the important query "What makes the wildcat wild," was developed within the limits of India Temple, of Oklahoma. Imperial Potentate Clayton passed the question along to the wise men of his caravan and sent it forward to Al Malaikah Temple of Los Angeles. The poets of the caravan have passed it back to Imperial Potentate Clayton in rhyme as follows:

"What makes the wild cat wilder,
Is answered by Pet Clayton,
St. Joseph's favorite child."

Unless something more definite can be put forward by Al Malaikah Temple it looks very much as if the question propounded by India Temple would be passed to the Imperial Potentate for answer.

It certainly is unfortunate that these several hundred guests of Southern California will be brought into the State under the cover of darkness and it remains for Fred Hines, and his vast organization of lieutenants to give them a sight of the southland which will make up for such an arrival.

LONG LINE FOLLOWING.

Following directly behind the Imperial special are the special trains bearing Ararat Temple, Kansas City; Moslem Temple, Detroit; Medina Temple, Chicago; El Kalali Temple, Salt Lake; Isis Temple, Saladia, Kan., and El Jebel Temple, Denver. All of these specials will reach Los Angeles during the night, and the Nobles will be all ready to enter heart and soul into the spirit of Los Angeles Fiesta week.

Imperial Potentate Clayton, when asked for a further message to Los Angeles, said:

"I have nothing more to send by wire to the faithful in the Oasis of Los Angeles. I know they are waiting for us, and my knowledge of California hospitality teaches me what me may expect on our arrival. We are a little late, but, Allah be praised, we are so far safely on our way. Tomorrow's sunrise will see our Imperial tents pitched on the Oasis of Los Angeles. Till then, all greeting to the faithful and all speed to the trains of the Salt Lake route."

Get the weather man to work and give them our best.

HEADQUARTERS REGISTRATION.

TEN THOUSAND NAMES FILED UP TO DATE.

Railroad Schedule Goes to Smash and Trains Arrive at All Times, Many Very Late—Successful Work Done by Bureau and Shrine Post-office.

All day long yesterday the Shriners' headquarters in Masonic Temple on Hill street near Fifth were crowded with the Nobles and their ladies arriving from all parts of the country to attend the thirty-third annual session of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Every Noble was required to register by filling out a card on which he gave his name, his temple, home city, Los Angeles address, and who accompanied him in his pilgrimage, if any. This was filed for reference, and he was then given an official camel, made in Germany, and a book of coupons which affords transportation to all the points of interest on the official programme.

The bureau also acted as an information dispensary, and all day long there were inquiries by Shriners and outsiders for friends expected, for arrival of trains and a score of other matters of interest. And the information was right on tap all the time.

Then in the front of the building next to the big hall, was the Shriner post-office, where the mail for visiting Shriners is distributed just as though it was the general delivery of the regular post office. This feature is proving to be an exceedingly practical one, and Chairman Motley H. Flint of the Executive Committee, who is postmaster of Los Angeles, deserves much credit.

In the big hall was the headquarters for the patrols as well as a lounging place for any stray Nobles. The band in attendance kept things lively, and more than one stag couple slid down the middle and back again in an impromptu dance.

In this room was spread a number of tables loaded with oranges and tangerines, cake, cookies and fancy biscuit for all who cared to eat of the good things. The oranges, especially, seemed to strike the right spots in the visitors.

Chairman A. W. Skinner of the Reception Committee kept in touch with the arrival of the trains by telephone, for the schedule early in the day was torn to rags, and from headquarters he issued his orders for the delegations of Nobles from Al Malaikah and Islam Temples and the Arab and Bedouin Patrols to meet the latest arrivals and escort them to their hotels and to headquarters.

It was stated at the registration bureau last night before it closed that over 20,000 had registered.

But many of the delegations which were expected early last evening were delayed, and did not reach Los Angeles until an early hour this morning. Mecca Temple of New York was held up at San Bernardino, and instead of reaching the Westminster Hotel at 7:30 o'clock, as was expected, did not get in until long after midnight.

In all respects, however, the work of the Shriners' headquarters has proved to be successful beyond anything similar ever attempted.

NEVADA NOBLES COME IN KHAKI.

MEN OF REAL DESERT TRAVEL BY AUTO AND TRAIN.

Wear Mountain Suits and Wide Hats With Red Bands, While Each Carries a Bottle of the Sands of the Sagebrush State—Chug-chug Parties Reach Here Quickly.

Spick and span in new khaki uniforms, decorated with tiny bottles filled with Death Valley sand, miniature wash pans filled with high-grade ore, soft tan-colored hats and crimson hat bands bearing "Southern Nevada" in gold letters, and wearing that prosperous look that is characteristic of the gold fields, the Goldfield and Tonopah delegations of Shriners, eighty strong, arrived at the Arcade depot yesterday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock. Nearly twenty Temples are represented by the Nobles from the desert. Forty ladies accompanied the Southern Nevada Shriners, and everybody seemed glad to land in Los Angeles.

The train was six hours late in arriving, but everybody was happy and had a pleasant trip. Seven cars made up the train, with an observation car on the rear end, and the baggage coach was well stocked when the train left Goldfield—with moisture to settle the dust across the desert.

On each side of the coach were large banners reading, "Southern Nevada, Goldfield and Tonopah Nobles," and the interior of the cars was brilliantly decorated with ribbons and bunting.

Bedouin and Arab Patrols of Al Malaikah, accompanied by two brass bands, and a special Reception Committee of fifty Al Malaikah Nobles, were at the station to welcome the delegation from the desert. In addition, over one thousand spectators were assembled to greet the distinguished visitors.

As the train pulled into the station, the bands struck up a lively air, but when the Nevadans alighted from the train, the cheers of the assembled multitude drowned the best efforts of the musicians.

The Patrols were drawn up at "attention" when the train drew in, but as soon as it came to a stop, ranks were broken and the visitors were given a most cordial greeting. Various committees looked after baggage, transportation, and hotel accommodations, so that the only thing the Nevadans had to do was to look pleasant.

Col. C. G. Noble, advance noble of the Southern Nevada Shriners, was on hand with a beautiful white and yellow banner, which he unfurled as soon as the visitors had reached the open air, and the outburst of cheering which followed fully equalled the demonstration which occurred in the station. The Nevadans sang several original songs and, after giving three cheers for everybody in general, a procession was formed with the Algeria Patrol and Boston and Montana Band at the head, and a march was made to the Van Nuys Hotel. The ladies were taken to the hotel in automobiles.

Shortly after the Southern Nevada special train arrived, three automobile parties reached the city from the gold fields. The trip was made without mishap, in the remarkable time of twenty-eight hours, beating by eight hours the time made by the train. The three parties were conducted by Malcolm McDonald, manager of the Schwab interests in Tonopah; E. T. Patrick, president of the Goldfield Chamber of Commerce, and L. L. Patrick, a millionaire mine owner of Goldfield.

The route followed was from Goldfield to Ely over the Clark road, and through the Owens River Valley to Los Angeles. There were several ladies in the automobiles, and they stood the trip remarkably well. The only unpleasantness was a heavy rainstorm encountered in the mountains. The parties are registered at the Alexandria.

"Shorty" Kutzkaw of Tonopah also arrived yesterday from San Francisco in an automobile, making the trip from the Bay City in thirty-six hours. He was accompanied by his wife. The arrival of the automobile parties completed the Southern Nevada representation, which, including many Shriners and members of their families, numbers nearly two hundred.

The Southern Nevada people registered at the Van Nuys are: From Reno, W. A. Dunaway, W. R. Arnett; from Goldfield, George B. Holleran, F. B. Evans, Mrs. S. R. Thompson, A. J. Crocker and wife, D. A. Tudne, Robert L. Poutz, S. R. Moon, L. W. Horton and wife, C. H. Beesley and wife, Harry C. Rutz and sister, O. V. Allen and wife, E. A. Stone and wife, Thomas Withers, F. W. Lockman, C. P. Lyons, C. W. Shays and wife, H. F. Holmshaw, Mrs. M. Holmshaw, Durke Miller, Henry Thompson, George W. Williams, Mrs. Henry Stevens, C. D. Wilkinson, Dr. Peiper, G. E. Bates, C. J. Hasman, A. Morton, Charles W. Summers, A. E. Parker, A. R. Rendant, Miss Thompson, Miss Rendant, Miss Bohannon, Camele Rock, wife and daughter, Joseph Hamilton and wife, J. W. Sherwort and wife, Mrs. H. Stevens, Mrs. George Cowan, Lane Hollard, E. L. Fletcher, W. R. Cockran, E. Marks, S. W. Mills, wife and child, Mrs. M. E. Cline, Mrs. M. Sanders; from Tonopah, J. F. Haden and wife, Dr. Elftman, Mrs. D. Mapers, William F. Kern and wife, Hugh H. Brown, K. Pittman.

The Southern Nevada nobles expect to remain in Los Angeles until next Sunday night, when they will leave for home by way of San Francisco.

NEWEST TEMPLE COMES FROM MEXICO CITY.

THE only "baby" of the present imperial potentate, Anezeh Temple, arrived yesterday morning from Mexico City. President Diaz and Ignacio Marascel are among the temple's members. Its establishment in the southern republic marks an epoch in American Masonry. The men who represent it are come for a charter, for

CHARLES R. PULLEN,
Potentate of Anezeh Temple, City of Mexico.

since last January, the date of its establishment, Anezeh Temple has been under dispensation.

The Mexican arrivals are: Charles R. Pullen, Potentate; O. W. Maulsby, Chief Rabban; C. L. Edmonston, Recorder; Steven Waters, C. H. Woodruff, J. C. Mordough, C. B. Brisbin, A. Rozanoff, E. L. Mason, H. C. Sandifer, A. B. Carpenter, A. W. Reeves and W. O. Staples. With these came twelve ladies.

They traveled in their private car over the Mexican Central Railway to El Paso; thence over the Southern Pacific. And they brought with them their own decorator and Mexican decorations. So that within a short time of their arrival their headquarters, room number 314 in the Alexandria, became a bit of their own warm republic, transplanted for the time. On its walls are serapes, Mexican flags, and everywhere the colors of the country, red, white and green.

A large photograph of President Diaz, with his autograph surrounded by the autographs of each member of the temple, is in the place of honor. This comes as a souvenir to Imperial Potentate Clarkson. For this is the one new temple established during his jurisdiction. Its establishment comes at the end of twenty-three years of unceasing effort in that direction. So far as Masonry on the western continents is concerned it is one of the important events—the advent of this infant.

Already the membership of Anezeh Temple is 163. Among the men who have their names enrolled are General Porfirio Diaz, President of the Mexican Republic, Ignacio Mareacal, Minister of Foreign Relation, and General Flores. All the officers of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite, 33d degree, in Mexico, were made Shriners in this temple. During its brief life the organization has seen most auspicious days.

Among the men in the party are several whose names are widely known in Mexico. There are men of business, professional men and big mine operators. They have been men of influence in the present era of rapid development now in progress south of the line.

The establishment of their temple came as a part of the progress which they and others like them are making. It is a significant event in the history of their order and means a great deal to American Masonry. For which reasons among others the arrivals from the south came to Los Angeles yesterday morning full of high hopes and happy.

Their headquarters at once became a center of attraction and the men in charge had a thousand questions to answer and a thousand felicitations to exchange with those whose interest in this newest arrival among their temples had drawn them to the place.

Among all those who have already reached the city there was none yesterday more anxious than they to know the time of the arrival of the Imperial Potentate, who visited Mexico at the time Anezeh Temple came into existence. An there will be none more enthusiastic in giving welcome to him.

WEDDED BLISS AND POLITICS.

WASHINGTON-OREGON SPECIAL CARRIES BIG LOAD.

Starts With One Newly-married Couple from Tacoma and Picks Up Another Along the Way — Also Brings Two Candidates for High Office in the Imperial Council.

Two bridal parties, some Shrine politics and other interesting things were brought in by the Oregon and Washington special of the Southern Pacific, which reached here at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, carrying El Kader Temple of Portland, Afifi of Tacoma, and El Katif of Spokane. Two hundred and fifty passengers were on the train.

The presence of one of the bridal parties was premeditated, apparently with full knowledge of what might be expected; that of the other was accidental, for the bride and groom, Dr. Louis C. Heller and wife of San Francisco, just sort of stumbled into the

THE REASON WHY

We So Strongly Endorse and Recommend Vinol to the People of Los Angeles.

A member of the Owl Drug Co. says: "We do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Los Angeles whom our famous cod liver preparation, Vinol, will not benefit at this season of the year.

"We believe there is no need for so many people to drag around run-down, tired out and debilitated, or for old people to remain weak and infirm when we guarantee Vinol will restore health and strength."

Continued the druggist: "For centuries cod liver oil has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality, but on account of the nauseating and system-clogging oil which enveloped its curative properties few could take it with benefit.

"In Vinol you get in a concentrated form every one of the curative and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' ivers, the useless, system-clogging oil eliminated, and tonic iron added.

"Vinol is guaranteed by over five thousand of the leading druggists of the United States to create strength for old people, for the run-down, tired and debilitated, weak, sickly women and children, and after a severe sickness.

"We ask every such person in Los Angeles to try Vinol. It costs nothing if it fails."

The Owl Drug Co.,
320 So. Spring St.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Los Angeles, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

HOSPITALITY BEWILDERS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, May 5.—This has been a busy day with the Board of Trade and citizens in general. All day long committees have been busy according a welcome to the delegates passing through here on the Santa Fé and Salt Lake to the Shriners gathering at Los Angeles.

The Shriners treated to this hospitality having been fairly bewildered by the unexpected welcome.

Flowers and fruit have been distributed with a lavish hand. Donations from the gardens and groves of the valley came pouring in upon the Board of Trade. Members of the Woman's Club and other woman's societies had energetic workers weaving the flowers into fragrant bouquets, while other committees carried them to the cars and distributed the gifts to every Shriner and his lady.

Although handicapped by not knowing exactly when to expect the trains, the committees worked to great success. They fairly took the special trains by storm, and even the regular overlands were not neglected, for it was known that many Shriners were coming on these regular trains.

The delegates were more than pleased with their reception, and many an exclamation of surprise was caused by the wealth of fruit and flowers.

BADGE COLLECTING.

PRETTY GIRLS JUST WILD.

Everybody yesterday was collecting official badges. All the pretty girls simply went wild, and any Noble with a variety displayed upon his manly breast was the center of attraction, and flinty indeed was the heart of the man who failed to be deluded into parting with his prizes.

His consolation was that their new setting was fine.

But there were some hard-hearted Nobles. They were the ones who have been on other pilgrimages. These Spartans offered to trade, they insisted upon getting badge for badge. The sweetest smiles glanced from the armor of their badge-clad bosoms like Dakota snow flakes.

But some of the girls at the registration headquarters were just too gorgeous for effete civilization. Miss May McDonald has a collection of a round dozen official badges which is the envy of every Shriner maiden and lots of others.

But Miss L. L. Whitlock, head of the registration bureau, is the proud possessor of the official Karnak badge from Montreal. It was given her by Past Imperial Potentate Campbell in recognition of the splendid work of the bureau.

"This is as a pledge that you bring this card system of registration to the next conclave," he said as he pinned it to her dress.

Among the Nobles of Al Malaikah, Frank L. Miller has the gem of a collection. In fact he has so many, in spite of being robbed of some, that he cannot pin them all upon his coat. Noble Miller is one of the registration guides.

SYRIA BRINGS BRIDAL PAIRS.

FOUR SURVIVE HONEYMOON ON PITTSBURGH SPECIAL.

Really, They Little Thought Anyone Would Know, but They Soon Found Out—Richest Temple Noted for Hospitality, Comes With Big Crowd from Bustling City of Steel.

Syria Temple of Pittsburgh, Pa., lays claim to being the richest temple of the Mystic Shrine in the world. It has a membership of 2847, being fifth in age and fifth in size of the Shriners' temples of the United States. Syria has its own building, exclusively for its individual use. This temple was erected about four years ago at a cost of $250,000.

The Syria pilgrimage reached its Mecca—Los Angeles—yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. La Grande station of the Santa Fé was the scene of the greeting extended to the 121 travelers on the Syria special train. At San Bernardino, local Shriners had extended the first greetings and presented every member of the party with fruit and flowers.

The Arab Patrol of Al Malaikah and a band of music, besides a large number of other members of Al Malaikah, gave a personal welcome to each member of the party. Then they were escorted to their headquarters at Hotel Hayward.

When the Syria visitors reached Spring street they were met by the patol of Islam Temple, which joined in the escort to headquarters.

In the Syria crowd there are many interesting members. A touch of romance was added to the trip by the presence of two bridal couples.

Just before leaving Pittsburgh, Edward Klein, a real estate dealer of that city, was married to Miss Succup, and they planned the journey to California for their honeymoon. They were surprised when aboard the special train to find that they had company in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones of Pittsburgh, who were married just before the train started for the west. Both couples were showered with special attentions during the long journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones had to smother their dignity and submit to being known as "Adam and Eve," and Mr. and Mrs. Klein were in a constant state of surprise over the various delicate attentions which one hundred or more Shriners were able to invent for their delectation and distress. It was great fun for the Syria Shriners—but Mr. and Mrs. Klein and Mr. and Mrs. Jones never, never again will select a Shrine special as the vehicle for their honeymoon journeys.

The Syria special came by the way of Toledo, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and Colorado Springs, and made the extra trip to Cripple Creek. They stopped for a day and a half at the Grand Cañon of the Colorado, where it was joined by travelers on four other special trains in a sight-seeing tour of the cañon.

The general arrangements and care of the party on the Syria special were in charge of William J. Griffith, a Deputy Mineral Surveyor of Arizona, who says the geological conditions are favorable to its rivaling Senator Clark's great wealth producer. It assays copper as high as 30 per cent., or about 150.00 to the ton copper. There are already 2000 feet of workings and enormous ore bodies are in sight ready to be mined. The treasury stock now offered at 40 cents a share is for further development work and smelter erection purposes. No such opportunity to invest in a copper mine is offered by any other company today. NO MONEY ASKED until you have investigated the merits of the investment. We will send you Government maps, the United States Mineral Surveyor's report, also the report of two other equally reliable mining experts.

Copper Is King of Minerals

today. The wheels of industry could not turn without it. Electricity and electrical machinery are dependent upon it. So much so that during the past two years it has gone from 12½ cents per pound to 25 cents, and still advancing. The JEROME VERDE is not a mere prospect, but a developed property, upon which $100,000 has already been spent in proving its value, and more funds are now needed to extract the ore and erect a smelter. Investors today have the great advantage of all this expenditure of money, making it entirely a different proposition from that of an undeveloped "prospect." We do not need all the money at once, and will accept partial payments on the basis of one-fifth down and the balance in four monthly payments.

Information, including maps, engineers' reports, assays, etc., will be furnished upon application to this office.

THE BEST THING OF ALL.

There have been some expressions of regret that the teamsters' strike has come at the date of the Fiesta. It is regrettable that a strike of any kind should take place at any time. This strike at this hour will probably cause a little more inconvenience than usual.

But while all this is true, it may be the best time in all the year to have a strike if there must be one.

The city is full of visitors, and among the many things they have heard about us, perhaps the most impressive is as to the way Los Angeles deals with strikes and with strikers. It occasions the greatest wonder in other cities where the freedom of Los Angeles from labor-union domination is told. In many instances it seems incredible and incomprehensible.

Here the visitors will see how the thing is done. If the strike were to create any inconvenience to the city's guests, there would be cause for unhappiness. But except for what they read in the papers, they will be in blissful ignorance of any industrial disturbance. They will know that the teamsters of the city are on strike. They will see the business of the city go on without the slightest interruption. There will be no violence nor trouble outside the circle of the strikers. The visitors will have the inspiring spectacle of the whole business community standing in a solid phalanx to maintain industrial freedom and give every honest man an opportunity to earn his bread protected from violence or molestation of any kind.

Will it not be the best thing we will have to show our visitors?

THE UNWRITTEN LAW.

Lewis H. Machen, a Virginia State Senator, has contributed to the Independent a paper on the subject of the "Unwritten Law."

We are not fully informed as to what it takes in the way of brains and wisdom to qualify a man for a seat in the Legislature of the "Old Dominion" State. In California the fact that one is a State Senator does not necessarily carry much weight. Some of our solons have queer ideas about laws, and queerer about justice.

Senator Machen puts forward some views which will meet with general acceptance. No doubt there are cases of homicide, wherein an aggrieved husband, father or brother takes summary vengeance on the invader of the family sanctity or on the person who assaults helpless innocence, which call for great leniency at the hands of juries. Another point made in the paper referred to is that if the principle upheld by the advocates of the unwritten law theory is correct, then it should not be left longer unwritten, but should at once be spread upon the statute books of the States. That is a step directly in the line of high civilization and necessary to the safety of the commonwealth. To leave the matter as it is puts a premium upon perjury which must be committed by every juror who acquits a man proved to be guilty in the eyes of the unwritten law. There is nothing more dangerous to society than contempt of the law, and bad laws tend to bring all law into contempt. So we say with Senator Machen, that if society is of the opinion that homicide in given cases is just, then let it be made legal, and not illegal, as at present.

But this only brings us to the real question here involved. Would it be well to spread on our statute books a law like that proposed by the Virginia lawmaker? We must think carefully of all that this suggestion carries with it.

Enact such a law and then in every case where a woman's virtue is concerned, her natural guardian is authorized to go forth and execute judgment in the most summary manner. What does this amount to? Why, that the husband, father or brother is made judge, jury, prosecuting attorney and sheriff. There is to be no trial, no hearing of testimony, no opportunity for the accused to refute the charge and establish innocence. It takes for granted that every woman is unquestionably not only chaste, but truthful. She is never partner in the man's sin; she will never charge an innocent man to shield a paramour; she is never an adventurer; nor will she ever sin like a very Magdalen and only cry aloud when she knows her neighbors know of her delinquency.

Here are points that the Virginia lawgiver either did not consider, or which he thought merited no consideration. But they are of so great importance that they absolutely invalidate the plea for the application of the unwritten law theory and for the demand for a law legalizing such homicides.

The better way would seem to be to make the crimes for which the unwritten law is pleaded capital, and then have every man who has the highest good of society at heart see that the law is executed.

GIVE YOUNG AMERICA HIS RIGHTS.

"What will become of our men if tradesmen close their doors against them? If boys cannot be given the opportunity to learn trades by which to subsist, they are likely to do anything to make their way in life, even if they must resort to criminality. Like any just man, I stand for short hours and good pay, but I want justice from the journeymen."

These words were uttered by a master plumber at a meeting of the union plumbers of the State of California at San Diego on Thursday last. The discussion had been about closely limiting the number of apprentices to be allowed to learn the plumber's trade. Frank Firmin was probably the only one in the organization who opened his mouth for an American ideal or for justice.

This master plumber touched one of the most important points in dispute between labor unions and employers, also between these organizations and the general public. Of all the selfish, unprincipled devices known to labor-unionism, this limiting of apprentices is the very worst. The purpose of this device is evident. By keeping down the number of apprentices there is effected a shortage of men to do the work of a given trade.

But the wrong thus wrought to the general public in the way of furnishing leverage to the unions to force wages to an undue point is a tolerable thing compared with the cruel injustice thus inflicted upon the growing youth of the country. So cold-blooded is labor union selfishness that it forgets its own flesh and blood and deliberately cuts off from the opportunity of learning a useful trade the children of the members of the union.

The Times frequently calls upon the better element in these labor-union organizations to assert their manhood and to stand even in the face of their "leaders" and bosses, the walking delegates, for what they know to be fair and right. This master plumber, Firmin, shows that he does not propose to sacrifice his rights as a free-born citizen, his ideals as an American citizen, and the interests of his own sons at the dictation of the worse elements in the brotherhood, few in number as compared with the great mass of the unions, but tyrannical in the rule they exercise over their fellow-workmen and loud and aggressive in proclaiming their violent principles.

WHAT THE DINGLEY TARIFF IS DOING.

Do you remember how English statesmen favored the Southern Confederacy when those States were in rebellion against the government to break up the Union? Do you know why England felt so much sympathy for the Confederacy?

The Northern States were for a protective tariff and for building up American industries. The Southern States were for free trade. All they wished was to develop their agricultural resources by means of slave labor, sell the surplus abroad, and import their manufactures. There is where England's sympathy found such deep root. The cotton industry of England depended largely on the success of the American rebellion.

When the rebellion broke out the cotton crop amounted to from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 bales. It now amounts to from 10,000,000 to 12,500,000 bales. In 1860 we were spinning very little of this cotton in America, none in the South.

Year by year since the close of the war, under Republican tariff politics, cotton spinning has increased more rapidly than the size of the crop. A year ago there were 6,350,000 spindles in England. During the past year the enlargement of English cotton factories has been very great. By the end of this decade the increase in the decade will equal that in thirty years before.

In spite of this growth in English cotton spinning there has been great expansion in America. The South, which when the war broke out had no cotton factories, now has many. We are using a very large portion of our own raw product and importing increasing quantities of raw cotton. The increase in value in the year 1906 amounted to $14,500,000 and the exports decreased $13,500,000.

Cotton manufactures are worth more than twice as much as the raw material. Think of that. We kept at home $13,500,000 worth of our crop more than in the previous year, and gave this a value of about $30,000,000. We sent abroad the money this made and bought raw cotton with it which again was worth $30,000,000. That is what the Dingley Tariff Act added to our wealth in one year in one industry.

Under a free trade policy we would probably be growing nearly as much cotton as we do now. But it would nearly all go abroad to be made into cotton goods, and for each dollar we received for the raw stuff we would have to send out two dollars to pay for the goods made of our own material. If we were all free traders and sold all our raw cotton to go abroad we would get at the prices now ruling $500,000,000. But to get back the goods made, if we needed them, we would pay $1,000,000,000.

Which policy is the best for the American people?

This is the policy which the great and good Mr. Bryan calls the "robber tariff." If it robs any people it is the foreigners whom it deprives of the chance to do work we should do ourselves.

"There are places in Los Angeles where a Shriner's wife or daughter or sister cannot follow his red fez," says Potentate Flint. Let every fez have that tip pasted on the inside of it.

The Kaiser receives no salary as Emperor of Germany but is paid entirely for acting as King of Prussia. In America the custom is different, a man often receiving two salaries for one job.

"ARTIFICIAL COPPER."

Let no man who owns a copper mine be in haste to sacrifice his property on the announcement of one learned gentleman that another has discovered a way to make the metal by scientific process. It is just possible that this "artificial copper" may turn out to be merely "scientific brass."

We are not forgetful of the great services the scientific student has rendered to the industries of his time. His researches were never so valuable as they are today. Science is constantly becoming less academic, less theoretical, more practical.

But announcements of the kind referred to here are as old as "science;" yes, as old as dreams. This is more than likely to prove a new case of the elixir of life, of the philosopher's stone, and the universal solvent. "Scientific" people have ere now tried to lift themselves by the straps of their boots. They have tried to "invent perpetual motion." Motion is an invention of the Creator, and its condition is that it must have force behind it. The Creator did make perpetual motion whose force is in itself. The spheres are a fine example of perpetual motion. But where friction exists there must be constant renewal of force to overcome it.

Flying machines are not impossible of comprehension. Those engaged in experimenting with them recognize the laws which control the material universe. The "perpetual-motion scientist" ignores these laws. So does the one who seeks to lift himself over the stile by his boot straps. Also the genius who died with the elixir of life in his pocket. Midas was the only person who discovered the way of converting everything to gold, and had cause to repent his power, as his food became too "precious" to eat and he died.

The man who set out to invent the universal solvent knew much about science. But he lacked the practical wisdom of Abraham Lincoln, who asked, "What are you going to keep it in?"

Scientific dreams are not less fascinating than those of the poet with the "eye in a fine frenzy rolling." Sir William Ramsay's "artificial copper" looks very much like "such stuff as dreams are made of."

WE ARE GETTING A NAVY.

Recently Admiral Francis T. Bowles, at that time Chief Constructor of the United States navy, prepared a comparison of the warships being built for the different nations. The following tabulated statement will show how much progress we were making at that time in the acquisition of a navy, compared with Great Britain's:

	United States.	Great Britain.
Battleships	14	9
Tonnage	265,462	139,750
Estimated cost, exclusive of guns	$76,943,100	$51,535,140
Cost per ton	$374	$371
Armored cruisers	8	15
Tonnage	111,080	152,700
Estimated cost, exclusive of guns	$41,000,000	$53,313,987
Cost per ton	$369	$348
Protected cruisers	3	8
Tonnage	48,300	23,760
Estimated cost, exclusive of guns	$16,611,716	$8,079,023
Cost per ton	$344	$340

Of course if we were building ships faster than Great Britain, we were much outstripping any of our competitors.

A study of the table presents more than one surprising feature. The latest ships put into commission in the United States rank in power and speed with the best fighting machines in the world. Such battleships as the Vermont, the Rhode Island, the Louisiana, and the Connecticut compare well with England's latest and best, the Queen, King Edward VII, and the Dominion. We are now engaged in the construction of a ship which will class with the most recent one in the English navy, the Dreadnought.

The English have had much more experience in steel shipbuilding than we have had, and this is particularly true in regard to the building of steel ships of war. By the latest exhibits of their pay roll, the English pay skilled workmen in their shipyards from $9 to $11 a week, while mechanics of the same class in American shipyards get from $15 to $20 a week. The table above shows that the cost per ton of American battleships is $374, compared with the cost in the United Kingdom of $371.

Here is a compliment paid to American shipbuilders, whether we are speaking of those who supervise the work or the men who do it. The wages in American shipyards are almost 100 per cent. greater than in the shipyards of England, and yet the cost per ton of building a battleship is but $3 more in the United States than in the United Kingdom.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Speed of Electricity.

Experiments by the late Prof. Hertz of Bonn, demonstrated that the velocity with which electricity is propagated is nearly identical with the velocity of light. The identity may be perfect, but experiments have as yet failed to prove it so.

In a recent communication to the French Academy of Sciences one scientist has shown that the mean velocity of electricity is 188,185 miles per second. This is about one per cent. greater than the velocity of light, which is 186,300 miles per second.

It is believed that if light and electricity do move with exactly the same speed the velocity ascribed to light more closely represents that speed than the velocity ascribed to electricity, because the experiments are more satisfactory and probably more accurate in the case of light.

Seeking Spotted Fever Germ.

Dr. Simon Fluxner of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, has been tracing the virulence of cerebro-spinal meningitis in an endeavor to discover a check to the disease in the form of a practical antitoxin. The germ has the remarkable name of Diplococcus intracellularis. Every experiment seemed to show that its life was short. It was also shown that the germ was to be found in the nose and the pharynx, and hence easily communicable.

New Test of Death.

Although it is asserted by nearly every practicing physician that the possibility of being buried alive can only occur where a medical examination has not been made, an eminent German physician and surgeon states that a stronger, absolutely reliable guarantee for discerning actual death is still demanded, and the demand has been met by the discovery of a new medium for ascertaining death with perfect certainty.

The new death test consists in ejecting a solution of fluorescine deep into the tissues. If circulation exists the skin and mucous membranes become very yellow and the eyes assume the color of emeralds; if the circulation has ceased none of these results occur.

The discoverer proposes that at least two hours before the body is placed in a coffin such an injection with fluorescine be made. If life is not yet extinct the injection does not harm and the coloring within a short time entirely disappears without the slightest injury to the patient.

Substitute for Turpentine.

A product called turpene, manufactured from petroleum, is said to be a good substitute for turpentine, which is becoming scarcer every year. The process by which it is made is a secret one.

Pneumonia a Germ Disease.

Pneumonia is a malignant inflammation of the lungs due to the presence of minute organisms or germs. These germs corrode and blockade the air passages through the lungs and cut off a large portion of the patient's customary supply of air, and weaken the heart by the increased work put upon it. It is seldom a pneumonia patient dies of suffocation; usually his heart gives out or the germ poisons kill him by invading his brain. There are many forms of pneumonia, and it may be caused by any one of a dozen different germs, but the most common type is that caused by a little organism called Fraenkel's pneumococcus, after the Germant savant who discovered it. The pneumococcus under the microscope appears as a tiny dark speck surrounded by a transparent capsule. It is a germ of the very lowest order.

STREAKS OF HUMOR.

Dyspepsia Preferred.

"Your husband says that when he is angry he always counts ten before he speaks," said one woman.

"Yes," answered the other. "I wish he'd stop it. Since he got dyspepsia home seems nothing but a class in arithmetic."—[Washington Star.

The Deceptive Ship.

"Do you know, the construction of a ship is rather hypocritical."

"What on earth do you mean?"

"When she fronts one, she is all bow, isn't she?"

"Yes."

He Couldn't.

Stage Manager: Why didn't you go on when you got your cue, "Come forth?"

Super: Ol was waitin' for the other three to go on first; sure, an' how could I come forth if I wint first?"—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

Then There Was Silence.

"George," she said, "before we were married you were always giving me presents. Why don't you ever bring me anything now?"

"My dear," replied George, "did you ever hear of a fisherman giving bait to a fish he had caught?" Then the kettle boiled over.—[Tit-Bits.

The Best Test.

An English squire was examining an Irishman on his talents for the position of gamekeeper. At last he asked how Pat would tell an old bird from another of later birth.

"By the teeth, sor."

"Begorra, I have."—[Judge's Library.

The Generation's End.

The Doctor: Admitting that a generation is thirty-three and one-third years, or any length of time you please, when does one generation leave off and the next one begin?"

The Professor: It ends, so far as you are concerned, and another one begins, roughly speaking, the first time you overhear your boy talking about you as "the old man."—[Chicago Tribune.

An Historical Authority.

Poet Lover: You know, where Shakespeare says a soft, low voice is an excellent thing—

Literary Sheriock Holmes: Ha, said he so? Then there is poetic authority for speak-easies.—[Baltimore American.

Broke Itself.

"Freddy, you shouldn't laugh out loud in the schoolroom," exclaimed the teacher.

"I didn't mean to do it," apologized Freddy. "I was smiling, when all of a sudden the smile busted."—[Exchange.

Sensible Criticism.

"Sold your automobile, eh?" exclaimed Wyss. "What was the trouble?"

"Couldn't control it," explained Acher. "When I ran fast it took me to the police court, and when I ran slowly it didn't take me anywhere."—[Harper's Weekly.

Danger of Comets.

"These comets," said the bandaged man, "are durned dangerous things an' ought to be suppressed."

"I hadn't heard of their hurting anybody," said the argumentative person.

Don't keep it, pass it 'round;
To those who need it give a part,
Don't keep it, pass it 'round;
It wasn't made alone for you;
It's yours, of course, but still, it's true
It's meant for other people, too—
Don't keep it—pass it' round.

You'll find you have enough to spare,
Don't keep it, pass it 'round;
'Twill drown a lot of gloomy care,
Don't keep it, pass it 'round;
Dividing up your sunshine store
Will lighten loads for those heartsore,
And you'll enjoy life all the more—

BITS OF VERSE.

A California Song.

I come to you with a gift in my hand,
A flower that grew in a golden land,
A land on whose head is a poppy crown
And the scent of the blossoms is wafted down
To the amber bay and the topaz sea
And the sun-god's grave by the cocoa tree,

I come to you with a flower whose face
Is the zenith of beauty, the acme of grace,
There are dreams in its eyes and the song on its lips
Is the lullaby song of the shadow that slips
Down the tall purple mountain that watches like Fate
The silver sails threading the fair Golden Gate.

I come to you with a flower whose breath
Brings freedom from fear of disaster and death,
For though El Dorado be blackened, and rock
Through the demon of fire and the earthquake shock,
There is peace in the hearts of her children who know
The scent of the fields where the poppies grow.
—[Clarence Umry in Sunset.

What is Complete?

What is complete
In all this little life, through which we run with flying feet,
Unto a future that we cannot shun,
And a new life that hope would have more sweet?

We only know
That we are passing through a world of change;
As buds that blow
Run into fruit, so to a state most strange
We from our present forms are born to grow.

. . . . . .

The way I ran
A gray-grown man,
Showeth me not how far I have to go
Out of this life, nor when that life began.
—[John Gregory.

Happy.

A sparrow bird's a-swingin' on a limb across the street,
An' he thinks that he's a-singin', but he on'y says te-wheet;
But there's so much gladness in it, just so much o' laugh an' glee,
That no mockin' bird on earth don't sing no sweeter song for me.

I'm brother to the sparrow swingin', singin' on the limb,
My heart's so full o' gladness that it makes me kin to him;
Whilst my voice ain't made fer music more than his is, yet my soul
Sings a song o' lilt in' glory that makes heaven's echoes roll.

An' the children are a-playin' down beneath me in the street,
I kin hear their happy laughter an' the patter of their feet,
An' the music's got me goin' till I wanter go an' play
Over yonder with the sparrow an' the babies, glad as they.

You kin ketch a note o' gladness in th' croakin' of a frawg,
Why, the world's just breathin' music an' a-shiftin' of its feet!
—[J. M. Lewis, in Houston Post.

A Good Creed.

Live for some earnest purpose,
Live for some noble life,
Live for the hearts that love you,
Live that you conquer strife;
Live that the world may find you
Honest and pure of thought,
Live though it frown upon you,
Live as all true men ought.

What does it matter, brother,
If in the race for fame
The one gains a gilded carriage,
The other a poor man's name?
Life's but a little season,
Naught but a passing cloud,
One day it lives in sunshine,
The next—the winding shroud.

Why do you live? You murmur;
Why do you die, I ask,
When the golden good of kindness
Lies oft within thy grasp,
'Tis but a word of comfort,
'Tis but a softened heart,
'Tis but a look of pity
When tears are seen to start.

'Tis but a word of guidance,
Only a friendly touch,
One moment's self-denial,
But, oh! it is so much
That heavy hearts grow lighter
And life is robbed of pain,
And somewhere in the world
Yours is the greatest gain.

Be ye, then, Jew or Gentile,
Ask not the other's creed;
For if the flower be spotless
Care ye where grew the seed?
Live for the one true purpose,
That honest hearts may rise;
Work through the noon of manhood,
And when the evening dies
There will be forebodings,
Angels will close thine eyes.
—[Trestle Board.

The Golden Way.

If you want to be looked on as learned and wise,
Don't talk;
If to test your real knowledge a man slyly tries,
Don't talk;
For this world is run in a contrary way,
And is likely to judge a man as sage or jay,
More by what he doesn't than what he does say,
So don't talk.

When people around you discuss some fine point,
Don't talk;
Your silence with wisdom your view will anoint;
Don't talk;
Just listen to all with a painstaking care,
And none to assail you as learned will dare,
If only you take a superior air,
And don't talk.

If you want nothing quoted against you for ill,
Don't talk;
If you wish all your friends to believe in you still,
If you try of the ladder to reach the top rung,
Don't talk;
Just barrel your speech and don't waste at the bung;
To fool them, just look wise and then hold your tongue,
Don't talk;

BY COZETTE.

"A day conducive to entertainments."

This is the 126th day of the year. The Moon is in the last quarter of its days. Jupiter is evening star. It is morning star.

One will stand in great need of sagacity, discernment, and not to say cunning, to escape the network of entangling snares with which the heavens day are threaded. Bravery and also estrangements.

Strategem, wiliness and craft will be the keynote of almost every line of business transaction. Be careful lest you make your exit from the end of the horn. However, matters of affairs does not only affect the financial world, but to the individual well. Beware the enchanting dimple, a sparkling eye or the ripple of a fluttering ruffle, lest you become hopelessly into the trap.

On the other hand a kind word or a careless glance may be misinterpreted, and used as the basis for a settlement. WATCH!

This is a most uncertain day, and those whose affairs are involved should beware of the pitfalls and quarrelling. They will lose their salary soon.

The child born on this day will be rash, impetuous, fickle but will be successful in business. They will die early and live happily.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

The elemental struggle of right and wrong, from which melodrama never [illegible], is waged again at the Grand [illegible] this week, in "A Great Mistake." Petite Florence Barker, [illegible] Willoughby, a sweet Southern [illegible] is seen struggling for her father's [illegible] and her own inheritance, aided [illegible] by "Thomas gambler," impersonated by Charles Gunn. Against them [illegible] a brutal steamboat captain, [illegible] and unprincipled adventurer, [illegible] the girl's own father, who is the [illegible] of the racing and gambling [illegible].

[illegible] plots and counterplots, and [illegible] hatred, and great deeps of gore, [illegible] a lesson even to those who [illegible] studied melodrama from Kramer [illegible].

It is one of the few melodramas [illegible] is traditionally bad. Most melodramas [illegible] in their simple justice and [illegible] punishing of wrong, instill a very [illegible] sentiment into the young [illegible] of the gallery. As far as right-[illegible] and wickedness is concerned, [illegible] exception of this "piece" is as [illegible] as the rest—but the "gentleman gambler," before mentioned, is [illegible] a rather earthy angel of justice. It is a good thing to be [illegible], provided one is always a [illegible] in the shoe polish and [illegible] sense. Gamblers have [illegible] dance for knight-errantry; [illegible] like the outlaws of Sherwood who plundered the rich [illegible] the poor; each is necessarily [illegible] Villoneque person, right-[illegible] and justifying maidens, [illegible] a mere carnal mind to [illegible] spheres of truth and falsehood. [illegible] gallery esquire to this knight [illegible] back would very likely fall [illegible] grievous pitfalls.

[illegible] saves the day for the [illegible] which of course she loves [illegible] overtakes father, and—in [illegible] degree of the steamboat re-[illegible] which should be his.

[illegible] in The Times of yesterday, [illegible] representatives of the syndicate have [illegible] the Hotchkiss Theater—ostensibly [illegible] a run of popular melodrama. [illegible] in possession of two full-[illegible] theaters, both of which might [illegible] for attractions of any sort, is [illegible] convenient thing for the syndicate promoters, and shows more [illegible] than anything else that New York has [illegible] of the growth and new importance of the metropolis of Southern [illegible].

[illegible] Francisco had two theaters under [illegible] control, and consequently [illegible] number of traveling attractions [illegible] frequently doubled. Several [illegible] during the past year two shows [illegible] around the great circuit of [illegible] have come into Southern [illegible] together.

[illegible] many women misunderstood [illegible] Adaberto at the Friday [illegible] Club the other day—much to [illegible] of accompanist Archibald [illegible]. Doubtless nine out of every [illegible] really believed that in a [illegible]-donna rage Mme. Adaberto [illegible] her assistant.

[illegible] trouble was this: She was [illegible] her principal air, of course, [illegible], but as she rose to try it [illegible] text suddenly left her, [illegible] was helpless. Mr. Sessions, [illegible] ready to play, cannot speak [illegible] soprano can parle but a [illegible] fragile French. After [illegible] for several minutes to get [illegible] ground, she took his place [illegible] and played her own [illegible] accompaniment—to something else. [illegible] Sessions situation was un-[illegible].

[illegible] Shorts have telegraphed us." [illegible] Stage-Manager Eyton last [illegible] "that they will fulfill every obligation and carry out every contract. We expect that they will do [illegible] there is no reason to believe anything [illegible] no matter what business [illegible] may have been entered [illegible] Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger."

[illegible] the first Shriner song to [illegible] year is entitled "Hold on to [illegible]" with words by Noble J. H. [illegible] and music by James G. Ellis. [illegible] apropos flavor are set to a [illegible] time of dance rythm.

[illegible] Whitesides will be seen at [illegible] Operahouse tonight, in his [illegible] "The Magic Melody." In [illegible] are Howard Gould, May [illegible] and Leslie Kenyon.

[illegible] Albertson and Lewis [illegible] reappear at the Belasco to-[illegible] their brief vacations. The play [illegible] Bleichstein's "Before and [illegible] which was produced three [illegible] at the Astor Theater in [illegible]. Two nights of the week [illegible] purchased by Al Malaikah [illegible] the visiting Shriners.

Pittsburgh banker, whose position on the official divan is that of Assistant Rabban.

William Brown, Imperial Treasurer for the past six years, is a member of this party, as is also W. W. Irwin, Imperial Ceremonial Master, who is a member of Osiris Temple of Wheeling, W. Va. William Robinson, George W. McCanless, Chief Rabban, and others of note in Shriners' circles, were members of the Syria party.

In this company also are several well-known men in the general business world, some of them being connected with the extensive Carnegie steel industries. A. C. Dinkey is here with his wife. He is manager of the 24gar Thompson steel rail mills. Then there are "Billy" Packer and his wife. Packer is manager of the Munhall Structural Steel Company. Edward Hamilton, auditor of the Carnegie Steel Company, is here with his wife. A. J. Edward, former District Attorney of Alleghany county, is another, and last, but by no means least, G. W. Moses of Johnstown.

Moses led the Syrians through the wilderness and safe into the oasis of Los Angeles, and he received due praise therefor from the various members of the party.

Thomas Motheral was placed in charge of the bachelor contingent early on the trip, and before these fellows had gotten fairly settled in their rooms at the Hayward they were planning immediate conquests of some of the charming California millionaire girls.

Syria Temple, which has made the reputation of always having the most beautiful and artistic souvenirs of any shrine in North America, will hold a reception at Hotel Hayward Tuesday afternoon. One hundred and twenty-five dozen souvenir glasses will be distributed—one to each lady accompanying the pilgrimage to Los Angeles with a Noble of the Mystic Shrine.

Syria Temple has a patrol of sixty members. Enough of this body has come to Los Angeles to make a creditable showing.

SHOWERS OF FLOWERS.

HOLLYWOOD'S RECEPTION PLAN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—This foothill city will welcome the Shriners Wednesday morning with flowers and music. A reception on an elaborate scale has been arranged for at the residence of Paul de Longpre, where Hollywood society maids and matrons will greet the visitors from refreshment booths in the flower gardens, and a company of small misses in white frocks, with daisy chains for crowns and sashes, will shower them with hundreds of roses and carnations. The Venice of America band will be stationed on the wide porch and within doors the guests will be made welcome by Mr. and Mrs. De Longpre, Miss Blanch de Longpre and Mrs. Philo Beveridge.

After an inspection of gardens and studio, the visitors will be taken by local Shriners for automobile and carriage rides about the city, which is being decked with Fiesta colors and garlands of flowers. A committee of fifty prominent Hollywood ladies will receive the guests in the De Longpre grounds. The refreshment booths, in the rustic summer-houses, will be presided over by Mmes. J. H. MOOLAH TEMPLE IS REJOICING.

ST. LOUIS NOBLES PLEASED WITH THEIR RECEPTION.

Special Stops at San Bernardino and Local Shriners Cover Visitors With Flowers and Deluge Them With Oranges—Bring Famous Patrol. Abba Temple Also Represented.

Already several hours late, the train reached San Bernardino, where it had been planned to stay awhile. Only a fifteen-minute stop was made, but that was long enough for a greeting which the Nobles of Moolah still were talking of when they arrived in Los Angeles.

"I never saw anything like it," said Henry Neidringhous, Past Potentate and candidate for Imperial Outer Guard. "They fairly covered us with flowers. And oranges! I never saw so many oranges before.

"We met a charter member of Moolah Temple there, one of the few who are left. Foscott is his name, and he is a member of Al Malaikah Temple now. He was a member of Moolah in 1886, when the Temple was instituted in St. Louis. He gave us a greeting, I can tell you."

Noble Neidringhous is put forward with confidence by his temple for the high office for which he will stand at the coming meeting of the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine. St. Louis never has been represented in the Imperial Council, and the members of Moolah feel that their time has come.

The Moolah Patrol, of which C. A. Sinclair is captain, has attended every meeting of the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine for the past ten years, giving a good account of itself on every occasion.

On the St. Louis special came also twenty-six members of Abba Temple of Mobile.

C. A. Sinclair, captain, C. L. Alexander, W. J. Baird, H. Batavia, G. A. E. Berg, B. F. Brockmeyer, E. C. Brooks, A. C. Bigby, C. S. Dougherty, J. H. Dietrich, J. B. Emerson, J. M. Griffin, O. A. Hampe, C. G. Haislip, Lou Hurtzeborn, H. B. Martin, C. P. Neidringhous, F. Orvis, L. F. Philio, F. W. Rengstorf, J. C. Sherman, E. A. Steinlinger, P. G. Stout, Geo. Toussant, J. F. Weber, A. F. Weeke, J. F. Weidemeyer, G. E. Wilucki.

Included in the Moolah Temple party are: Mr. and Mrs. James Alcorn, J. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Batavia, W. C. Hasty and family, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Stoat, F. R. Sullivan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niedringhaus, Mrs. and Miss Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gaessler, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Parks.

Misses Emma and Adele Stinninger, Mrs. J. T. Weber, Mrs. Wiliucke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orts, W. H. Lamb, W. H. Hettel, H. W. Pleitner, E. H. Kartkamp, Harry Bahrenberg, Web L. Miller, W. H. "SPHINX" TRAIN IN.

One section, known as the Beekman party, was under the personal supervision of J. A. Flanders. The trip was arranged under the auspices of Malhi Temple of Springfield, With E. O. NEW "MILK DEGREE" FOR ZEM-ZEM, MAYBE.

A NEW subsidiary order was organized yesterday at the Shriners' headquarters on Hill street. Only Nobles of Al Malaikah Temple are eligible.

The three new officers claim that it was first started by Methuselah, just before he died, and that it was his life work to perfect the ritual. It has been abbreviated since then, but all those initiated yesterday, including Prof. Foshay, say they got their money's worth.

Some of the Nobles of Al Malaikah around headquarters, when they heard what was doing, fled. But most of them came up with a smile and left with a sickly grin.

Leo Yougworth is treasurer, and the other officers are Supervisor Eldridge and Louis Schwaebe, but the treasurer is the whole thing.

In their Arab Patrol suits of white with braided silk the initiators put on looks of dignified mystery, and managed to get several voluntary victims. But the alarm spread.

The Ancientest Order of Milkers was in danger of dying in the very process of rejuvenation.

MILKING INITIATION.

But the treasurer rose to the occasion—he needed the money.

Into the highways and byways of Hill street and headquarters the Chief Milkers sent their minions to drag in unwary Nobles. Every one who was initiated immediately sought out his deadly enemy and coaxed him within range. The Chief Milkers did the rest.

Nobles of Islam, Nobles of Yeldus, Nobles of Aloha and other pilgrims were immune. They stood about in groups, and watched the process of initiation with tears of joy.

At a little stand sat Noble Eldridge as Grand Chief Milker. The victim was brought before him and commanded to produce $1. This sounded easy, and $1 in a big silver coin was produced, and ostensibly placed under a dish.

The initiated kept his eye on the dish which hid his money. But Noble Schwaebe had already abstracted it. Then the Grand Chief Receiver of Milk, known as the treasurer, questioned the milked.

"Why are you alive?"

THE FIRST DEGREE.

An answer to this question is not absolutely necessary; in fact one is not expected, and it doesn't make any difference what it is. One doesn't have to pass a civil-service examination to pass. All the other questions are put to Noble Schwaebe, the Grand Chief Milk Inspector.

"What is his name?"

"Noble Rogue."

"What is his qualification?"

"His money's up," and the Grand Chief Milk Inspector held up in plain view of the astonished milked one a big silver coin.

"Is it good?"

"It is."

Then the three grand officers all tested it carefully. This was the first degree.

HIGHER DEGREES.

The next degree was a mysterious one.

The milked was backed up against a wall and surrounded by the three Chief Milkers and their satellites. While the Grand Chief Milker initiated the milked into the mysteries of the milking grip, which necessitates the use of both hands, the other Chief Milkers apparently were finding out just how much money the initited possessed.

This was the second degree.

The third degree, however, was the most serious of all—it consisted of trying to borrow some coin from some other member of the Ancientist Order of Milkers.

One who could do that was considered a Good Milker.

FIFTY MILE RACE

THE STAR OF THE MEET

The Thomas changed THREE tires during the 50-mile race and was only beaten one mile and one quarter. Although SEVEN minutes were lost changing tires, the Thomas was easily second, and had not tire trouble occurred, would have SHATTERED THE WORLD'S 50-MILE RECORD. This Thomas car, owned by J. R. Finletter, carried 4 passengers, was a STOCK car, with STOCK gearing, the same as on twenty 1907 Thomas cars now running in Los Angeles. This car has been run 3000 miles and ran ON OLD TIRES. The SPEED shown was REMARKABLE and has never before been equaled in a touring car race with full equipment. Miles repeatedly made in 1:06, 1:07, 1:08, etc., easily establish the Thomas as THE FASTEST 4-CYLINDER TOURING CAR BUILT IN AMERICA. During the 50 miles not an adjustment was made, and on OTHER CARS ENTERED THERE WAS.

NEXT SUNDAY

Mr. J. R. Finletter's Thomas Flyer will go after the WORLD'S 50-MILE RECORD, and hereby

Cured After Other Doctors Had Failed

The question is often asked, Are remarkable cures we are making permanent ones. In answer to this question we publish the following letter from the stepfather of the little boy whose picture appears above. This little boy was cured of a discharging ear after doctors had failed.

Dear Sir:—I am sending you this so you can examine his ear. It is now a year since you have treated him, and he has had no trouble since, and we consider him entirely cured.

"You are more than welcome to use me as a reference, as I have recommended the work.

Haynes Speed and Haynes Reliability

Old Model O—30 H. P., Price $2450. The first car sent to Sa. Cal. wins the 5 mile $3000 stock car event, carrying five passengers, in following it by winning a special challenge 5 mile race with four passengers in 6:58. This car had not been looked over in six months, and absolutely nothing done on her for these races except grinding in valves.

A new one just like it except with selective gear, ready for immediate delivery at the same price, $2450. We had a piece of bad luck with the big 50, that made the wonderful race at San Diego possible. A lubricating power ran out a drain blb in the crank case, and we ran for nearly 47 miles, or until it became evident further going would burn the engine. Even at this we were in the second place.

We have the money which says: We can beat the first, second and third cars in that race any distance from five to fifty miles, for a side match.

NOBLES TOLD TO LIVE CLEANLY.

THEY ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE AT CHRIST CHURCH.

Rev. Baker P. Lee, Himself a Shriner, Preaches on "Memory." Red Fez Over Rector's Head and Walls of Yellow Bloom on Either Side of Him.

The exercises attending the meeting of the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine were opened by services at Christ Church last night.

"I am going to recommend that at all succeeding meetings of the Imperial Council," announced the rector, Rev. Baker P. Lee, who is himself a Shriner, in his introductory remarks, "that the official programme be opened with divine service.

"There is an idea, I know," he continued, "that the opening is marked chiefly by the popping of corks and noisy joy, but nothing could be more untrue."

Beneath a suspended red fez, and flanked by walls of yellow bloom, the rector preached on "Memory," taking this text from Revelations: "Another book was opened, which is the book of life."

That book, from which the dead are to be judged, the speaker declared to be human memory.

Likening the Bible to a wondrous cathedral, whose walls are enriched with splendid pictures, the preacher led his congregation swiftly through the mystic passages, entering through the "vestibule of Genesis," passing on to where "a Webster or Calhoun may learn oratory at Isaiah's feet," and through "the sweetness of Miriam and Ruth, that have inspired the lives of Clara Barton and Queen Victoria," to "the business house of Proverbs, to learn from that Napoleon of finance of the Old Testament."

Expatiating on the need of earnestness and high purpose in business relations, and referring to the high standards set by his brothers of the Mystic Shrine, Dr. Lee continued his review of the Bible:

Into the "observation room of the Prophets," the pastor led his hearers. "What are all the wonders revealed by the telescope when compared with the astronomy of the human soul?" he asked.

"To the audience chamber of the Disciples," the congregation was then carried, and beyond, into the "throne room of Revelations."

"It seems that in writing Revelations, John dipped his pen into the heart of Christ, into the life of humanity.

"And 'another book was opened, which was the book of life,' the book of memory.

"Let who will believe in the guardian-angel theory, as I used to, that the angel watches each one of us, prepared to fly up to the throne and put down marks for us, good or bad, according to our conduct. We are not judged from any such book as that.

"Let me illustrate the difference between recollection and memory. Our memory holds all that we have done, all that we have heard, though we are able to recall but a small part of it. But it is there, all of it, waiting to judge us.

"I do not believe in a hell of lurid flames, nor in a heaven with gates of pearl; that is merely metaphor. But all of heaven that we may conceive, and all of hell we may imagine, abides in our memory forever. Stated philosophically, it is the moral law of continuity."

Dealing with recollection, the rector spoke of the little things which touch the springs of memory—a lock of hair or faded flower, recalling events which were forgotten but never lost.

"God is not going to condemn you," he continued. "You will call your own witnesses on the day of judgment. The great film of your own memory will be unrolled before you, and all will stand revealed.

"Human society demands that we wear a mask. It is well that I cannot see clearly through yours; I am glad that you cannot see clearly through mine. But you cannot fool me as to the existence of the mask, even though I am a preacher."

He spoke of Stanford White, of Harry Thaw, of the grafters in the north, and of what is held in the memory of each, adding: "The way of the transgressor is hard."

"Religion," he continued, "is not to take eagles from the air, clip their wings and make poor barnyard fowls of them. It is to offer the stronger lure in the sweeter life, in all that is pure and clean.

"When God needed some one to save the world, he sent a young man. There is nothing more encouraging than the sight of the thousands of young men who are gathering in Los Angeles at this time, for the Shriners always remain young. We say to them: 'God speed and bless you in Los Angeles;' or, in the word in use in our splendid Masonry, 'Allah be with you.' Remember the holy vows of Masonry and keep your honor clean. Thank God for your visit to Los Angeles. May your memory, your book of life, be bright."

THE BAGGAGE RUSH.

PROMPT DELIVERY EFFECTED.

With well-organized arrangements the Baggage Committee of the local Shriners effected exceedingly quick handling of the baggage of the incoming host yesterday.

Members of the committee were on duty all night Saturday night and yesterday they were kept busy with the increasing stream of trunks and miscellaneous apparel packages.

By this means they were able to have the baggage actually delivered at the hotels, sooner in many instances than the visitors to whom the pieces belonged had themselves reached their respective rostelries.

Some of the members of the Baggage Committee boarded incoming trains at points several miles out, like Pasadena, and gathered the checks from the arriving visitors.

The moment a train arrived in Los Angeles the checks were quickly presented at the baggage-room and the baggage was expeditiously put aboard waiting express wagons engaged especially for that purpose and hurried to the hotels.

ALOHA LIMBERS UP.

GETS ITS LAND LEGS ON.

Aloha Patrol of Honolulu, which made such a hit with its unique and striking costumes when it alighted from the train Saturday evening, got on its land legs yesterday and limbered up after the journey over sea. The members mingled everywhere, many of them finding relatives and friends here and spending the day with them, while others took various trips about the country. The members of the patrol and of Aloha Temple, together with the ladies of the party, are at the Lankershim. Aloha Temple has opened headquarters at room 452, Alexandria Hotel, where they will keep open house. Their roster includes the following:

DOG-BADGER FIGHT OFF.

EL ZARIBAH TEMPLE MOURNS.

Sad to relate, there will be no bulldog-badger fight in Los Angeles Tuesday night for the delectation of the Shriners.

In a frenzied telegram to The Times, the Chief Rabban of El Zaribah Temple of Phoenix states that the members of his temple were proceeding peacably to Los Angeles on their special train, with the bulldog and the badger, and that at Maricopa Haafner was arrested for stealing the dog at Phoenix.

Just how much truth and how much fiction there may be in the report, the Chief Rabban fails to state, but he makes the positive announcement that there will be no fight.

ISMAILIA'S BOUGH ROAD.

THREE WRECKS ON THE WAY.

Ismailia Temple arrived at 5:30 o'clock last night from Buffalo, N. Y., over the Santa Fé. There are seventy-five in the party. A party from Maine joined them at Grand Cañon, and several of Kaliulah Temple of Binghamton, N. Y., Lloyd Westbrook is their potentate. The representatives to the Imperial Council are Joel Prescott, William Daugherty and William Risley.

Accompanying Ismailia is Dr. George L. Brown, Past Imperial Potentate. This party encountered three wrecks en route, the longest delay being at Raton, N. M., where their train was held twelve hours.

Ismailia is quartered at Hotel Melrose, No. 120 Grand avenue. They have brought sixteen members of their patrol. They have something unique in the way of costumes and will make a big hit in the parade.

YELDUZ TEMPLE.

AT ALEXANDRIA.

The Nobles and their ladies of Yelduz Temple, Aberdeen, S. D., reached the Oasis of Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon, over the Southern Pacific, after an exceedingly pleasant trip. They all think the oasis is the real proper camping spot and proceeded to make themselves at home in the caravansary of the Alexandria.

Illustrious Potentate Walter G. P. Jacobs of Yelduz Temple is the representative to the Imperial Council's conclave. He took the Honolulu pilgrimage in 1901, and as soon as he had registered at headquarters he hunted up the members of Aloha Temple and inquired about the Oasis of Hawaii.

Those who are making the pilgrimage from Aberdeen are, besides Illustrious Potentate Jacobs: O. A. Griffis, Joseph Wagner, I. D. Davies, H. Noble, R. L. Brown and Miss Brown, Miss Mattie Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Reed, Miss Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martyn, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Pugh and two sons, Fred and Johnnie Pugh, Charles A. Irish, August C. Witte, Miss Alma Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McArthur, Miss T. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hilton.

GLENDALE GREETING.

SPANISH LUNCHEON TODAY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GLENDALE, May 5.—The various committees which have worked faithfully during the last week to make Glendale Day a memorial one to the Shriners, have completed their arrangements and are ready to accord the visitors a hearty welcome. On the grounds at Casa Verdugo suitably decorated booths have been erected from which the ladies will serve flowers, strawberries and oranges. A typical Spanish lunch will be served and there will be Spanish music and dancing. Some member of the committee will be on each car to answer questions concerning points of interest.

TREASURER ARRIVES.

HAS BEEN LONG IN SERVICE.

W. H. Brown, Imperial Treasurer and a member of Syria Temple of Pittsburgh, arrived yesterday and is quartered at the Alexandria. The Nobles of that temple, one hundred and forty-two strong, have their headquarters at the Hayward, where most of them are staying.

Treasurer Brown has occupied that office for thirteen years and for fourteen years he has been the representative of his temple to the Imperial Council.

FROM TWIN CITIES.

MINNESOTA VISITORS.

The Twin City special of thirteen cars rolled into the Salt Lake station shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The "glad hand" was extended, figuratively and literally, by the Los Angeles shriners, as the St. Paul and Minneapolis people disembarked.

Lined up in brave array were the Bedouin Patrol, the Reception Committee from Al Malaikah Temple, and the Catalina Band, backed by the crowds of people who were expecting friends in the company of travelers.

The Twin City special was out just a week on the road, and the trip went through according to schedule, with the exception of loss of time on the western end of the jorney.

Included in the company were James F. Ells, a member of the Imperial Conclave, from Zura Temple, St. Paul, and J. F. Treat, also a member of the conclave, from El Zigel Temple, Fargo, N. D.

Strings of carriages, automobiles and street cars soon had the guests on the way to their headquarters and the reception committees hurried over to the Santa Fe's La Grande Station to extend a welcome to another incoming trainload of Shriners from Eastern States.

MASKED MAN GAGS WOMAN.

Mysterious Stranger Seeks Valuable Papers.

Threatens to Kill His Victim and Then Leaves.

Suit in Court Believed to Be Reason for Attack.

Awakened from a sound sleep, Miss Mary Hawn found herself bound and gagged, with a masked man leaning over her bed, at her room in the Golden West Hotel, No. 412½ South Main street, early yesterday morning. As though experiencing a horrible dream, the woman says she heard the man threaten her with death, after he had searched the room for papers, which are important as evidence in a case in the Superior Court today. He then left by the fire escape. Miss Hawn is proprietor of the hotel.

For fully an hour, Miss Hawn says, she was in the stupor of fright, then began to realize that she was no longer in danger. With some effort she succeeded in rolling off the bed upon the floor. The noise awakened a friend in the next room, who came to her assistance. After the bonds had been removed from Miss Hawn's ankles and wrists and the gag taken from her mouth, she told the other woman of her experience.

An officer was called and made an investigation of the case. He found that the window leading from Miss Hawn's room to a balcony was open, but no trace of the masked man could be found. It was evident that the intruder had climbed the fire escape and entered some room, thus escaping to a hallway. No guest in the hotel could be found who heard the man come or go.

Miss Hawn occupies a room on the second floor in the front of the hotel. When she was interviewed at her hotel last night, she seemed nearly overcome by her experience.

"This matter is purely a private affair and I do not care to discuss it," said Miss Hawn. "I have taken no steps other than the report made to the officer on this beat this morning."

TELLS THRILLING STORY.

Until Miss Hawn was informed that the police seemed to wish it to appear that they discredit the story she told, before they had made an investigation of the case, Miss Hawn would have nothing further to say.

"Well, the police may believe what we have to say or not, it makes little difference to me," she declared. "They have not interested themselves in this case that I can see. There is plenty of evidence to uphold my statements. The horrible incident is past now, and I am glad.

"Being very much exhausted and having retired rather late, I fell into a sound sleep. When I can next remember I seemed to feel someone's breath above my head. My mouth hurt me and someone was cramming it full. I opened my eyes and tried to move. Then I was frozen with horror. A masked man was leaning over me and was finishing the work of gagging me.

"Oh, it seemed for such a long time he bent forward, gazing into my face. Then I tried to move and found my hands tied and my feet bound together. After what seemed to me a long time, the man raised up and walked to the bureau. He searched it and then returned and asked me if I had my papers in the room. I could not answer or even move, but just stared at him.

"He continued his search of the room until satisfied that there was nothing in the room he wanted. He walked over to me and bent over the bed again. He whispered that he would kill me if he did not find my papers before long. After making other theats at my life, he left.

MYSTERY IN THE CASE.

"He went out of that window onto the balcony and that is the last I heard of him. Then I managed to attract the attention of the woman in the adjoining room and she released me. But it was a long time before I could allay my fears enough to summon help."

According to Miss Hawn, the man entered the room about 1 or 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, but she does not know the exact time.

"Did you think you would know this man? Do you think he wanted to rob you?" was asked.

"No; I am positive I never saw the man before. He wanted to rob me, but he wanted those papers—not money," declared Miss Hawn.

"What papers do you refer to?" was asked.

"Why, papers relating to a suit in the Superior Court, which will come up tomorrow," Miss Hawn answered.

After a bit of questioning, it was learned from Miss Hawn that she purchased the hotel from a man, now deceased, but formerly of Covina, about May 30, 1906. She says that the man died some months later, leaving her $1000 life insurance. She says the widow is now suing her for the insurance, and it was the papers in the case which the man referred to.

Miss Hawn is an attractive young woman in her twenties. She seemed to be very nervous. She was ill yesterday and she says she will feel the effects of her fright for some time to come.

CLAM CHOWDER THERE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

REDONDO, May 5.—Redondo beach was all activity today, in preparation for the welcome to be tendered to the visiting Shriners tomorrow. Several hundred of the red-fez brigade are expected and elaborate plans have been laid for thir entertainment. There will be a continuous band concert during their tarry by the sea, while at a table more than a thousand feet in length the banquet will be served. This spread will be on the glistening sands of the ocean shore, and cham chowder will loom as one of the features of a choice menu. Boating and bathing will not be neglected.

JAFFA BEARS GIFTS.

ALTOONA PARTY'S BOUNTY.

Jaffa Temple of Altoona, Pa., made one of the hits of the day at Shrine headquarters, with its neat souvenirs for presentation and swapping purposes. In the first place, it brought to Potentate Motley H. Flint of Al Malaikah a handsome badge of odd design as a reminder of the pretty Pennsylvania city. Instead of the ordinary badge, its souvenirs are in the form of watch fobs for men and belt buckles for the ladies. The watch fob has a hanger in bright gilt on which appears in relief a representation of the famous horseshoe curve on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona.

In the Jaffa party are J. H. Lape, C. T. Derrick, P. W. Snyder, H. R. Hughes, Dr. J. E. Smith and wife, W. W. Blake and wife, J. C. Ellway and wife, Potentate Stair and wife, Mrs. W. M. Lee, Mrs. J. C. Hughes, Emil Theraie, wife and son.

LIES DOWN ON TRACK TO DIE.

OLD RESIDENT OF PASADENA ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Persists in Placing Himself on the Railroad at Arcadia—Once Threatened to Shoot Justice of the Peace. Will Be Examined as to His Sanity. Ex-City Attorney Better.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, May 6.—M. J. Quimby, an old resident of this city and at one time a well-to-do painter, but who has during the last year brought much trouble upon himself by thrice attempting to commit suicide and by gaining a fondness for liquor, is again in jail.

Yesterday Quimby tried to end his life under the wheels of an electric car at Arcadia. He persisted in lying down across the tracks and was finally placed under arrest and brought to Pasadena. Quimby, on his last appearance before Justice Klamroth, threatened to shoot the justice. It is highly probable that Quimby will be examined as to his sanity. The case is a sad one, as the man has lived here so many years and at one time was highly respected.

Attorney whose funeral was held in Pasadena yesterday.

EX-CITY ATTORNEY BETTER.

J. C. Fitzgerald, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy at his home, No. 358 Grove street, Saturday afternoon, and whose life was almost despaired of, is improving. At a late hour last night his attending physician, Dr. Henry Sherry, stated that, while Mr. Fitzgerald was remaining in a semi-conscious condition, he was gaining. The case is still critical, however.

CELESTIAL ELOQUENCE.

An interesting phase of the Chinese question might have been found at the West Side Congregational Church last evening, where the anniversary services of the Pasadena Congregational Chinese Mission and Greek School were held. Whole families of prominent people of this city were present to witness the performance of their Cleslial cooks and servants. The church was well filled, and enthusiastic appreciation of the showing made by the Orientals was freely expressed.

In the front pews sat serious, clean, neatly-dressed Chinamen, some without queues and with the stiff collars and conventional store clothes; others with the long silken braid wound about the head and attired in their native garb. These Chinamen read scripture, sang songs, and in fair English delivered original addresses. High society applauded.

Quon Gam, who has for many years been the head cook at La Solano, read a chapter from the Bible; Louie Noule, the cheerful vegetable man, told of "China's Millions;" Yen Quon, Lee Chew, tiny boys, and Sue King, a mite of a girl, sang a song so sweetly that the congregation almost cheered. Lee Hong spoke entertainingly about "Old and New China." Miss Margaret Chung, a young woman, drew a "Comparison of Chinese and American Customs," taking occasion to advise women of the latter race that they should stop lacing their waists, "for Chinese women can no longer be criticised for binding their feet," she said.

Miss Mansi Kim, formerly of Bakersfield, who won a prize in The Times scholarship contest and who is now attending a commercial college, sang very well. Rev. W. C. Pond, D.D., general superintendent of the California Chinese schools, delivered an address, and reports were read by Mrs. George McDonald of the Greek school and by Mrs. M. H. Dwight of the Chinese school.

FEELS THE BLOT.

"Things have a bad look in San Francisco," said D. M. Linnard, who returned from that city last night. "Conditions there gave me the blues. I have made three trips to San Francisco since the fire and the situation there now from a labor standpoint is worse than it was ten days after the catastrophe. San Francisco faces a serious crisis. It would be far better for the men of the Golden Gate to hold the industrial machinery of that city at a standstill for six long months to live in poverty and to endure all hardships, than to lose this fight for industrial freedom that has been forced upon them."

HOMELESS PRESBYTERIANS.

Services of the First Presbyterian Church were held yesterday for the last time in the old edifice on Colorado street. The big organ has been removed and a yawning cave where it once stood confronted today's congregation. A mere piano called to mind the early days of the now large and wealthy organization. Tomorrow professional wreckers will begin demolishing the building. All pews are to be sold at auction. There are two sizes, long and short, and it is said that the sale offers a rare opportunity to establish a resting place in that shady nook at home under the giant oak tree. That portion of the building known as the Sunday-school chapel is to be taken to South Pasadena, where it will continue its hallowed offices. Until the new church of the organization is ready for occupancy, services are to be held in the assembly-hall of the Women's Clubhouse.

FEZ TIPS.

Pasadena is drawing her full share of the visiting Shriners and the hotels of the city are all making preparations to harbor the visitors under most favorable circumstances. Twelve of the mystic gentlemen engaged apartments at the Maryland yesterday, and the red fez is becoming quite in evidence. Arrangements are being made for the running of "Shriner Specials" daily on the electric road during the Fiesta.

The Board of Trade has issued an urgent call for flowers, asking that they be left at the board rooms early this morning that visitors on Pasadena Day may be showered with bouquets.

All streets of the city are to be thoroughly cleaned today.

Manager J. H. Holmes of the Hotel Green is outdoing himself in preparations for the entertainment of the Shriners. The west park has been closed in with canvas and gay decorations promise an attractive scene. Fifty uniformed waitresses are to be in attendance all day.

BAY BOULEVARD PROSPECT.

Santa Monica City May Take Up the Project for One to Playa del Rey.

SANTA MONICA, May 5.—The City Council may at its meeting Monday evening set on foot a movement having for its object the construction of a wide boulevard as an extension of Ocean avenue all the way along the strand to Playa del Rey. The matter is to be taken up in conjunction with Ocean Park and the Los Angeles-Pacific Electric line.

Fifty of the new passenger coaches for the Los Angeles-Pacific Electric line are just starting on their own wheels from the factory in St. Louis. They will come through with a rush, and upon arrival in Los Angeles will be brought over the Southern Pacific to Sawtelle. Here they will be transferred to the electric line and will be sent to Sherman via Beverly. The motors for the new coaches have already been received, and in the shops at Sherman the installation will take place. These cars are coming in three solid trains, it being the first shipment of one-half of the new rolling stock for the wide-gauge electric line.

In the baseball game played on the Southern Pacific diamond here this afternoon the Santa Monica nine won from the Young Men's Athletic Club team of Los Angeles. The score was 5 to 1, and the game proved an exciting one.

EAGLE ROCK PIONEERS.

EAGLE ROCK, May 5.—There was a notable and enjoyable affair at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams on Central avenue Thursday evening, to which only the Eagle Rock pioneers were invited. Twenty years ago the population consisted of about twenty families, and, although many have moved away, they one and all received a pressing invitation to be present and most of them came.

All joined in singing some of the old songs. Mrs. Kate Myers rendered several piano solos. Miss Mabel Myers a vocal solo and E. D. Goode delivered a short address, in which he said he believed that if the Lord should select a number of people to illustrate how people should live this life He would certainly choose the old, true-hearted, whole souled neighbors of Eagle Rock.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. David Binkley, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Wickerd, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wickerd, Mrs. Mary Hickson, Mrs. Godfrey Edwards, Mrs. Fred Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. John Francketton, Miss Crowder, Mrs. Errington, Mr. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. James Brierley of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Katy and Miss Mabel Myers of Highland Park, Mrs. Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Parker of Los Angeles, Mrs. Stark of Hyde Park, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. George Benson, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Talbott of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Dickey and Mr. and Mrs. William Prosser of Pasadena.

VENICE.

VENICE, May 5.—This beach entertained the usual large Sunday crowd, and everything passed off pleasantly. The thousands of banners and flags fluttering from the masts in appreciation of the coming of the Arab hosts also welcomed the Sunday gathering. The reopened Midway Plaisance contributed to the entertainment of the throngs, and gave a presentation of new attractions of a varied character. The band gave concerts during the afternoon and evening, and the dancing pavilion and roller skating rinks also gave matinees and repeated their repertoires in the evening.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening will be a lively one, if present plans are carried out. Mrs. Abbot Kinney expects to be present to submit the report of her trip to the haunts of the millionaires in the East, where she saw them in their dens and secured pledges of financial aid toward the founding of a union polytechnic high school in the vicinity of Tokio station. The Short Line Beach residents and property owners will also be present for the purpose of discussing the sewer question.

HOT AIR HEARING TODAY.

OCEAN PARK, May 5.—A number of beach residents have been subpoenaed to appear before Township Justice Summerfield in Los Angeles at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, as witnesse in the hot air engine libel suit. The preliminary hearing is et for tomorrow. The defendants are William R. Leroy, inventor of the thermal engine, and A. B. Bynon, editor of the Free Lance. The complainant is Postmaster Charles E. Lovelace, at whose instance the arrests were made. The alleged offense was the publication by Bynon of a letter from Leroy, in which the postmaster-editor was charged with attempting to blackmail the thermal engine people into purchasing immunity from criticism of the so-called hot-air engine.

MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, May 5.—The Robert Shearer Contracting Company, which has the contract for the grading on the Pacific Electric road, and which is now employed in reducing the big Duarte Hill, had an accident on its work yesterday. The company has a temporary trestle, about 22 feet high, on which is run a dummy train dumping the dirt. One of the sections gave way and six of the cars fell almost the entire distance, and were badly smashed. They broke loose from the engine. Work on the cut and fill is progressing rapidly.

HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—The children in the lower grades of the Fremont school gave a flower festival in Wilcox Hall last evening, which was attended by about 400 parents and friends. The children were particularly well trained, and were very dainty and sweet in pearl-white costumes against a high wall of calla lilies and greenery. A stately minuet was prettily done by eight tiny boys and girls.

The newly-named vestrymen for St. Stephans' Church are Philo J. Beveridge, C. J. Wade, C. W. Hollister, Chester T. Hoag, C. J. Walker and J. E. Hoff.

FIXING FOR CHRISTIAN HOST.

MANY ENDEAVORERS EXPECTED IN LONG BEACH.

Several Thousand Young People Are Looked for at the State Convention Which Is to Be Held at the Seashore City at the End of June—Better Trolley Service.

LONG BEACH, May 5.—The Christian Endeavor Society, aided by the local Epworth League and Baptist Young People, is busy with plans and programmes for the entertainment of the twentieth annual California Christian Endeavor convention, which will hold its sessions and headquarters in the Auditorium, from June 28 to July 3. Several thousand delegates are expected, the Los Angeles City Union alone promising an attendance of 2000. Great progress is being made in the collection of funds for the entertainment of the visitors and in arranging for quarters for the delegates during their stay here.

A feature of the convention will be a chorus of 150 local singers, who are practicing regularly under the direction of Dr. A. T. Covert, and a big orchestra, under the leadership of Paul Riley.

BETTER SERVICE SOON.

The long-promised improvement in the through service on the Pacific Electric between this city and Los Angeles is to be inaugurated May 15. Stops on the Los Angeles end between the Huntington building and Watts will be made only at Main and Ninth, Maple, San Pedro, Central and Tennessee, for southbound passengers only. Passengers for any intermediate point north of Watts will have to get an exchange check and transfer at Watts to local cars. On the south end of the division going north the cars are to stop only at Ocean and American, Second, Sixth and Tenth streets. A local car will pick up passengers at other streets and carry them to Willows, where exchange checks will be honored on through cars. By the new arrangement, it is expected to save ten minutes on each trip, cutting down the running time between the terminal stations to thirty-five minutes.

SEASHORE NEWS POINTS.

The big Rambler touring car given away at the Elks' carnival last night was secured by Charles L. Heartwell, City Treasurer. Mr. Heartwell was captured on Pine avenue yesterday afternoon by burlesque cops and taken before a kangaroo court at the auditorium, where for some trumped-up offense, he was fined $25, which later was remitted on condition that the sum be expended for auto tickets, which was done and one of these secured the auto.

Twenty-five members of Company H, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., went to the Los Angeles range today to engage in target practice, to select representations for the regimental shoot next month.

D. W. Coate, the local Pacific Electric ticket agent and an enthusiastic Shriner, has on exhibition a collection of Shriner badges. Out of 92 shrines in the United States, he has badges of 93 of them, and expects to add several to the collection this week.

The Mozart Glee Club, comprising thirty young people of Alamitos, has organized and elected the following officers: President, Herbert L. Frazier; vice-president, Harry Beck; secretary, Myrtle Haller; treasurer, Loren Brady. The club will rehearse Elliott Trowbridge's oratorio, "Peace of Jerusalem" for production in the near future.

The dredger at work on the West Naples south canal is within 200 yards of the Belmont Heights Bluff, and with no accidents will reach the horseshoe bend and start on the north canal within the next two weeks.

The local G.A.R. Post has invited all patriotic organizations to participate in Memorial Day exercises on May 30. In memory of the sailor dead, flowers will be strewn upon the waves from off the pier, while in the City Park a monument will be decorated in memory of the unknown dead. A programme will be given at the Auditorium in the afternoon.

The offices of the secretary of the Wilmington Dock Company have been removed from Long Beach to Wilmington.

The Long Beach programme for the Shriners, who will be here Thursday, includes a concert by the Royal Italian Band in the Auditorium, ocean rides and automobile tours, exhibition drill by the life-saving crews, exclusive possession of the bath-house, continuous lunch in the sun parlor, brilliant illumination of pier-Auditorium, beach and buildings, concert and dance in auditorium in the evening.

The Ebell Society has elected Mrs. A. C. Babcock a delegate to the Jamestown Exposition. She will represent the Ebell at the Peace Day session, which is to be held during the early part of June.

In the month of April, City Recorder Hart had thirty-one cases with fines collected amounting to $193.50. Of the cases tried twenty-eight were for drunkenness.

Election of officers for 1907-08 of the student body of the High School will be held Tuesday afternoon, and some effective wire-pulling is being done by young, aspiring politicians.

Alfred Morris, president of the Santa Monica City Council, accompanied by Councilmen Miles and Armstrong, was in the city yesterday inspecting the local sewer system and the septic tanks to get pointers for use in their own sewage troubles.

The Y.M.C.A. Glee Club has effected a permanent organization and elected officers thus: President, F. S. Young; vice-president, J. Boyle; secretary, F. C. Foote; treasurer, C. F. Iredell; librarian, S. Hubbell. The club contemplates a minstrel rendition of old-time popular songs.

The Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company has asked the City Trustees to vacate the westerly end of Pacific boulevard, which, as shown on the plat maps, runs across the site of the Craig ship plant. The Trustees in return have asked the dock company for a street along the north side of the Salt Lake tracks. The two propositions are in conference.

Fifteen hundred people today attended the special concert of the Royal Italian Band, which had as a special feature three numbers by Miss Isabelle Curl, a Los Angeles soloist and a favorite in Long Beach.

WELLMAN AND PEARY.

JEALOUSY WILL PROMOTE THEIR BEST ENDEAVORS.

One of Them Will Probably Reach the Desired Goal Before They Again Return from the Far North. Personal Characteristics of Wellman and His Expedition.

Walter Wellman started from Washington for the north pole this week. Lieut. Robert E. Peary got two years' leave from the navy department to begin his dash. It is airship versus dog sled in what is probably the last act of this Arctic drama, for one of them will undoubtedly reach the goal this time. Their rivalry is spurred by a strong personal feeling that exists between the two.

Wellman has persuaded a public at first inclined to scoff that he means business with his airship experiment, and he can convince most people with whom he talks that the flying chance is better than the dog sled method. Peary's last expedition was the best organized of any that ever tried the old method and he got within sprinting distance of the pole, only to find the ice open. No experience or precaution that he can take will guarantee him an advance on his next trial to a point as far north as he reached then. On the other hand luck may favor him for once and give him the solid frozen pathway straight to the glory of success.

Wellman must sail 600 miles to reach the pole and 600 miles to return. No dirigible balloon has ever made more than 100 miles up to the present time. But Wellman has a ready explanation for that and an argument that sounds reasonable as to why his airship will break all records. It is worth noticing that he will carry a wireless apparatus with him, to connect with the one established at his jumping off station. Wellman does not have much to say about that wireless outfit he is to carry with him. The grim purpose of it is to report his reaching the pole to the world if he finds that he can't get back. That sort of thing rather stirs the blood, when you stop to think what it means.

THE LAST ASSIGNMENT.

In years he is no boy, this man Wellman, who starts out so gayly on his perilous adventure. He is fifty, or more, grizzled of hair and heavy mustache, bent in the shoulders and lame from having a leg caught and frozen in the polar ice some years ago. He peers forward through glasses that are a necessity to him and walks usually with a cane. But he has a big, powerful physique still, and the heart and daring spirit of a boy, the laugh of one, and if you see the eyes behind the glasses you find the courage and imagination and romance of youth in them.

Walter Wellman has won a success as a newspaper man that most of even that restless, nervously ambitious crew would be willing to settle back upon, satisfied to count it sufficient as a life's work. At least one would expect him to remain in his chosen field here at Washington, reaping the fruit of his experience and prestige in such ripe observations as the world would delight to read. And Wellman can write just that sort of stuff, the kind that makes you turn your back on a popular novel. Moreover no door is closed to him. He has not only been the confidant of presidents, of cabinet members and diplomats, but their welcome adviser. President Roosevelt gives him credit for picking George Bruce Cortelyou to manage the 1904 campaign. And he kept his point of view sufficiently detached to publish the sharpest roast on this choice of his during that campaign that the sphinx like Cortelyou ever squirmed under.

But Wellman decided that he had wrested from fate the full measure of success this field held for him. His prestige could mount no higher here, and his best work would be accepted as a matter of course. So he asked for an order to find the North Pole. His publisher gave him the assignment and a blank check. If he finds it, and comes back, it will be to lecture and write books and wear medals and enjoy such glory as will satisfy even his appetite. If he finds it and has to use the wireless apparatus to report his discovery to the world, if that "30" which is the newspaper signal for the end of everything comes ticking out of the icy air at the end of his story, he will still have written his name so deep in fame's temple tablets that all the daring of all the future ages will be able to read it plainly there. This man Wellman is showing us the apotheosis of the reporter.

"GOOD SPORT, POLE HUNTING."

"It strikes me as a good sporting venture, this trying to reach the pole, if you put it on no higher ground," said Wellman, talking with some friends the night he left for New York to sail for Europe. "People often ask me why any one wants to hunt for the pole. Of course there are scientific and geographic reasons enough, but it is a good sporting venture beside. Men devote their lives to racing horses, to yachting, to golf, they back baseball and yell themselves hoarse over football. Now a dash for the pole has all the elements of interest that these have, and, when you have reached it, if you do, there is something accomplished of a lasting nature. It is sufficiently exciting to stir the most sluggish blood. Here is Lieut. Peary, for instance, trying for the same goal. He puts confidence in his methods and I in mine. Let the best man win, say I," and Wellman drained his glass to that toast.

"I know that no dirigible balloon has covered more than 100 miles, and, on the face of it, my plan to cover 1200 miles in one sounds rather impracticable, perhaps. But it is not. Men who have experimented with dirigible balloons have not been seeking distance records, but speed. They drove their cars twenty-five or thirty miles an hour, with no regard for waste of fuel or care for carrying capacity. They were trying to solve the dirigible-balloon problem. To us this is only incidental. We have planned an airship with an eye single to making a long voyage in her. We are content with fifteen miles an hour speed, but we have a carrying capacity of between nine and ten tons, and of this three tons is petrol for the engines. We have discovered as a result of carefully-conducted observations during a long period, that there is no such thing as prevailing winds in the region through which we must fly. As far as the wind is concerned we have an absolutely fair chance. We have no reason to expect any extended period of such winds as will defeat our errand.

"There is a sort of tradition that at the pole we will find a perfect maelstrom of winds, whirling outward from the earth's surface, and men who hold this belief have warned me quite seriously against this. But I have not been able to discover that there is any ground for their opinion. "Our effort is the most practical, common-sense sort of an experiment you can imagine, and I think the chances are all in our favor."

Wellman's huge, cigar-shaped bag has suspended from it a steel car. One part of the outfit is an equipment of twenty-five dogs and the necessary sleds in case the explorers find them necessary. A feature of space economy is the use of the drag rope to pack some of the supplies.

MORE AUTO RACING.

Stars of Present Meet Will Compete Again Sunday—Two Open Events for Stock Cars.

Next Sunday there will be automobile racing again at Agricultural Park. Barney Oldfield, Bruno Selbel and Harhis Hanshue, the stars of yesterday's meet, will be there to make attempts on world's records, and it is probable that old "999" will be in commission by that time. The old car which has had such a history, will be thoroughly overhauled this week in the Burks-Gemmell shops, and it is expected that it will be put in shape in time to compete. With a week to get the "Reo Bird" in shape, and the appearance of a fourth contestant for honors, there should be some good racing.

In addition there will be another fifty-mile event for stock cars, but it will be an open event, the only requirement being that the cars shall be stock and carry four passengers. There will also be another open runabout event, and already there have been entered some of the fastest runabouts in Southern California.

This will be the last appearance of Barney Oldfield, as he is going North to take part in a race meet at Fresno on May 18 and 19.

FLAMES TAKE RIALTO HOTEL.

MORNING FIRE DESTROYS TOURIST STRUCTURE.

House Is Filled With Guests, but They Easily Escape With All of Their Effects—Furniture of Hostelry Is Saved—Lack of Water Pressure Handicaps Firemen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIALTO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This town was visited by another disastrous fire this morning which resulted in the complete destruction of its splendid tourist hotel.

The Hotel Del Rialto was a three-story structure of thirty-five rooms, costing in the neighborhood of $20,000. The building was owned by W. M. Buxton and insured for $3500. The fire started shortly after 8 o'clock in the west side of the structure on the second floor, presumably from a defective flue. The flames burned slowly, requiring three hours to reduce the building.

Lack of water pressure and shortness of hose are declared to be responsible for the fire department's fruitless efforts. Rialto secures its water from a reservoir fed from Lytle Creek. The water mains which are infantile in size, gave such a pitifully small stream that the firemen were compelled to stand and see the building slowly reduced.

Every room was occupied by guests, but all easily escaped with all their effects and every article of furniture was saved. Buxton was the heaviest loser in the fire which, Thursday destroyed the packing-house of the Rialto Orange Company.

WILL STUDY EUCALYPTI.

Riverside Man Going to Algiers to See What French Government Is Doing.

RIVERSIDE, May 5.—On a mission to investigate the work carried on by the French government in its eucalyptus plantations at Algiers, F. P. Hosp will leave Saturday for a four months' trip abroad. Mr. Hosp will go in the interest of the Santa Fé Railway Company, which has made arrangements to plant a large tract near Oceanside to eucalypti for railway ties. Mr. Hosp, who is the company's landscape gardener for Southern California, will have charge of the selection and planting of the trees. Before going to Algiers he will spend some time in Germany, France and Italy.

About a dozen of Mr. Hosp's fellow-members of the Fidelia singing society of Los Angeles came to Riverside last evening to participate in a little farewell saengerfest at his home and to wish him bon voyage.

WED BEFORE BENEDICTION.

Before the pastor of the First Methodist Church pronounced the benediction at the close of the service this morning, the organ pealed a wedding march and Miss Louie McClelland and George H. Martin advanced to the altar. The marriage service was read by Rev. E. J. Inwood. The bride wore a wedding gown of white silk, with veil, and carried white carnations. The young couple will make their home in Riverside, after a week's honeymoon at Sierra Madre.

NO THIRD PAPER LIKELY.

The unexpected move of the recently-organized Daily Journal Company, in purchasing the capital stock of the Enterprise Company, removes the prospect of a third daily paper in Riverside. H. H. Monroe, former editor of the Enterprise, is one of the pioneer newspaper men of Riverside. He will now enjoy a year's rest, after continuous application to newspaper work here for twenty-one years. He and G. L. Olds, who jointly owned the stock of the Enterprise company, have already given possession to the new owners.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, May 5.—One of the town butchers has been brought to terms and has agreed to deliver meat again to the housewives of this city. About three weeks ago the proprietors of the local meat markets announced that on account of the additional expense incurred by selling only goverament inspected meats they would suspend delivery. The housewives were angered and turned their patronage with the result stated.

The meeting of the trustees from Ontario and Upland school districts, for the purpose of organizing a Union High School Board, ordered for yesterday afternoon by County Superintendent McPherson was stopped through the suit brought by Charles Frankishe, against the trustees of the two districts in the Superior Court last Wednesday. Until this temporary injunction has either been discharged or made permanent nothing further can be done in the matter.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah May Quibell was held at the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Quibell was 58. She had been for twelve years a prominent church worker. She leaves six children, four daughters and two sons.

Horace Little, a lemon grower who was at one time known as the Southern California lemon king, has sold his ten-acre Lisbon lemon ranch on West Eighth street to E. Maag of Salt Lake City. A six-room bungalow, barn and outbuildings on the land are included in the transaction. The crop is retained by Mr. Little. The consideration is stated at $16,000.

DEDICATE CEMETERY.

Members of the New Jewish Congregation Take Part in an Impressive Ceremony.

Many of the Jewish people of Los Angeles, including nearly the congregation of the Synagogue Beth Israel, gathered at the cemetery of the congregation yesterday afternoon, to attend its dedication. There were addresses in Yiddish, English and German.

By subscriptions, to which the most of the members have given, the debt of the cemetery has been taken up. This made the occasion one for sanguine feeling. After the addresses, refreshments were served outside the cemetery, and it was late in the afternoon before the guests went home.

The cemetery is beyond the end of the Euclid-avenue car line. From the terminus, automobiles carried the guests to its gates. When they had gathered there, they listened to the following speakers:

Besides the members of the congregation, there were present a number of people from other Jewish congregations who have by donation helped in the establishment of the cemetery. The amounts of individual sums given were announced. Even those in the least prosperous circumstances had contributed what they were able, and almost every one was represented on this list.

PICKPOCKETS BEGIN.

While J. B. Smith, of No. 783 Central avenue, was passing along Broadway Saturday night, a pickpocket secured his purse containing about $17. Smith did not discover the loss until he had returned home. He reported the case to the police yesterday.

Fiesta-Shriner Souvenir.

The Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House will issue an elegant pictorial souvenir of the carnival week's display. It will have complete pictures of all the beautiful floats, and will also contain the portraits of many prominent Shriners. Will be out about May 9. Leave orders at No. 119 North Broadway.

Fiesta Week—20 Cents.

The Times will be delivered by carrier anywhere in Los Angeles, or sent postpaid to any address in the United States during the seven days of the Fiesta-Shriner celebration, May 8 to 11, inclusive, for 20 cents. Besides all the news of the world, each issue will contain, full illustrated descriptions of the previous day's events.

Remember, this remedy contains no salicylic acid, no opium, cocaine, morphine or other harmful drugs. It is put up under the guarantee of the Pure Food and Drug Act, but my guarantee I consider the best. Try the remedy, and if you are not satisfied bring the empty bottle to me and I will refund your money.

If You Are Sick

It is because some of the organs of the body are not doing their work well. There is a lack of that nervous energy that gives them motion. Consequently you are weak, worn-out, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, indigestion, etc. because there is not sufficient nerve force to keep the organs active and allow them to perform their natural functions. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores health because it restores this nervous energy.

"I have been sick for a year, and did not know what was the matter with me. I tried many remedies and none of them proved of any value. I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I procured a bottle, and before I had taken half of it I was better. I would have had nervous prostration if I had not got this medicine when I did. I continued to take it until I was entirely well. I have since recommended it to five of my lady friends, and they have all thanked me for doing so, for it benefited them all."

MRS. ROSE OTTO,
189 S. 3d St., Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

BETHLEHEM'S ANNIVERSARY.

INSTITUTION'S UNIQUE SERVICE AT AUDITORIUM.

Music of All Nations Resounds at Celebration of Dana Bartlett's Eleventh Year in This Energetic Work—Very Large Audience and Unusual Programme.

Dana Bartlett's celebration of the eleventh anniversary of his work in the Bethlehem institutions, which took place yesterday afternoon at the Auditorium, was as unique as his spirited and successful enterprises.

The formal round of speech-making, the succession of tiresome panegyrics, the recounting of well-known history—all these were banished, and instead came a practical demonstration of the wideness and far-reaching appeal of this worthy work.

Mr. Bartlett called it a "musical service of all nations," but it was really more, for it grouped in one congregation tribes of almost every creed under heaven, a progressive body going energetically forward—not to sectarianism or partisanship, but to good American citizenship.

The wide reaches of the huge Auditorium audience chamber were practically filled with people, on every floor.

Judge Curtis W. Wilbur presided, and on the platform with him were Mr. Bartlett, Rev. Dr. Nicholas T. Edwards, associated in the Bethlehem work, and Fev. Dr. Warren F. Day. Other stage seats were occupied by a band of dainty little Mongolian children, by the Bethlehem orchestra, and by various solo performers in the afternoon's programme.

The first number on the list was Cecetka's "Bethlehem" march, after which Miss Ethel Parker, an English girl, sang "Rule Brittania." Miss Josie Chavez then gave a solo in Spanish, singing with a beautifully used voice, and being heartily applauded.

The first novelty of the afternoon came with the Syrian harp solo of Necolas Reyes, given in native costume, and upon an instrument which looked like a huge mandolin—probably one of the small sort grown in the rich soils and propitiating weather of Southern California.

Herr Marcel Katz, cantor of the Sinai congregation, was heard—unaccompanied—in a melody of the synagogue. Not only was this difficult to sustain, lacking its support on instruments of any sort, but the range was very unusual. Mr. Katz's number, indeed, might be considered the most artistic effort of the whole afternoon.

A quartette of young Chinese then worked carefully through a familiar Christian hymn, followed by Mrs. Nishikawa, a pretty little Japanese woman, in a kioto solo. This instrument, borne in by ushers, was a cross between a harp and a xylophone, and was picked—in typically Celestial violation of the laws of harmony—by the ivory-sheathed fingers of the wee lady.

The third part was a flag presentation, with the gray-haired Stanton Fife and Drum Corps furnishing stirring and well-marked melody. In front of the stage were grouped patrons of the institution by nationalities—Japanese, Russian, Spanish, Chinese, and so on, and the presentation was marked by rousing racial demonstrations.

The afternoon concluded with a children's patriotic drill, conducted by Violet McMartin.

In a very brief and modest speech, Mr. Bartlett outlined the work of the institution, recounted its progress and told with evident enthusiasm of his hopes for the future.

SUSPECTS GATHERED IN.

Authorities in San Francisco Send List of Crooks and Two Are Arrested.

John Buchanan and M. H. McGee were arrested yesterday and are booked at Central Station on suspicion. The men are said to be two of the most clever pickpockets on the Coast. The names of the two men, with their records and a description of each were sent from San Francisco a few days ago. Information that the pair would attend the Fiesta led to the arrest.

There is no charge which can at present be lodged against the men, but they will be kept in jail until after the festivities of Fiesta week and will then be sent out of town. The men are said to be members of a notorious thieves' gang which has operated in New York, Chicago and in San Francisco. The special opportunities offered to crooks during the Fiesta is said to have attracted them here.

The names of four other men who are suspected of being here on thieves' errands are also in the hands of the police. An extra squad of detectives is at work and the quartette will be gathered in if found. The determination of the police is to rid the city of all objectionable characters and in accordance with this plan many arrests were made yesterday. Though some of the men taken in will undoubtedly be released, the jail will be crowded until after the Shriners leave if the present campaign continues.

FOSDICK-RANEY WEDDING.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Darrows, No. 25 Magnolia avenue, Long Beach, last evening, Miss Maud Fosdick of Brockton, Mass., and G. E. Raney, a Long Beach real estate man, were married. The bride wore a beautiful gown of hand-embroidered mull and the slippers in which her grandmother was married. She carried a large bouquet of violets, and wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair. After an extensive trip, Mr. and Mrs. Raney will make Long Beach their home.

The Fiesta-Shriner Celebration.

Los Angeles will have the greatest number of visitors during this fiesta that has ever been entertained here, and those in charge are aiming to make the celebration the greatest ever. The floral parade will eclipse all past efforts. The night electrical show promises to be beautiful and attractive. The Shriner parades will excel, and the whole city will be beautifully decorated in flowers and the official colors of the fiesta. The Times will describe all the events in the most effective and attractive way possible. Many beautiful illustrations of special features will be printed from day to day. Loyal citizens of Southern California can show friends in the East and elsewhere how such things are done in Los Angeles by sending them copies of The Times during fiesta week. The great Fiesta-Shriner Number, to be issued May 11, will be mailed to any address, postage prepaid, for 10c, or the full fiesta week subscription, including this number, for 25c.

Asthma of 28 Years Cured

Los Angeles, Cal.
April 2, 1907.

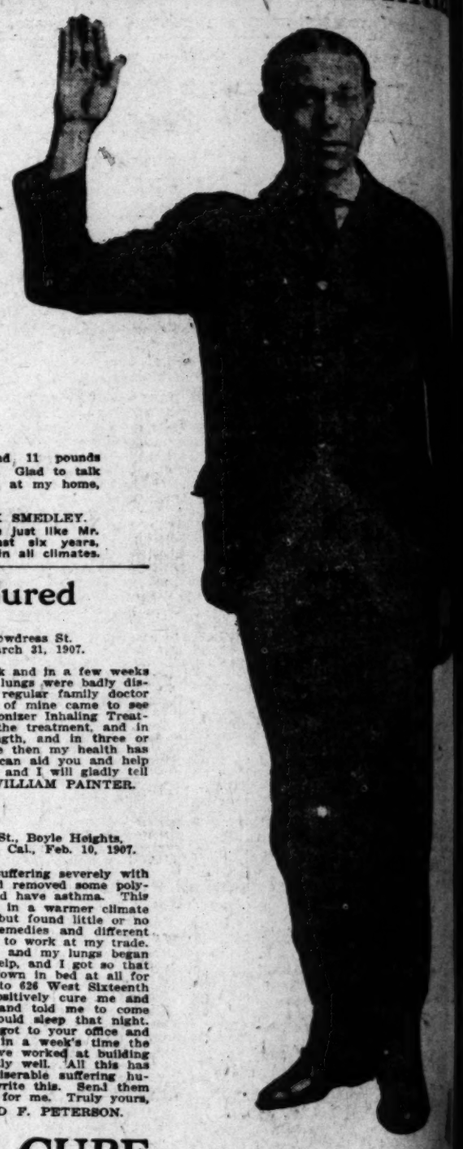
The Bensonizer Cure:

Twenty-eight years ago, while living in Michigan, I was attacked with asthma, and soon the doctors said, "Go West." I went to Montana and went into the sheep business so as to be outdoors all the time. Since then I have tried all climates with the result of gradually growing worse. Got no relief from the many different so-called asthma remedies. Last fall I went to Arizona, but could not stay there and came to this city. Here the severe winter nearly killed me; so that for weeks I could not lie down to sleep. I don't think any person ever suffered like I did. It seemed for weeks as though every breath would be my last. In this fearful condition I came across Mr. Peterson, whom you cured, and he induced me to try your wonderful cure. And God bless you, from the first day I have had no more suffering and have slept like any well person. What a boon to suffering humanity your great treatment is. I am willing and ready to proclaim it from the housetops and have written to many of my acquaintances to come to you and get cured. Happy to say that several have already got the great relief that I have.

Truly yours,
THOMAS WIMSETT.

Thousands of cures made just like Mr. Wimsett's during the past six years, living all over the east, in all climates.

Tuberculosis and Asthma



I was a One-Lunger and Asthmatic for six long, miserable years. Left so by two severe attacks of typhoid pneumonia, which left my right lung solid. I had the best medical talent in Philadelphia, my home. I paid these doctors $2800 and then I hunted health resorts from the Atlantic to the Pacific, gradually working my way to the grave. I finally landed in Los Angeles over a year ago. Here, last December, I found the BENSONIZER INHALING CURE, and today I am as well as any man in the world. Have gained 41 pounds in flesh and work hard every day, breathe natural, eat and sleep splendidly, no cough and 11 pounds heavier than ever before. Glad to talk to any one after 6 p.m., at my home, 1337 Maple avenue.

Truly yours,
J. FRANK SMEDLEY.

Thousands of cures made just like Mr. Smedley's during the past six years, living all over the east, in all climates.

Quick Consumption Cured
Three Years Ago

3442 Powdreas St.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 31, 1907.

The Bensonizer Cure:

Three years ago while living in St. Louis, Mo., I was very sick and in a few weeks the doctors said I had quick consumption and that both of my lungs were badly diseased. I was helpless in bed at the very beginning and our regular family doctor gave me up, saying there was no help for me. A lady friend of mine came to see me and told us that her husband was cured by using the Bensonizer Inhaling Treatment. My husband went at once to your office and secured the treatment, and in a week I began to improve and gradually recovered my strength, and in three or four months my cough and expectoration ceased entirely. Since then my health has been perfect. We moved to this city last September and if I can aid you and help other sufferers to the cure of this fearful scourge use my name and I will gladly tell anyone what you did for me.

MRS. WILLIAM PAINTER.

Asthma Cured

210 South Indiana St., Boyle Heights,
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 10, 1907.

The Bensonizer Cure:

Six years ago, while living in Council Bluffs, Iowa, I was suffering severely with chronic nasal catarrh and the doctors operated on my head and removed some polypus from my nose, and soon thereafter I began to choke up and have asthma. This horrible disease drove me to California, the doctors saying that in a warmer climate I would not suffer from asthma. I came here five years ago, but found little or no relief and gradually grew much worse, trying all kinds of remedies and different doctors until the last year I was in constant distress and unable to work at my trade. This fall, when wet weather began, I was in horrible condition, and my lungs began to fill up. My family physician told my wife that I was past help, and I got so that I could not sleep nor eat and coughed terribly. Could not lie down in bed at all for fear of choking to death. This was my condition when I went to 626 West Sixteenth street. Upon examination your specialist told me he could positively cure me and could give me immediate relief. He gave me one inhalation and told me to come back in the afternoon and get two more treatments and I would sleep that night. I could not walk alone at this time, but with my wife's help I got to your office and that night I slept and ever since I have had no trouble, and in a week's time the doctors said I could go to work. And for the past month I have worked at building my house harder than I have ever worked, and remain perfectly well. All this has been done since December 19, 1906. Hoping to help other miserable suffering humanity to guide them to this wonderful cure, prompts me to write this. Send them all to me and let them see for themselves what you have done for me. Truly yours,

FRED F. PETERSON.

A FLASH IN THE NIGHT.

It Reunited Old College Friends Who Had Been Separated for Fifteen Years.

It was 2 o'clock in the morning when an automobile packed with Nobles of the Mystic Shrine sped along the cool sands by the moaning sea at Ocean Park. Suddenly there was a cry in the darkness.

"Halt!" came the command.

The automobile stopped. Suddenly there was a blinding flash, and all was over.

The automobile sped on and disappeared.

"That was a fine flash," chuckled the photographer, and he returned to his studio in Venice and developed the plate and printed the picture of the bunch of Nobles on souvenir postal cards.

One of the advance guard of the Ohio delegation of members of the Ancient Arabic Order is O. E. Monet, a well-known lawyer, and one of the first comrades he called upon was T. W. Robinson, librarian of the Law Library in the Merchants' Trust building.

Brother Robinson had received one of those postal cards with the pictures of the Nobles who had been held up. Monet saw it.

"By George!" he exclaimed, "if it didn't seem impossible, I could swear that one of those boys was an old college chum of mine, whom I haven't seen for fifteen years. I'd give a good-sized wad of money just to be able to take him by the hand again and say I have not forgotten him."

"Which one is it?" asked Robinson.

"That's the man—Kanton A. Miller."

With a wild whoop, Monet made a dive for the Law Library door.

A few minutes later and passengers in the elevator and in the big corridors heard funny sounds coming from the offices of Smith, Miller & Phelps. It sounded something like a half-dozen men all talking at once with an occasional joyful yell on the side.

No time to write letters to friends to let them know what a great time you are having in Los Angeles. WHICH ARE WHICH?

"Jolly Bunches" and "Good Shriners" Are Hard to Distinguish Away from the Ladies.

The "Jolly Bunches" are here, so are the "Good Shriners." It is hard to say which are in the majority, although it is probable that the "Good Shriners" have a little the best of it. Yet all are jolly.

But in preparation by Miss L. L. Whitlock of the Travel and Hotel Bureau, No. 207 West Third street, who has had charge of the placing of all the visitors, the Jolly Bunches and the Good Shriners have run a neck and neck race.

About every other letter received by Miss Whitlock in regard to rooms has stated that a "Jolly Bunch" was coming, so "Please do the best you can for us."

Every alternate letter, apparently, asserted that the writer was going to bring his wife with him like a "Good Shriner," and wanted to be treated accordingly.

But really it's awful hard to tell who are the "Jolly Bunches," and who the "Good Shriners," when the ladies are away.

OVER BURNING SANDS TO MYSTIC SHRINE.

Pilgrimage Beset With Perils by Way, but Hope Still Sustains.

Great Mystery of How Nobles of the Ancient Arabic Order Are Made Is Now Explained—Stirring Tale of the Wonderful Journey From Oasis to Oasis With a Passing Peep at Paradise.

MAKING a noble of the Mystic Shrine is a serious proposition. The secret is out. It is not to be approached in accomplishment with a spirit of levity. There is a certain mysticism about the operation which is impressive, especially to the seeker after wisdom and honors.

Among the things which are absolutely necessary in the ambitious commoner who desires to be a real noble is nerve. And there also must be some money, the real Uncle Sam dross, simon-pure mint-marked coin of the realm. Japanese counterfeits don't go.

Mist, Mystic, Mystery, Mysterious.

It is this hazy uncertainty which fascinates the victim. When his initiation is all over the new Noble of the ancient Arabic order is in a position where the joy of life is to inveigle his best friend into passing the ordeal of the Mystic Shrine. Sometimes they remain friends. That is when they have a mutual friend who is not a Noble, but might be persuaded to become one.

DAYS OF FABLE.

In ancient times back in Arabia, where the dinky oasis accentuates the hot sands of the deserted desert, the original Nobles arranged the ceremony of initiation. In those days it needed a clear conscience to pass the ordeal successfully. But those were the days of fable.

Here is one of the legends which has come down through the ages anent the initiation of a bad man; it is from the "Origin and History of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine."

"But still does he his innocence protest. The frowning council grant one last privilege, a final proof to justify his plea by his Moslem faith. If so he dare, he advances alone to the sacred dais, and in token of his innocence embraces the Holy Nymph of Paradise, 'The Houri of the Shrine.'

"With joyous pace the victim hastens to the colossal statue, where in marvelous grandeur, by crafty hand beauteously carved in stone, with outstretched arms and saintly face, sweet with calm serenity, she stands, seeming even to pity from her throne. The mystic form he scarce embraces, when, quick as transit of a meteor, he finds his frail body wrapped as in a vice.

"Those horrid arms, with keen and triple-edged blades, nail him, powerless and quivering, to her lance-clad breast, with deadly and unerring power, until, crushed, carved and gory, the expiring form is rent asunder. The houri statue swerves apart, relaxing her fiendish grasp of stone, and hurls the riven victim deep into the engulfing trap below, where, grim, dark and loathsome, may be heard the distant and monotonous rippling of the turbid encarnadined waters, echoing from the eternal chasm of the dead. The tribunal has done its duty. Retribution has fallen upon the fated malefactor and the vengeance of the Shrine is satisfied."

WEAR JOYOUS SMILES.

But in these degenerate days there are no longer given such matinées. So, courage, Mr. Neophyte, and face the ordeal with as clear a conscience as possible and the consciousness that the Coroner is a real factor in modern civilization.

But though he may not be called upon to embrace a beauteous houri carved in stone, there are other things—not necessarily to embrace—which the pending Noble must face with that joyous smile which denotes the absorbtion of wisdom.

Step by step, with bated breath and beaded brow, the confident candidate is led across the burning sands of the hot desert from oasis to oasis. It is not always necessary to lead him with a halter.

At last he stands before the Mystic Shrine, the oriental curtain, patterned in mystic symbols, is rent asunder, revealed unto him are the deep and abiding mysteries and he does homage according to custom. Henceforth he is a Noble, and, if he is a noble Noble, some day he may aspire to be an Illustrious Rabban, a Noble Shareef, a Grand Sheik, or even a most Imperial Potentate.

"Es salamu aleikum!"

JOURNEY BEGINS.

Of course there are preliminaries. These may vary, but the ancient Arabic ritual is always the same.

With a cheerful countenance and a throbbing heart the candidate leaves his happy home and takes a trolley car—that is, the trolley car takes him—to the portals of the temple. In the ante-room he awaits his turn and repeats certain mystic Arabic words, such as, "Kuwat wa Ghadab," which meaneth, "Strength and Fury," the motto of the order.

He needeth the strength and he is conscious of the fury—when he taketh his degree.

At last his turn comes and he enters the mystic portals amid a sympathetic hush among the others.

Before him lies the desert.

It is a weary journey he steps, but as a Son of Arabia he must make his pilgrimage. Evidences of civilization are stripped from him. In oriental garb the neophyte starts over the burning sands. The ripple of zem-zem waters is as music in his ears, but his burning thirst is not quenched—not yet.

OVER HOT SANDS.

The sands grow hotter, but at last the first oasis is reached, within the shade of the palm leaf, out of the glare of the electric sun, he resteth his weary feet. There is another oasis in the distance and roaring lions await to devour him. He must verily be another Daniel.

Howling dervishes charge upon him, whirling in fantastic gyrations, and the sands grow still hotter. The distant oasis looks like a nice cool spot. The bubble of the zem-zem accompanied by a peculiar "pop" gives the weary pilgrim hope.

Suddenly he is surrounded by Bedouins of the desert and made a prisoner. He is blindfolded and his hands bound behind his back, until he is conducted before the dread tribunal. It is at this period that the halter comes into play. Meanwhile the desert sands grow hotter.

The oasis is reached at last and the embryo Noble is led before the divan of the tribunal of the temple. It is an awe-inspiring moment. The stone beauty only is missing.

MUST SHOW THEM.

Striking figures make up the personnel of the tribunal. The members are all from Missouri; they want to be shown. All the levity and ridiculous instincts of the candidate must be cast forth that he may emerge a Noble, pure and undefiled.

This process of "casting forth" is an illuminating one; not even the neophyte ever realized before how deep-rooted certain of his ridiculous prejudices were. Candidates have actually been known to object to standing on their heads and wiggling the scorched toes in the breeze; though really it is only habit.

Of course all Sons of Araby must prove their capacity to ride the renowned Arabian stallion. This is accomplished in various ways to the satisfaction of the tribunal. The would-be Noble looks forward to his ride later.

One of the hardest things the initiated is called upon to do is to make a noise like a camel. Unfortunately for the majority of them

AL MALAIKAH'S QUICK GROWTH.

Local Temple Too Big for Its Clothes.

New Auditorium Will End Its Wanderings.

First Pilgrimage Made Five Years Ago.

One of the hardest things with which Al Malaikah Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of this city has to contend, is its size.

It's like some children—not so very old, but with a persistent proclivity for growing out of its clothes.

Al Malaikah was born in 1888; wore its swaddling clothes in the Masonic Temple on Hill street; spent its childhood in the old Hazard's Pavilion; its youth in huge circus tents and seaside auditoriums, but unless the most unforeseen thing should happen, will reach its majority ensconced in its own beautiful home, with the buttons on far enough out to accommodate it into old age.

Temple Al Malaikah was instituted February 6, 1893, with thirty-one charter members. It grew rapidly, then phenomenally, and now has 2200 members. The Shrine has gathered under its wings pretty near every Mason breathout who has the time and the money "to burn."

It isn't all work and no play with the Shriners. The Shrine is nothing more nor less than an organization in which Masons may fraternize socially, upon common ground, bringing together the members of different lodges and localities. Its meetings consist of ceremonial sessions, called by the Potentate, and once a year a meeting for the election of officers. One of the rules is that the ceremonial sessions shall end with a banquet.

That looked easy when Al Malaikah had thirty-one members; it wasn't hard when they had grown to 131 members, or yet when this had been quadrupled, but it isn't hard to see what they are "up against" when the army of nobles has increased to 2200, with all attending every ceremonial session, and the same number bent on eating at the banquet table.

A private hall that will accommodate 2200 men and allow space for the exemplification of the secret ceremonies, is hard to find, and it is even harder to find a place where 1500 persons may sit down to the banquet table at one and the same time.

Last week they went down to Venice, and literally "crossed the burning sands," in their efforts to find a place large enough to accommodate them on the seashore.

Those conditions confronted the Shriners long ago, and it was their desire to have a great auditorium of their own completed in time for the session of the Imperial Council this year, but circumstances over which they had no control have led to their delay, and they only have the steel frame of the great building to show to visitors.

But they will show it, just the same, and smooth down the disappointment with the concomitant pleasures of the Venice bungalow, next door. The men of Al Malaikah began the project by providing for themselves a home on Jefferson and Royal streets, with the expectation of spending $100,000 on the enterprise, but as far as it has gone the money has been swallowed up in steel and brick, until it has become apparent that the limit will be doubled by the time the auditorium is completed and equipped. But when it is finished there will be no more skirmishing over the seashore dunes; no necessity for erecting tents big enough to accommodate a throng and then divide up into bunches for the purpose of the banquet. The auditorium will seat 8500 people when its floor is cleared for the banquet, 6000 may still sit and look on. As for the banquet, it will be set for several thousand plates.

Prior to the year 1902, when Fred A. Hines was Potentate of the temple, no representatives had ever been sent on pilgrimage to the meetings of the Imperial Council by Al Malaikah. That pilgrimage was held in San Francisco, Potentate Hines headed a party of 250 nobles, who went there with something of a swath with true Southern California hospitality. Returning in 1903, with Mr. Hines still in the saddle, a large party hired a special train of seven cars and went to the meeting at Saratoga, N. Y. That was things for Los Angeles, in a big way. They had an orchestra, a band, a buffet and—you know. And when the "boosters" put in their licks for bringing the Imperial Council to the City of the Angels now the nobles are here, and will find themselves in the hands of hosts.

SOUTHERN REPUBLIC REPRESENTED NOW.

President Porfirio Diaz, a Noble of Anezeh Temple, City of Mexico, and two of the principal officers. President Diaz is the only ruler of a country who ever wore a Shrine emblem. Mr. Maulsby arrived in the city early last week.

THE first ruler of any nation to wear the badge of the Mystic Shrine is President Diaz of Mexico. When Anezeh Temple was instituted in the City of Mexico, in January last, it was also the first temple outside of the United tSates, except Canada. There is one in Honolulu, but that is now part of our possessions. President Diaz was one of the candidates initiated by Imperial Potentate Clayton, at the institution of Anezeh Temple, and wears the Shrine pin among all his other sundry decorations.

OVER THE SANDS.

are unfamiliar with the mellifluous tones of the Ship of the Desert, but that makes no difference. They must talk Dromedary.

Even members of the Tribunal have been known to actually smile at the agony of the poor wretch before them. The latter regret their lost opportunities for learning Volapuk or Esperanto.

At last in sheer despair the victim subsides into silence. That is the only noise a camel ever makes. The test is a success.

But there are other oases to be passed and the burning sands of the desert seem to grow hotter with every step. But courage; once more is heard the murmur of the zem-zem waters. Some other wayfarer is being initiated into the last degree.

DEBRIS OF SUPERSTITIONS.

Chastened and meek in spirit the traveler becomes in a more and more proper frame of mind to approach the Mystic Shrine, goal of all his hopes. The desert sand is strewn with the débris of his gross superstitions and prejudices, they drip from his brow and fall off his heels into the footprints in the sands of the time of his life.

But a change presently comes over the spirit of the wayfarer when the next oasis is arrived at. Once more he is blindfolded and the gurgle of the zem-zem is music in his ears; the spray of the scented waters is in his face and its perfume tickles his nostrils, a yearning to drink of this water of life dominates him.

In solemn tones he is instructed in the ceremony of quenching his burning thirst. Dire consequences are predicted if the flowing zem-zem is not imbibed with a proper thankfulness to Allah and a peculiar swallowing process, mystic in its influence.

Into his outstretched, eager hands is placed a ponderous goblet brimming with a tasteless fluid, but which quenches. Few of them recognize the queer drink as H-2-O. With a deep breath the quaffer awaits results. They come.

HALF WAY TO PARADISE.

Suddenly the bandage is snapped from his head, he gazes upon a bower of gorgeous beauty; soft thrilling mystic music thrills in his ears; smiling faces of Houris from Paradise peek at him in friendly interest from the roses; fountains mingle their subdued murmurous voices with the unseen music; perfumed breezes cool his fevered brow; he gazes entranced. How far away the dim, dull, civilized world is.

Suddenly the ecstatic vision is wiped out by that miserable bandage. All is dark again, and once more the dreamer-awakened plods through the hot sands of the desert bound for another oasis, where some fate awaits him, mysterious, unknown, but to be faced with the calm carelessness of the true Moslem Son of the Desert.

But at last the weary pilgrim approaches the end of his journey, the Mystic Shrine is before him. Successfully he has passed the ancient ordeals and no Maiden of Stone has clasped him in her fatal embrace.

Into the inner temple he is conducted, the mystic lore of the centuries is explained to him and he adores the true Allah, the one God, the Compassionate. He is a Noble.

In all their exact provision the ancient esoteric rites are performed. Quoting once again from that precious and rare history of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, here is their explanation:

EXPLANATION OF RITUAL.

"These exemplifications are sought to embrace a diffuse portrayal of the gems of verities and sums of subtleties in Al Koran, replete with oriental symbolisms and impressive surroundings, impossible to all except the initiated of the Inner Tabernacle of the Moslem Shrine, under the dominion of the crescent. They are as ancient as the corner-stone of Mohammed's Temple at Mecca, as sacred as the Moslem oath that binds the tribes of Arabia to Allah, or their God, and are derived from the mythology in the deep and mysterious legends of the Koran.

"Its votaries are figuratively expected to accept the prophecy of the approaching millennium, the warning of the Ulema, and the appearance of Al Mahdi and the end of the world. Our most glorious attributes are to be exemplified, acquitting ourselves of all temporal thoughts, and preparing at any sacrifice to expiate all sin. We elucidate the embodiment and personification of the great Islam, with pageants, Zaims, defenders and retinue, followed by the wailing dervishes with sandaled feet, all amid the sweet perfumes of Arabia's incense, from the swinging censers and altars of sacrifice, with accompanying fervent music, deep, and austere, and yet a weird and mystic melody.

"We thus commemorate the inspired prophecy announced at Mecca centuries ago, with the transformation of 'The Adoration,' or 'The Keys of Secret Knowledge,' 'The Inevitable,' 'The Rending Asunder,' of Al Koran and the final individualism of the soul and the recognition of Allah the Most High: . . . And thus prepare ourselves and our disciples for reception into the unseen temple—the promised paradise."

"Es salamu aleikum."

"Aleikum es salaam."

HOW TO MIX A ZEM-ZEM.

Secret Told Inquisitive One by Shriner Friend—Keep It Dark.

"What is this zem-zem water that the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine drink?"

He had often heard of the famous zem-zem water and had quietly made a round of all the big wholesale houses for the purpose of laying in a stock and making his everlasting fortune. But the wholesalers just "passed him along."

Finally in despair he went to his Shriner friend and begged to be told the secret.

"Well, I'll tell you," said his friend. "But you must promise not to give me away, or I'll be fearfully punished by the Mystic Shrine."

"Mum's the word," he replied.

"All right. When you are asked for a little zem-zem just put a thimbleful of apricot brandy in a glass, a touch of old Jamaica rum, a dash of bitters, some cracked ice, pour over it a whisky glass of Scotch, and fizz in some seltzer—then run."

TIMELY DEFINITIONS

Extracts from Marshall's de luxe edition of Webster's Over-Revised Dictionery

"SPECULATIVE STOCK. A piece of paper giving an interest in something that doesn't exist and is never expected to exist. The SELLER is the only one having any chance to win, the buyer simply being an interested spectator and a mere contributor of real American dollars. For instance, stock issued for the published purpose of digging a hole in the ground (see definition of Gold Mines;) marketing 'inventions' that are valueless, even in the minds of their promoters and creators; and exploiting kindred three-day wonders. The Speculative Stock family is a large one and a firm disbeliever in race suicide. Speculative Stocks have a pernicious but alluring habit of 'soaring' in price over-night or while you wait, but it is always the soar of a bird with a clipped wing. The WISE man lets these stocks severely alone. They are extremely dangerous things to buy, easy things to sell, and represent the acme of perfection as a rapid and effective means of sending good money after bad."

"INVESTMENT STOCK. A piece of paper giving an interest in a legitimate business the profits from which are certain to regularly pay the purchaser a satisfactory dividend on money invested. Investment Stock is always more valuable when its issuance carries with it a partnership with men IN THE BUSINESS IN WHICH THEY HAVE SUCCEEDED. Sometimes the business of a corporation gets so large that additional working capital is necessary to take care of it, in which case Investment Stock is issued, the money received from the sale of which being immediately and exclusively used for this purpose. Take, for example, the

Marshall & Stearns Co. (Inc.)

6% Preferred Stock At $10 Par

This is a corporation that will do a cash business during 1907 of more than a quarter of a million dollars, and is calling for more working capital to erect its own manufacturing plant, enlarge its facilities and operate new agencies. The demand for its goods is tremendous, the profits from the orders NOW on hand being sufficient to pay, FOUR TIMES OVER, a 6 per cent. dividend both on the 10,000 shares of Preferred Stock offered for sale and on the 10,000 shares of Common Stock to be given AS A BONUS with the Preferred Stock sold, one share of Common Stock with each share of Preferred Stock. The Marshall & Stearns Co. stock is the IDEAL investment stock, and the safest proposition ever put before the business men of Los Angeles.

"It will, therefore, be seen that there is as much difference between Speculative Stock and Investment stock as between night and day."

STORY OF ROMANCE IS MYSTIC SHRINE'S.

Through Centuries It Has Existed to Inculcate Virtue — Its Phenomenal Growth in This Country Within a Few Years.

IN THE days of fiery fanaticism when the sword settled more mooted points of theology than did the pen, when the first ripple of Islamism spread from the burning deserts of Arabia to become a tidal wave of faith which submerged half the world, to be flung back in a spray of blood from the iron front of the Frankish warriors at the battle of Tours; in these first days, when to doubt was to die, a few broad-minded men in the cradle of Mohammedanism at Mecca joined in secret to perpetuate the cause of tolerance, to promote the worship of the One God, inculcate virtue and punish crime.

Thus, it is recorded, was organized the first Temple of the Order of the Mystic Shrine.

Battles for faith in the name of God are won now by other missionaries than those who went forth clad in steel over one thousand years ago, the nations of those days no longer exist and the world has changed.

But the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is still a power in the world, and thousands of the nobles of the order are gathering in Los Angeles to attend the Imperial Council of the order, as it exists in the Western Hemisphere.

BIRTH OF ORDER.

The twenty-fifth year of the Hegira, or flight of Mohammed, which corresponds to A.D. 644, is noted as the birth of the order, and was promoted by Kalif Alee, the son-in-law of the Prophet. With a few men of influence and culture, who deplored the rending of Arabia by political and religious factions, when law and the courts were of little account and the heavy hand ruled, Alee organized the first tribunal.

Originally the intent of this tribunal was to remedy wrongs, protect the widow and the orphan and to punish with swift, mysterous delath the wretch who had no fear of the law as it then existed.

The order spread with the conquest of the hosts of Islam. It was carried to Egypt by Ibraheem, the son of Alee, and there became an independent order, known as the Egyptian Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Membership in the order, wherever established, has been along tolerant lines. Christian, Israelite or Moslem, all were eligible, the sincere belief in God, Jehovah or Allah, the One God, under whatever name worshipped, being the one necessity of faith.

ANCIENT RITUAL.

To follow the history of the order would be to tell of the rise and fall of empires, but it was more or less intimately related to the life and thought of the educated men of Egypt, Arabia, Syria, Persia, Turkey and the East for centuries. It is even held now that the Mystic Shrine inherits a still older law and ritual, a relic, in part, of the Magi and sun-worshipers of Persia and Arabia, before Mohammed changed the course of history.

In America, the rise and spread of the order has been phenomenal. It has been intimately associated with the Masonic order, and to be a noble of the Mystic Shrine one must have taken certain degrees as a Knight Templar or be a thirty-second or thirty-third degree Mason of the Scottish Rite. This must be the apprenticeship or guarantee for a noble of this ancient order.

The manner in which the ritual of the Ancient Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was brought to the United States is a story of romance and interest.

William J. Florence (Billy) Florence, the comedian, is credited with bringing the first ritual to this country and with Dr. Walter M. Fleming, founding the Order here in New York. They organized Mecca Temple, the "Mother" of all the temples since organized in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

FIRST AMERICAN GLIMPSE.

As a high-degree Mason, Florence first saw a glimpse of the Mystic Shrine in Marseilles, France, in 1870. It was through his friendship with Yusef Churi, a famous orientalist, who introduced him to the Sultan, that Mr. Florence got a copy of the ritual in Arabic, which he had translated into French and again into English.

In a letter written in 1882, "Billy" Florence tells of his visit to the Temple of Bokhara in the French seaport city. He tells of his introduction to the hall where the ceremonies were to take place, and of the distinguished men gathered there. Continuing he writes:

"The illustrious Potentate of the evening was the celebrated Yusef Churi Bey, and the temple was called Bokhara Shrine. Shayk Yusef had visited Bokhara, where he was made a member of the Mystic Shrine in that famous city of the Persians, and brought away a hastily-written sketch of the ritual and laws of the order.

"It would be impossible to give a complete narrative of the ceremonies of that communication of the Nobles of Bokhara Shrine, and I must content myself with a mere outline. The costumes were exact duplicates of oriental patterns brought from Persia by Yusef Bey. In his long service as an attaché of the Persian Consulate he had seen many countries, and profited by studies and observations in each, and was, therefore, well fitted to conduct such an institution.

MAGIC TRANSFORMATION.

"The furniture of the temple was the most peculiar I ever saw, and must have been gotten up by some one well skilled in stage scenery, for there were well contrived dramatic effects, representing the sandy seashore, the rough, rocky hillside, the gloomy cavern, the solemn tomb, and a transformation scene which was at first a cemetery full of tombs and monuments inscribed with the names of the departed, with epitaphs on their virtues and worth, when in an instant, the lights having been lowered, the scene changed to a sumptuous banqueting hall, with small tables for groups of three, five, seven and nine."

In Algiers, Mr. Florence found the Shrine of the Mogribins meeting every Friday with Abu Mohammed Baki as the shayk or potentate. Speaking of this shrine, Mr. Florence writes:

"The costumes and furniture of the Shrine in Algiers were gorgeous in silk, wool, and fine linen, decorated with embroidery in gold, silver and colors, and the sword, spears, and other articles used by the guards and the officers in the work were genuine steel, many of which had been in actual service in the field of battle.

"The Shrine is referred to by the Moslems generally as 'The Order of the Unwritten Law,' in distinction from 'The Written Law,' which is the Koran."

At another time Mr. Florence, shortly before he died, wrote that "I was the first to introduce the Order in America. Dr. Fleming amplified and perfected the work."

TEMPLE ORGANIZED.

Dr. Walter M. Fleming, who was the real organizer of Mecca Temple in New York, adds to the information of the founding of the Shrine in the United States. Speaking of the work of Mr. Florence he says:

"It was in Algiers and Aleppo that he was received into the inner temple under the domain of the crescent, and first became possessor of the esoteric work the 'unwritten law,' and the shayk's obligation. Subsequently he visited Cairo, Egypt, and was admitted and collected more of oriental history and the manuscript of 'Memorial Ceremonials.' But Mr. Florence was never fully recognized or possessed of authority until long after his return to America. All he possessed was a disconnected series of sheets in Arabic and French, with some marginal memoranda made by himself from verbal elucidation in Aleppo. Through Prof. Albert L. Rawson, these, with others, received afterwards through correspondence abroad, comprised the translations from which the order started here. Mr. Florence and myself received authority to introduce the order in America."

On September 26, 1872, Mecca Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was instituted as the first temple of the order in this country. Dr. Fleming was chosen the presiding officer, who is called the "Shayk, or Ancient," also the illustrious potentate.

THE FIRST NOBLES.

The members of this first temple were, besides Dr. Fleming and William J. Florence, Edward Eddy, John W. Simons, Sherwood C. Campbell, Oswald Merle d'Aubigne, James S. Chappell, John A. Moore, Charles T. McClenachan, Albert P. Moriarty, Daniel Sickels, George W. Millar, William S. Paterson and Albert L. Rawson, all of them thirty-second or thirty-third degree Masons.

It was not until 1876 that the Imperial Council for North America was organized and the first officers were elected, as in Arabia, for three years. Dr. Fleming was the first imperial potentate and held the office for twelve years. William S. Paterson was the first imperial recorder. Since that time subordinate temples have been chartered in nearly every State and everywhere the membership is composed of the best citizenship of the land.

The year after the organization of the imperial council saw the first pilgrimage, which was made to Albany. Since then the pilgrimages of the Shriners have become famous, and not the least of them will be the present one to Los Angeles. This is the second pilgrimage to the Pacific Coast, the first being made to San Francisco in 1883, which was the first time in which the families of the nobles accompanied the party, a custom ever since maintained.

Last year the pilgrimage was to have been held in this city, but on account of the earthquake in San Francisco, the then imperial potentate prohibited the meeting. But now all concerned propose to make up for it in double measure under the guidance of famous Al Malaikah Temple of Los Angeles.

The distinguishing insignia of the nobles of the Mystic Shrine consist in a pin and a fez. The pin is in the form of an inverted crescent of any substance, but preferably made of two tiger's claws joined and bound in gold, surmounted by a scimitar. Many of these pins are elaborate works of the jeweler's art set with precious gems. They have an esoteric meaning.

The fez is a common Arabic headdress and with the nobles is lettered with the name of the temple to which they owe allegiance. This cap takes its name from Fez, the capital of Morocco, to which the African tribes of Islam journeyed on pilgrimage when their pilgrimages to Mecca were interrupted by the Crusades. Consequently all Shriners wear the fez on a pilgrimage.

"THE TIMES" STORY OF GAY FIESTA WEEK.

HISTORY of a most entertaining nature is to be made in Los Angeles and hereabouts during this gay week of the Fiesta and of the Imperial Council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

For those who do not keep a daily journal, the recording of the week's events will be a hopeless task, while those who attempt to write letters home, telling of their reception and of the happenings of the week—well, it is not hard to imagine how well they will succeed when about eighteen hours out of every twenty-four they are here will be crowded full of "doings."

But there is no need for anyone to worry over these matters. There is a way for them to do all the things that have been mentioned—to share their pleasures with those who cannot be here, and to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent in the events of the week.

The way is this: On Saturday, May 11, the closing day of the Fiesta and of the Shrine festivities, there will be issued the big and attractive special number of The Times, in which the history of the week will be given in full detail. The doings of the Shriners will be told in picture and type from the time they arrive until the eve of their departure, and the beauties of the Fiesta will be set forth in all their glory by writers and artists and photographers.

The scenes of the week are to be presented in the most entertaining manner. There will be a wealth of illustrations, sketched by skilled artists or photographed by experts with the camera, and the events of the season of festivity will be recorded in a most readable manner by writers who are trained in the way of seeing and hearing everything that goes on and of telling entertainingly of those things.

In every way this big special number will be full of life and color. It will reflect the floral beauties of the Fiesta in a season when flowers are more abundant than ever before. It will mirror the beautiful decorations of the streets and of the buildings, and will give a lasting negative of the wonderful electrical parade by night and the gorgeous procession of flowers by day.

All of these things and many more will be found within the handsomely illuminated colored covers of the special Fiesta-Shriner Number of The Times, the first edition of which will consist of 150,000 copies.

The price of this number will be 10 cents, wrapped ready to mail, or the papers for each day of Fiesta week, including the special number, may be had for 20 cents.

THE DEADLY FINGER NAIL

Every time you scratch yourself you run a risk. No, don't smile that superior smile and say that you have never yet had any trouble from it. What we say is true. Ask any physician. To scratch your scalp, a pimple or a scab is particularly dangerous. Your finger nails carry germs of Eczema, Tetanus (Lockjaw,) Erysipelas and all manner of skin diseases. Let one little germ get into the scratched place and trouble is sure to follow. Because you have been lucky enough to escape so far is no guaranty that you will be so lucky in the future. Don't take chances. For any itching use Littell's Liquid Sulphur, stops itching instantly, and permanently relieves all forms of skin complaint, eczema, erysipelas, pimples, running sores, tetter, ring worm, chaps, roughness, redness or skin blotches.

Gentlemen: November, 1902, I contracted facial erysipelas and my physicians prescribed ichthyol ointment and retirement from business. After one day's use of the ointment I concluded the erysipelas was preferable, on account of the villainous odor and color of the ointment. Having by me a bottle of Littell's Liquid Sulphur with which I had cured, with one application, an aggravated case of prickly heat the previous summer, I abandoned all other remedies and applied that with most satisfactory results, as the disease was confined to its original limits and in due time disappeared.

Respectfully, S. G. Warner,

DON'T SKIP THE "DON'TS."

Syria Temple is at the Hayward. 'Nuff said.

"Don't fail to destroy all unused meal tickets." This is a sample of one of the "don'ts." Most of them, however, are exceedingly practical "don'ts" for travelers.

"Don't expect that trains will be held for you after schedule hour of departing," is one of the practical ones.

There are eighteen other... but the curious can find them all embalmed in an exceedingly... little book issued by the ... mittee in the Oasis of Pittsburgh.

JAPANESE ESPIONAGE.

Manner in Which Their Spies Worked During the War in Manchuria.

The Russian general, Grodekof, has published some details in regard to the espionage practised by the Japanese during the war in Manchuria. Among other instances one is mentioned of a Chinaman of whom suspicions were aroused early in February, 1905, from the fact that he was noticed crouching down and making notes on a piece of paper. On being arrested it was found that this man, who for weeks had followed the Russian armies in the guise of a tobacco peddler, had been supplied by the Japanese with a paper divided by a red line and folded in four. The red line represented the railway south of Mukden and the four divisions the country on either side, upon which the spy had noted down the troops then in occupation of the particular divisions. In the interior of Russia, too, arrests were frequent of men who were noting the course of the mobilisation and the movements of the troops towards the theater of war. In a South Russian garrison two Austrians were arrested, who having bribed the staff office clerk were receiving full information as to the course of the mobilisation, and were forwarding the same regularly to Japan through Austria. All the Japanese arrangements for the war were well thought out and arranged, but perhaps nothing was better organized than their intelligence department.—[Army and Navy Journal.
